INTERESTING NORTH DAKOTA LETTER.

ZION, N. D., May 17, 1906.
DEAR STAR FOLKS:—

A few lines from the North Star State may not come amiss in the columns of "The Merry Twinkler" at this time and season. I am quite sure that at least some of THE STAR patrons are interested in the growth and general welfare of the "Great Northwest." I am glad to state that the past winter was milder than usual, and our spring season opened up on regular calendar time. March took all the snow away, and April was one of the finest I remember in my whole lifetime.

The farmers commenced stirring the soil the first week of the month, and by the second, seeding was under full headway in many parts of the state, except in the Red River Valley, where work was delayed on account of the overflowing banks of the river. The first two weeks, however, of the present month were quite cool and windy. On the 8th and 7th there were snow flurries, and ice formed during night-time.

Last week it was blustery, dust storms and gusts of rain, but this week it is warm, and we had good thunder showers three nights in succession. Today it is raining, and the teams and hands are having an extra day of rest. The bulk of grain is sown, quick germination takes place, and the early sown fields are a beautiful carpet of green. Indeed, the conditions of climate and soil could not be better just now, and if nothing befalls our present prospects, we may hope to realize another bountiful harvest.

There is great activity all over the state in every branch of the industries. New lines of railways and extensions will be made, telephone lines and rural mail routes are getting more numerous each succeeding month, and what is true of this state is equally so of those adjoining us, and also of Canada, just north of us. But I need not dwell on these facts, as every newspaper and magazine is full in almost every issue about the developments of these long neglected states and provinces.

This season I have put out only the east half of my half section of land, and shall summer-fallow the whole west half, lying in one body a mile long by a quarter of a mile wide. The time was when a 20-acre field back east looked as large to me as a quarter section does here, and yet this latter is only an acre patch, as compared with the many banana farms found in many sections of the western states.

In conclusion, I am happy to state further that I am still in my usual good state of health, have not had a sick day nor missed a meal since in the state, now going on 10 years.

I am anxiously awaiting the completion of the Salisbury electric railway, or learn of a passenger coach on the B. & O. branch from Meyersdale, for I assure you nothing would please us old-timers better than to come home and be accorded the privilege and pleasure of riding into old Salisbury in one or the other of these modern conveniences; but they will have to hustle, or else the flying machine or air ship will get ahead of them yet.

Respectfully,
M. P. LICHTY.

P. S. Just got a surprise visit from my nephew, N. W. Neiman, of Aurora, Ill., who brought his mother, my sister Susan, up to spend the summer with me. I knew of their intentions, but did not expect them so soon. But it's all right, even if they did catch me with plenty of dirt and everything upside-down. Most North Dakotans don't clean house, anyway, until the seeding time is over.

SUPERIORITY PROVES ITSELF.

The sincerest tribute that can be paid to superiority is imitation. The many imitations of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve that are now before the public prove it the best. Ask for DeWitt's. Good for burns, scalds, chafed skin, eczema, tetter, cuts, bruises, boils and piles. Highly recommended and reliable. Sold by E. H. Miller.

A Farmer on Advertising.

I've been soaked a good many times since I started in business for myself, and I note that it has always been in the article that wasn't advertised. I started into the getting-soaked business by buying a lightning rod per foot and settling for it per inch.

That soaking was followed up by the purchase of a patent gate that wasn't advertised. It was sold to me on such close margin, the agent said, that the firm couldn't afford to advertise it.

I've bought everything from hedge fence to encyclopedias that wasn't advertised, and if there is a piece of unadvertised furniture on this place that is any account, I've not fallen over it. I have gotten so that when an agent calls on me with something I don't understand, I ask him where it is advertised. If he can't show me anything but a pocketful of handbills, I call the dogs.

I don't believe that an advertisement will make a good article out of a bad one, but I am all-fired certain that it is not going to spoil a sure thing. If a fellow can't notify me in advance through some paper that he has a winner, he can't do business with me—Wiley Jones, in Agricultural Advertising.
