The officials of the Pension office at Washington think they have discovered in the Lyston D. Howe, of Streator, Ill., the youngest volunteer in the civil war. He enlisted first in 1861, when only ten years and nine months old, and served four months, when he was discharged on account of his age. He enlisted again in 1862, when eleven years and five months old, and served until the end of the war.

No one would buy a sailboat with sails that could not be reefed. There is always that possibility of a little too much wind that makes a cautious man afraid to go unprovided. The thinking man, whose stomach sometimes goes back on him, provides for his stomach by keeping a bottle of Kodol For Dyspepsia within reach. Kodol digests what you eat and restores the stomach. Sold by E. H. Miller. 9-1

For the death of her husband in a railroad accident, Mrs. Adaline Guptill has brought suit against the Pittsburg, Westmoreland & Somerset Railroad Company, through her attorneys, Berkeley & Shaver, for $20,000 damages. The plaintiff is the wife of the late James Guptill, who was born, reared and spent most of his life in Salisbury. Mr. Guptill met death while engaged as a brakeman on a log train.

Mrs. Lizzie Fawner, of Allegheny, Pa., arrived here last week to take care of her little son, who is very sick with typhoid fever, at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Tedrow. The little fellow had a very hard attack of measles, some weeks ago, at his home in Allegheny, and was brought here by his grandparents to recuperate. But typhoid fever developed shortly after he came here, and his condition is critical.

Two young sons of Station Agent Riley met with an accident last week that might have cost them their lives. They were sitting in a pasture field in which the family horse was grazing, when all of a sudden the animal came running by them, and as it passed kicked viciously with both feet, striking the heads of both of the boys. They were considerably hurt and stunned, but we are glad to note that their injuries are not of a serious nature.

A young woman by the name of Rush, who had been attending to Mrs. Fred. Otto during her last illness, at New Germany, Md., was taken very ill, last week, and upon examination by a physician was found to have a very malignant case of diphtheria. She was immediately sent to her home near Accident, where she died last Sunday morning. Two other members of the Rush family are now reported to be dangerously ill with the same dread disease.

George and John Krause, both students of the Williamson School of Mechanical Trades, Delaware county, Pa., came home last Saturday to spend their annual vacation, which will last until September. Their father, B. F. Krause, met them at Johnstown, Pa., and accompanied them home. George, who is learning carpentering, will complete his trade in seven months. John, who is learning brick-laying and masonry, will complete his trade within the next two years.

You can see the poison Pine-ules clears out of the kidneys and bladder. A single dose at bedtime will show you more poison upon rising the next morning than can be expelled from the system in any other way. Pine-ules dissolve the impurities, lubricate the kidneys, cleanse the bladder, relieve pain and do away with back-ache speedily, pleasantly, permanently. Sold by Elk Lick Pharmacy. 9-1

The Wabash railroad movement in this county continues. The latest options recorded are those given to John Q. Barlow, who is a right of way agent for the Wabash Railroad Company. The options, placed on record lately are those of James McSpadden, in Upper Turkeyfoot township, Herman Baker, in Summit township, and Peter Beeghley, Jacob Marker, John Yought, Wm. H. Deal, Robert Philson and the Snyder Brick Company, all in Black township.—Somerset Democrat.

The Improved Traction Engine Company last week sold three engines. Two were sent to Lawrence county and one to Bedford county. One is to be used for hauling lumber to a railway station, the other two for threshing purposes. Our home company undoubtedly makes the best and hand-somest traction engine in the world, and so far every prospective buyer who has called at the factory and has seen how the engines are made, what they can do, etc., promptly made a purchase.

A hundred years ago the best physician would give you a medicine for your heart without stopping to consider what effect it might have on the liver. Even to this good day cough and cold medicines invariably bind the bowels. This is wrong. Bee's Laxative Cough Syrup with Honey and Tar acts on the bowels—drives out the cold—clears the head, relieves all coughs, cleanses and strengthens the mucous membranes of the throat, chest, lungs and bronchial tubes. Sold by Elk Lick Pharmacy. 9-1

A sensational damage suit has been filed in Somerset. Staske Stopinski has filed papers, through his attorneys, Berkeley & Shaver, to recover $20,000 from Drs. Robert J. Hefley and Henry Garey, two well known practitioners of Berlin, on account of alleged neglectful treatment of his wife, which neglect is said to have been the cause of her death. The case is of a rather sensational nature, and as both the defendants stand high in their profession, the filing of the suit created a great deal of comment.

Our old friend Dr. A. Enfield, of Bedford Pa., recently took a religious turn of mind and sent us his check for $5,000, to apply on subscription to the "Twinkler." His letter is full of kindly expressions, and he invites us to come over and take a fast ride in his new automobile. The genial doctor has our thanks, and we assure him we shall never forget the fast ride he once gave us behind his splendid team of fast horses, when the sleighing was at its best between Bedford and Bedford Springs. The sleigh only hit the ground once in a while, and the current of air rushing back to fill the vacuum made it impossible to keep our chaw of tobacco from being blown out.

