INFLUENCE OF EXAMPLE.

The natural education of the home is prolonged far into life, indeed it never entirely ceases. But the time arrives, in the process of years, when the home ceases to exercise an exclusive influence on the formation of character, and it is succeeded by the more artificial education of the school, and the companionship of friends and comrades which continues to mould the character by the powerful influence of example. Men of all ages cannot help imitating those with whom they associate. If young men are wisely influenced and directed, and exert their own free energies, they will seek the society of those better than themselves, and strive to imitate their example. There are persons whom to know is to love, honor and admire, and others whom to know is to shun and despise. Live with persons of elevated character, and you will feel lifted up in them. "Live with wolves," says the Spanish proverb, "and you will learn to howl." The life of every man is a daily inculcation of good or bad example to others. The life of a good man is at the same time the most eloquent lesson of virtue, and the most severe reproof of vice. There are men in whose presence we feel as if we breathed spiritual ozone, refreshing and invigorating, like inhaling mountain air or enjoying a bath of sunshine. The golden words that good men have uttered, the examples they have set, live through all time. These being undisputed facts, how carefully our young people should select their associates, and be found only with those whose example they can take pride in following!

A HOME IN THE HEART.

"Oh! I ask not a home in the mansions of pride
Where marble shines out in the pillars and walls;
Though the roof be of gold, it is brilliantly cold,
And joy may not be found in its torch-lighted halls.
But seek for a bosom all honest and true,
Where love, once awakened, will never depart:
Turn, turn to that breast like the dove to its nest,
And you'll find there's no home like a home in the heart."
Oh! link but one spirit that's warmly sincere,
That will heighten your pleasure and solace your care;
Find a soul you may trust as the kind and the just,
And be sure the wide world holds no treasure so rare.
Then the frowns of Misfortune may shadow our lot,
The cheek searing tear-drops of sorrow may start;
But a star never dim sheds a halo for him
Who can turn for repose to a home in the heart."

VALUABLE LESSONS.

We have in our community a number of boys and men whose names could be written on the lazy list without doing them an injustice. Solomon was something of a naturalist in connection with his many other accomplishments. Being also of a practical cast of mind, he was able to turn his knowledge to good advantage. In the commonplace things of life he found many valuable lessons for man. In the diminutive ant he discovered habits of life which put to shame the slothful, and so when he beheld the human curbstone ornaments, and the fellows who loved to sit upon dry goods boxes of his day, he said:
"Go to the ant, thou sluggard; consider her ways and be wise.
"Which having no guide, overseer, or ruler.
"Provideth her meat in the summer, and gathereth her food in the harvest."
If industry is a virtue, laziness may consistently be treated as a crime. Sociologists are agreed that the child who has nothing to do is in a bad way. Parents and guardians who go upon the theory that an occasional job of work will tend to stunt the growth of their offspring, lay the foundation for careers which will prove not a blessing, but a curse.

PICKING FRUIT.

Fruit picking is in some ways similar to the battle of life. There are any number of people who are ready and willing to pick the small, half ripe fruit near the ground, but only an occasional one who will make the effort necessary to secure the large, ripe, full-grown fruit on the upper branches. It takes some nerve and considerable grit to reach those cherries on the topmost branch, and it takes nerve, good judgment, and a never faltering purpose to gain those things in the battle of life that are really worth the attaining.

LOOK A LITTLE AHEAD.

It is always well to have a box of salve in the house. Sunburn, cuts, bruises, piles and boils yield to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Should keep a box on hand at all times to provide for emergencies. For years the standard, but followed by many imitators. Be sure you get the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by E. H. Miller.

Soda on Sunday? No.

Martin Bell, president Judge of Blair county, rendered a decision Saturday that will fall heavily upon the drug stores and other places where soft drinks are sold on Sunday, should localities insist on an enforcement of the law. He held that it is a violation of the Blue Laws adopted 1797 to sell ice cream, soda water, cigars, etc., on Sunday, as refreshments, but that restaurateurs and innkeepers can furnish ice cream as part of a meal. Isn't it about time to strike that fool law from the statutes?—Somerset Standard.

Fully Insured.

A Pike county girl married a guide, and the day after the wedding the guide took out a life policy for $1,500. Then, with his wife he started for Porter's Lake with a party of sportsmen, the wife to cook and wash dishes, the man to clean fish, and so on. Unfortunately, the guide was bitten by a rattlesnake one morning, and a few days afterward he died. The widow notified her friends of his death in a note that said: "Bill part away yesterday. Loss fully covered by insurance."—Argonaut.

Get 20 Years.

Charles Trenton, alias Charles Trentor, one of the negroes captured here last May after an exciting chase, was convicted Saturday of highway robbery and sentenced to the penitentiary for 20 years. He was tried at Keyser, W. Va.
Trenton and William Ross were accused of shooting Policeman Edward Spangler, at Rockwood, but Ross, it developed, alone was responsible for the shooting.—Connellsville Courier.

Big Frostburg Debate.

We have it by grapevine telephone, that Fred Durr, the well-known mayor of Pocahontas, is to take part in a five-hour debate soon to be held in Frostburg, Md., under Marquis of Odortown rules, and refereed by Editor J. B. Oder, of the Frostburg Mining Journal. "Resolved, that the pig is mightier than the pen, especially in Frostburg," is the question that is to be discussed by Mayor Durr and other invited persons of national reputation.

Veterans of Historic Fifty-fourth to Gather at Gettysburg in October.

At a meeting of the local survivors of the Fifty-fourth regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, one of the most famous of the Keystone state regiments in the Civil War, held in the G. A. R. building, Saturday night, it was decided to hold the annual reunion of the regiment at Gettysburg, Oct. 2. Capt. John L. Decker presided at the meeting, and David R. Bryan, the secretary of the Fifty-fourth association, was instructed to send invitations to all the survivors to attend the reunion.
Mr. Bryan has the addresses of 313 survivors, who are scattered throughout the United States. The local representation is about 48, and as this is by far the largest number in any single community, Johnstown is naturally looked upon as the center.

Agreements for Teachers.

The school directors of Somerset borough have had agreements printed recently, which all the teachers employed will have to sign before entering upon their duties.
Under the conditions of the agreement teachers will be under the exclusive directions of the directors, subject of course to the authority vested in the Supervising Principal; they must attend district and county institutes when notified of the same, and must adhere to the Course of Study prescribed by the board. Monthly reports, including an account of text-books and supplies distributed, must be kept, and all cases of truancy must be reported to the supervising principal.
Twenty days shall comprise a school month, except that the schools shall be closed on Thanksgiving Day, Christmas, New Year's Day and Fourth of July.
Teachers are made responsible for the treatment of the school property, and any person or persons caught in the act of defacing or destroying the buildings will be punished by law.—Somerset Standard.
