In commenting editorially on the nomination of Hon. Allen F. Cooper by the conferees of the Twenty-third Congressional District at Pittsburg, last week, the Gazette Times says: "The renomination of Congressman Allen Foster Cooper by the Republicans of the Twenty-third district is a recognition of faithful services. Mr. Cooper has made an excellent record at Washington. So long as men of this stamp are nominated there should be no doubt of the Republican majority in the next House of Representatives."

AT PEACE WITH THE WORLD.

There is nothing so pleasant as that bright, cheerful, at-peace-with-the-world feeling when you sit down to your breakfast. There is nothing so conducive to good work and good results. The healthy man with a healthy mind and body is a better fellow, a better workman, a better citizen than the man or woman who is handicapped by some disability, however slight. A slight disorder of the stomach will derange your body, your thoughts and your disposition. Get away from the morbidity and the blues. Keep your stomach in tune and both your brain and body will respond. Little indiscretions of overeating can be easily corrected, and you will be surprised to see how much better man you are. Try a little Kodol For Dyspepsia after your meals. Sold by E. H. Miller. 9-1

Kooser Nominated.

The Democratic Congressional conference for this district, met in Pittsburg, last Saturday, and nominated Captain Ernest O. Kooser, of Somerset, to enter the race for Congress against A. F. Cooper. Personally, Mr. Kooser is a first rate fellow, but his politics do not suit this great industrial district. President Roosevelt needs a Republican Congress to carry out the great reforms he has inaugurated, hence a vote for Kooser would be a vote against the welfare of the country.

THE TROLLEY.

Engineers Busy Making Final Surveys—Hitch With Salisbury Council.

The trolley line people have asked our borough "dads" for a new franchise, and a new franchise has been granted; but it contains some requirements so unreasonable that no sane set of business men would comply with. Therefore, the franchise will not be accepted, and it may be that the road will be built only to the north boundary of the borough. The road will surely not enter the borough unless the Council here acts as sensibly and as reasonable as the Meyersdale Council has acted with the company.

We do not care to point out the company's objections to the franchise, for the Council knows them, and the members of that honorable body should decide to use common sense if they want the road to enter the town. The company is willing to do anything within the bounds of reason and fairness, but is not willing to be squeezed.

The Pennsylvania Campaign.

Stuart's Character, Standing, and Reputation Warrants a Clean Administration. Do not Endanger the Congressional Ticket by Splitting Your Vote.

Labor's Interest is Centered in the Success of the Regular Ticket to Insure the Return of our Congressional Friends.

From the Journal of the Knights of Labor, The howl of the enemy under the label of reform, for the removal of Chairman W. R. Andrews as Director-General of the State Committee, is made to enable those making it to more easily bolt the ticket. It would make no difference who succeeded Mr. Andrews as Chairman of the State Committee. There would always be those who could not be satisfied and who would still be urging a change.

The coming fall election is National as well as State, as an entirely new Congress will be voted for; and from a National standpoint, labor has a direct interest in the re-election of those men who are friendly to it. Pennsylvania has a number of staunch friends of labor, and the workmen who will stop to examine the record of those listed on page 9 of this paper, cannot in justice to themselves, or to the cause, take any chances of defeating them by supporting or helping along a fusion movement, particularly since it is composed of such labor haters as Ex-Judge Gordon.

The scheme of fusion is not reform. It is a movement composed of factions, who could not, from the inside, control the party, and therefore left it for the party's good; a class of men who cannot be satisfied, no matter what concessions were made to them; and in order to make a show of keeping together, they line up with the Democrats and hope by the combination to influence votes enough to land a few offices; then sue the party for terms to compel recognition. It is a well known fact that Republicans and Democrats can not mix in Pennsylvania, their principles are not at all alike, and if they are successful in securing a number of offices, a split over the spoils will be sure to follow. The scheme of fusion is the last desperate attempt of some renegade Republicans to procure office and establish a standing, with the assistance of the Democrats of the State. If we should, even in the slightest degree, help them, the chances of losing some friendly member of Congress would increase, and we would become the injured party.

