E. H. Lambert, as usual, is getting about all the new houses to plaster that are being erected in this vicinity this season. There is a reason for this. First, Mr. Lambert is a good, honest workman. Second, he never blackguards, vilifies and circulates indecent, lying and scandalous stories concerning the people he works for.

The water supply of Meyersdale has for some time been alive with bugs and other water insects, and one citizen, E. B. Uncle Henry Yost, a prominent retired farmer of Garrett county, Md., was a welcome caller at THE STAR office on Tuesday. Mr. Yost has accumulated a snug competency by dint of hard work and good management during his younger days, and now, after having earned a rest, he believes in getting some enjoyment out of life in his declining years. He has traveled much during the past few years, and he is now contemplating a trip to California and other western points.

A hundred years ago the best physician would give you a medicine for your heart without stopping to consider what effect it might have on the liver. Even to this good day cough and cold medicines invariably bind the bowels. This is wrong. Bee's Laxative Cough Syrup with Honey and Tar acts on the bowels—drives out the cold—clears the head, relieves all coughs, cleanses and strengthens the mucous membranes of the throat, chest, lungs and bronchial tubes. Sold by Elk Lick Pharmacy. 9-1

A party of young people from Ridgway and St. Mary's paid a visit to Kinzua bridge recently, and the most talked about occurrence of the whole affair was the feat of the young lady from St. Mary's who walked on top of the hand rail the whole distance of the bridge, the performance requiring more than twenty minutes. A single misstep or a sudden spell of dizziness would have caused the young lady to have been dashed to her death on the rocks hundreds of feet below.—Ridgway Advocate.

THE WISDOM OF ANIMALS.

You cannot induce a lower animal to eat heartily when not feeling well. A sick dog starves himself, and gets well. The stomach, once overworked, must have rest the same as your feet or eyes. You don't have to starve to rest your stomach. KODOL FOR DYSPEPSIA takes up the work for your stomach, digests what you eat and gives it a rest. Puts it back in condition again. You can't feel good with a disordered stomach. Try Kodol. Sold by E. H. Miller. 7-1

Death of William A. Kann.

It is with much sorrow that THE STAR this week chronicles the death of William A. Kann, a former well-known and highly respected citizen of Salisbury, who died at his home in Hazelwood, a suburb of Pittsburg, at 8:40 a. m., May 31st, 1906.

The deceased was well known to most of the people of Salisbury and vicinity, for he resided here from about the year 1893 to 1901, when he moved with his family to Garrett, Pa., and later to Hazelwood. He was a well-known carpenter and contractor, and while he met with some financial reverses during his last years, owing to circumstances over which he had no control, his honesty and integrity, nevertheless, were at no time questioned. William Kann was an honest, generous-hearted man, and no higher tribute than that can be paid to anyone.

Although stricken by partial paralysis in his declining years, and meeting with financial reverses, this brave, honest and kindly disposed old man bore all his misfortunes as a true Christian and philosopher should. He did not yield to despair, neither was he given to complaining, but continued to do the best he could until he was called to his reward. His was an honest, upright life, a worthy example for all men to follow, and all who knew him will regret exceedingly to learn of his death.

The deceased was born and reared in Mifflin county, Pa., where in his younger days he wedded Elizabeth Miller, a most estimable lady, who, with six children, survives him. The children are Mrs. Florence Rodgers, of Haysborough, Pa.; Mrs. Mollie Donges, of Hazelwood, Pa.; John, of Salisbury, Pa.; Mahlon C., of Braddock, Pa., and Harry and Laura, who reside with their mother at Hazelwood.

In politics Mr. Kann was a staunch Republican, and in religion a faithful and consistent Lutheran. He was also a veteran of the War of the Rebellion, having served with honor in Company M, 18th Penna. Cavalry. He was in his 88th year when he died, and his death was the result of a second paralytic stroke received only a few days before his demise.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Beam, of Hazelwood, at the family residence, and the remains were interred in Homewood cemetery. Aside from his family, the deceased is also survived by three brothers and two sisters, as follows: John Kann, of Cambria county, Pa.; Henry Kann, of Somerset, Pa.; Mahlon Kann, of South Dakota; Mrs. Eliza Sweitzer, of Ohio, and Mrs. Sarah Ream, of Greensburg, Pa.

WORRY WEARS YOU OUT.

There is no use worrying along in discomfort because of a disordered digestion. Get a bottle of KODOL FOR DYSPEPSIA, and see what it will do for you. Kodol not only digests what you eat and gives that tired stomach a needed rest, but is a corrective of the greatest efficiency. Kodol relieves indigestion, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart, flatulence, and sour stomach. Kodol will make your stomach young and healthy again. You will worry just in the proportion that your stomach worries you. Worry means the loss of ability to do your best. Worry is to be avoided at all times. Kodol will take the worry out of your stomach. Sold by E. H. Miller. 7-1