Dr. T. F. Livengood and wife, of Elizabeth, N. J., Milton J. Beachy and wife, of Esbon, Kan., John L. Beachy and wife, of McKeesport, Pa., and Harvey Keim and wife, of Esbon, Kan., are all on a sight-seeing expedition in the Rocky Mountains. THE STAR acknowledges receipt of a souvenir post-card from the party, mailed at Manitou, Colo., on which is shown the gateway to the Garden of the Gods, a place of awe-inspiring interest that we had the pleasure of visiting in 1890. Among other things the card contains the following: "Should THE STAR's air ship head this way, the latch string is out. We are all bunking under one roof at the foot of Pike's Peak, in Manitou."

Alexander Long, who embarked in the hardware business in this town several months ago, last week moved his stock and household effects back to Fairchance, Pa., from whence he came. Mr. Long was not satisfied with the business he did here, hence the return to the place from whence he came. The reasons why his store did not pay here are very apparent to all observing people. First, he had a very poor location. Second, he did not spend a penny for advertising or printing while here, hence our people were practically unacquainted with him. Like a hermit he seemed to prefer seclusion, and the public usually make no effort to get acquainted with business men who do not seek publicity and bid for trade. Mr. Long is said to be a very nice old man, but no man can go into a strange community and hope to succeed in business by hiding his candle under a bushel. Some men can do a fair business without advertising, when they have been long and favorably known in a place, and even they can do a far greater business by intelligent and persistent advertising. It pays no business man to be an old fogey or a mossilack in these days of energy and hustle.

Reunion of Juniata Students.

The students and alumni of Juniata college from the counties of Somerset and Cambria will hold their annual reunion at Maple Park, Johnstown, on August 16. Several members of the faculty expect to be present, and a very enjoyable time is anticipated. All students and alumni are asked to bring their friends with them.

Mrs. Frederick Otto Dead.

The wife of Frederick Otto, of New Germany, Garrett county, Md., died last Sunday evening, after a very painful illness of several weeks duration. She is survived by her husband and a babe aged about three weeks.

Deceased was the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Boyer, and was born and reared in this town. She was about 37 years old. Her remains were interred in the Salisbury I. O. O. F. cemetery, and the funeral service was held in St. John's Reformed church, conducted by Rev. H. S. May, Tuesday afternoon, the 7th inst.

Dr. Shaw Files His Answer.

Dr. W. P. Shaw has filed his pleadings and an answer in the suit brought against him by Robert D. Walker, of Summit township, in which he claims ten thousand dollars damages on account of a surgical operation performed on him by Dr. Shaw, the plaintiff alleging that the Doctor cut into the wrong shoulder, thereby doing irreparable damage to him.

Through his attorneys, Messrs. Hay & Hay, says the Standard, Dr. Shaw enters a plea of not guilty and a general denial of the allegations set forth by the plaintiff. He alleges that the plaintiff himself was grossly negligent in that he placed himself on the operating table, ready to have the anesthetic administered, with the wrong shoulder up, thereby misleading the defendant, who was about to perform the operation.

The defendant denies that he lacerated the muscle and other parts of the shoulder, but that after he ascertained that the wrong shoulder was being operated upon, he removed a small piece of muscle which had been cut in order that it might the more readily heal without sloughing.

The defendant denies that the plaintiff had warned him not to cut into the wrong shoulder, just before the operation was performed, and contends that he was led to believe that the left, or exposed shoulder, was the one to be operated upon.

The defendant avers that Mr. Walker has not suffered great pain; and has not been greatly injured in his person, and has not lost the use of his left arm, or his shoulder or the proper use of the head and neck, and that the injury done was only temporary, and was not severe. Dr. Shaw alleges that the plaintiff is strong and able to perform manual labor as well now as he was before the alleged injury, and that he is not entitled to damages to any extent whatever.

Who Would Be a King?

A man who earns $2.50 a day at regular employment, is equipped with a good digestive apparatus and has a pleasant home probably gets more genuine pleasure and satisfaction out of life in a day than the average king of Europe gets in a year.—Hartford Times.

Big Chestnut Crop.

From present indications Garrett county will have an enormous chestnut crop, this season, unless the blast strikes them within the next thirty days. The bloom is heavier than we have had for many years, and at this season they are beautiful. The crop in this county means many dollars to our farmers and merchants, as they command good prices and ready cash in all the city markets.—Oakland Journal.

Somerset County Has too Many So-called Hotels Like This.

The landlord in the north of the county who refused to furnish a meal to a party of ten or fifteen persons who were delayed on account of a wreck, and forced to go hungry for hours, has furnished some evidence that a hotel is a necessity at that point. But the hungry travelers assert that a place where persons could get meals would be more beneficial to the traveling public than a saloon.—Somerset Standard.

Failure.

"Very frequently," says a New York lawyer, "there is an element of unconscious humor in the finding of a jury. To my mind, the best I ever heard in this connection was the verdict brought in by a coroner's jury in Michigan, who were called upon to pass upon the case of the sudden death of a merchant in Lansing.

"The finding was as follows: 'We, the jury, find from the physician's statement that the deceased came to his death from heart failure, superinduced by business failure, which was caused by speculation failure, which was the result of failure to see far enough ahead.'"