We do not know the regular party candidate, Mr. Stuart, but newspaper reports claiming to represent the views of all parties represent him to be a man of excellent standing and of the highest character, that would give the State an honest administration. No one has yet, so far as we have been able to learn, dared to attack his honesty or integrity, not even a fusionist; yet they have joined forces with the Democrats in order to make his defeat possible. Not being able to find a flaw in his past record, they change their tactics and vent their spleen on the Chairman of the Committee, Hon. W. R. Andrews, in an effort to force him to resign from the position. Would his resignation quiet this gang, and cause them to support loyally the regular ticket? We venture the opinion that they would then hunt up another excuse to enable them to continue their bolt, and would keep making excuses until election day, when they would vote against the one man they all admit has the qualifications necessary to make a good Governor.

W. R. Andrews is labor's friend. A union man himself, he has never forgotten its underlying principle. He is so situated in Washington, as Secretary for the Senate Committee on Postoffices and Postroads, that he has many opportunities to do labor a friendly turn, and what is better still, his office is always open, and his advice and counsel freely given. The workmen of Pennsylvania in particular, and the United States in general, have no better friend than Mr. Andrews. Being a practical every-day man, he knows the needs of the people, and has the ability and intelligence to use this knowledge in their interest as opportunity offers. This is the man the renegade Republicans now say should resign the chairmanship of the State Committee in order to hold them in line with the party and induce them to vote for the man they all admit is honest and worthy of their support.

What a farce this catering to the enemy has come to be. If these would-be rulers are not satisfied with the majority management, let them go over to their Democratic allies, where we assure them they will get no better treatment, for the members of that party have no use for bolters. There are Republican Congressmen in that State whose labor record is such as to command the approval of every workman in their District, and their vote for re-election will be large enough to carry the balance of the State ticket through. There is no need of catering to the cabal, who if left to themselves, will tear each other's character to pieces, in order to become leaders; and then their ability to create further trouble will end.

An Awful Orphan Statement.

The Meyersdale Commercial, one of Somerset county's Orphan organs, contains this rather startling editorial paragraph:

Colonel Thompson, candidate for State Senator in the Fayette district, says in a card over his signature: "I will not vote for Boss Penrose's reelection to the U. S. Senate." Evidently the Thompsons have not forgotten the brutal treatment Boss Penrose accorded them at the last State Convention. We do not know any "Colonel" Thompson in Fayette county. If Editor Smith refers to Fayette county's candidate for Governor in the late Republican State Convention, we beg to inform him that that candidate's name is plain "Jo" Thompson, being short for Josiah Vankirk Thompson.

Furthermore, if "Jo" Thompson is a candidate for State Senator in this district, he has not disclosed the fact to the public. The Republican nominee for that office is William Evans Crow. His hosts of Fayette county friends usually call him "Billy," and when it comes to politics or any other matter wherein they can serve him, they are always solid for "Billy," because "Billy" is always solid for his friends. "Billy" will be the next State Senator from this district, and if Senator Penrose receives the Republican caucus nomination for United States Senator, Senator Crow will undoubtedly vote for him. "Billy" recognizes the value of organization, respects the right of the majority to rule, and is never a kicker or a disorganizer.

In the meantime, it is up to Editor Smith to explain where and when and how he got his authority for making the above statement.—Connellsville Courier.

THE END OF THE WORLD of troubles that robbed E. H. Wolfe, of Bear Grove, Ia., of all usefulness, came when he began taking Electric Bitters. SOMERSET COUNTY PROSPERS.

Bulk of the Available Coal Has Been Taken Up.

The Merchants Coal Company, at Boswell, is asking for bids on brick, etc., to be used in making a new opening into its 14,000 acres of valuable mineral around the thriving new mining town. The new opening will be not far from the United Coal Company's plant, four miles from Boswell. Later on two or three more openings will be driven into the coal.

About all the available coal land in Somerset county is under lease, with the exception of a few blocks here and there. The demand for fuel is very brisk, and there hasn't been a whisper of car scarcity since the Interstate Commission's inquiry. New towns are springing up as if by magic between Johnstown and Somerset. This prosperity has reached the farmers and truck gardeners of Northern Somerset, for while these men formerly took all their produce to Johnstown, they can now dispose of their goods in mining towns much nearer home, so that what stuff they cart to Johnstown brings high prices, says the Connellsville Courier.
