An old and successful painter said to theroughly dry-a very important precaution. An old and successful painter said to the writer the other day: "House owners would get more for their money if they would allow their painters to take more time, es-pecially between coats. Instead of allowing barely time for the surface to get dry enough not to be 'tacky,' several days (weeks would not be too much) should be allowed so that the coat might set through and through. -It is inconvenient, of course, but, if one would suffer this slight inconvenience, it would add two or three years to the life of the paint. paint two or three years to the life of the paint. "All this is assuming, of course, that the paint used is the very best to be had—the purest of white lead and the purest of linseed oil, un-mixed with any cheapener. If the cheap mixtures, often known as "White Lead' and oil which has been doctored with fish oil, benzine, corn-oil, or other of the adulterants known to the trade, are used, all the precautions of the skilled painter are useless to prevent the cracking and peeling which make houses unsightly in a year or so and, therefore, make painting bills too frequent and costly." "The house owner should have his premises separately—white lead of nome well-known, reliable brand and linseed oil of equal quality — and mix the paint just before applying t."

Painting need not be expensive and unsatisfactory if the old painter's suggestions are followed.

Joan of Arc or Jeanne Darc? On seeing the above caption in the London Pall Mail Gazette, R. St. J. Gorbett was moved to write to that paper the following remonstrance: "It is strange that English folk and Americans should carry on the above misspelling into the twentieth centu-tury, for on the authority of Michelet, the historian, of Dean Kitchen, and of other students, the young woman's name was unquestionably Jeanne Darc, out of which no one can manu-facture Joan of Arc, not only were her parents peasants, but there was no Arc anywhere near of which she could be 'de.' The Open Door in Egypt. While there can be no doubting the intention of the British govern-ment to henceforth dominate openly the political control of Egypt as a part of the British empire, the pro-posals of Lord Cromer clearly indi-cate that there is to be equal op-portunity for all nationalities and full respect for acquired and vested rights. In other words, modern door principle so strongly advocated by the United States in China and the Far East generally. The new method of producing gen-eral anesthesia proposed by Schnei-derlin of Berlin, consists in giving three hypodermic injections—two hours, one hour and half an hour before operation—of scopolamine with some morphine. Unconsclous-ness continues some hours after the operation.

The recent discovery by Mr. Allen, a Dublin veterinary surgeon, that or-dinary turpentine is an antidote to carbolic acid has aroused great inter-est. A well known chemical expert in Dublin tested the efficacy of the antidote on a dog. A dose of car-bolic acid was first administered, and when all the ordinary symptoms of carbolic poisoning had been devel-oped, oil of turpentine was applied, and the dog recovered within a short time. time Line. Loss of sleep proves to be the curi-ous effect that may limit man's mountain-climbing. Dr. Bullock Workman mentions that in his camp in the Himalayas at 19,358 feet, members of his party were kept awake by lack of breath, and on doz-ing off would suddenly awake gasp-ing. He concludes that inability to sleep may itself be sufficient to keep climbers from going beyond twenty-three to twenty-five thousand feet.

FINANCE AND TRADE REVIEW DUN'S WEEKLY SUMMARY

Industry Maintains Phenomenal Results, Despite Labor Disputes.

suits, Despite Labor Disputes. In some sections the intense heat facilitated retail trade in summer goods and improved the attendance at seaside resort, but the most important development in the business world was the increased activity of jobbing and wholesale departments in preparing for autumn and winter requirements. Crop reports are all that could be de-sired, harvest and threshing returns expectations, the few unsatisfactory statements being far outbalanced by the numerous encouraging results. Mercantile collections might be more prompt at some eastern points, but the average is well maintained by dis-counted bills at the west and south. Manufacturing news is still of good progress, the fron and steel industry maintaining phenomenal results, des-pite some labor troubles. High prices prevail in the footwear industry and for most textile fabrics, but the gen-eral level of all commodities reflects account of the big crops. Rallway earnings in July were 12 per cent larger than last year. Failures this week numbered 174 in the United States, against 222 last year, and 13 in Canada, compared with 19 a year again.

My back was lame and weak, and be-sides the aching, there was a dis-tressing retention of the kidney se-cretions. How He Collected.

How He Collected. The editor of a Kansas country paper has found a way of persualing the deliquent subscriber. It was quite accidental. He had borrowed a rifle recently, and he started up the main street of the town to return the weapon to its owner. The de-linquent subscribers got it into their heads that he was on the warpath, and every one he met insisted on paying what he owed him. One man wiped out a debt of 10 years standing. On his return to his office he found a load of hay, 15 bushels of corn, 10 bushels of potatoes, a load of wood and a barrel of turnips that had been brought in. All the country editors are now trying to borrow Winches-ters.

These Are the Days.

These Are the Days. These are the days when the word, "Adirondacks" sounds good to everybody, Up there the sun is just as bright, but the days are never hot and enervating—the nights are always cool and the pine-laden air has that invigorating something in it that brings sleep, appetite, rest, and new life to the jaded urhanite. These are the days! The season is at its height. All the hoiels are open, and there is room enough for every one. The Adir-ondack country is too vast ever to become erowded. From east, west, north, or south you can reach the North Woods via the New York Central Lincs, "America's Greatest Railroad."

Fluid Lenses.

Fluid Lenses. "Fluid lenses" are the invention of a Hungarian chemist. Each lens consists of a fluid substance inclosed between two unusually hard glass surfaces, similar to watch crystals. The lenses are achromatic. The fluid does not evaporate. The new lenses are said to be as good as those all of glass and can be made much more quickly and for a fraction of the price of the all-glass lenses. It is expect-ed that the new lenses will be es-pecially useful for great telescopes.

Buried Treasure Found. Beneath ,the soil of the South American Republic of Colombia there have just been brought to light some remarkable buried treasures in the line of curious animal-shaped pottery, each incised and made of black clay. These specimens are perhaps the only vestiges left of the vanished empire of the Chibehas, which flourished in this region in pre-Spanish times.

Moss as a Popular Food. Prof. Hansteen, chief lecturer of the agricultural school at Aas, Nor-way, has been conducting experiments which show that a common greenish-white moss, after being subjected to a chemical process, pressed and cook-ed, becomes a food of the most de-licions and nutritive character. Be-cause of its cheapness, he thinks it is destined to become a popular food for the masses. He finds that nine ounces of moss, costing two cents, will make a good dinner for six per-sons. The substance can also be ground and used as a meal for bread-making.
