A Hair Dressing

Nearly every one likes a fine hair dressing. Something to make the hair more manageable; to keep it from being too rough, or from splitting at the ends. Something, too, that will feed the hair at the same time, a regular hair-food. Well-fed hair will be strong, and will remain where it belongs—on the head, not on the comb!

In January, 1906, the Merchants' Loan and Trust Company, the oldest bank in Chicago, created an advertising department, and during the first six months of the year as many new savings accounts were opened as there were during the entire year 1905. And yet some people say it does'nt pay to advertise.

Mrs. F. O. Livengood, of Somerset, was a business caller at THE STAR office on Tuesday. Mrs. Livengood is much pleased at the prospect for the early completion of our trolley line, and thinks that will bring her and Mr. Livengood back to their farm again, near Boynton. We hope it will, for they are the best kind of people.

No one would buy a sailboat with sails that could not be reefed. There is always that possibility of a little too much wind that makes a cautious man afraid to go unprovided. The story of life is about as follows: We work to get money to buy food, to gain more strength to do more work to get more money to buy more food, to gain more strength to do more work to get more money to buy more food, to gain more strength to do more work to get more money to buy more food, to gain more strength to do more work, &c. We keep this up until we are swallowed up in the grave, and there you are.

The editor's daughter, Florence, scalded herself quite badly on Tuesday afternoon, while in the act of emptying a bucketful of hot water. One knee and both feet are badly burned, but Dr. Perry thinks the burns will heal without leaving any serious results. The same day our six-year-old son, William, also met with a painful accident. He was at play with some other children, when he stepped on some sharp instrument and cut an ugly gash in his foot. Verily, misfortunes do not come singly.

A word to you, sonny—you little twelve or thirteen-year-old boy who is smoking cigarettes on the sly—What do you want to be when you grow up—a stalwart, healthy, vigorous, broad-shouldered man or a little, puny, measly, no-count, weak-minded dude? If you want to be a man, big like a man, strong like a man, with hair on your face, brains in your head, and muscles in your limbs, you just let those cigarettes alone. If you want to be thin, pitted by your folks, despised by the girls, and held in contempt by your fellows, keep right on smoking and end your days in the insane asylum.—Ex.

A hundred years ago the best physician would give you a medicine for your heart without stopping to consider what effect it might have on the liver. Even to this good day cough and cold medicines invariably bind the bowels. This is wrong. Bee's Laxative Cough Syrup with Honey and Tar acts on the bowels—drives out the cold—clears the head, relieves all coughs, cleanses and strengthens the mucous membranes of the throat, chest, lungs and bronchial tubes. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Biser were visited several days during the week by Mrs. Biser's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Grove, of Frederick county, Md., also by Masters Harold and Grove White, two nephews of Mr. and Mrs. Biser, from Kansas City, Mo. The father of Mrs. Biser is 83 years old, but he doesn't look it by 10 years, and he is one of the most active and entertaining old men we have ever met. The nephews of Mr. and Mrs. Biser are aged 11 and 13 years respectively, and they made the trip from Kansas City to this place alone. They are a jolly pair of lads, as bright as a dollar, and they are smart enough to travel anywhere alone.

Paul Gross, the well-known and popular Meyersdale druggist, knows a good advertising medium after giving it a fair trial. He carried a small "ad" in THE STAR for several months, which, small as it was, brought good returns. Now he greets our readers with a larger "ad," which is doing the proper thing, as THE STAR has a bigger circulation in the rich locality in which it is published than all other county papers combined. Business men who go after the patronage of our excellent class of readers, through our columns, usually get a liberal share of it. And right here we assure you that all our advertisers are good, reliable people, and none more so than Druggist Gross.

Eld. Howard Keim and children, and Dr. P. S. Keim and wife, went to Elkins, W. Va., Monday, to visit other members of the Keim family. Elder Keim and children were guests of the editor and family, Sunday evening, and we enjoyed their visit very much. "Old Bud," as we used to call him in his younger days, is one of the biggest-hearted and most brainy men this town

Shrewd Advertising.
 An original form of advertising comes from Russia, where a shop-keeper posted up the following announcement:

"The reason why I have hitherto been able to sell my goods so much cheaper than anybody else is that I am a bachelor, and do not need to make a profit for the maintenance of a wife and children.

"It is now my duty to inform the public that this advantage will shortly be withdrawn from them, as I am about to be married. They will, therefore, do well to make their purchases at once at the old rate."

The result was that there was such a run on the shop that in the course of a few days this shopkeeper had made money enough to pay the expense of his wedding on a very lavish scale.—Selected.

Talking Oil and Gas.

Several gentlemen interested in the oil and gas development of West Va. have been here during the past two weeks, and have examined carefully several topographical and sectional maps at this office. One of the gentlemen was a representative of the Standard Oil Co., and another represented an independent refinery. In conversation with them we find that they are making an investigation of this territory with a view of prospecting for gas, and possibly oil, and one of them expressed the belief that it could be found in this territory, but at considerable depth.—Oakland Journal.

Arrested for Tampering With Mail.

Clifford J. Edwards, formerly employed by the Pen-Mar Supply Company, at Macdonaldton, as book-keeper, was arrested in Baltimore on Sunday, charged with tampering with United States mail.

The postoffice, which is in the store-room of the Pen-Mar Supply Company, handles considerable mail, a quantity of which was missed some weeks ago. Inspector Gibbons, recently assigned to this district, made an investigation of the affair, and finally traced Edwards to his home in Baltimore, where the arrest was made.—Berlin Gleaner.

HAVE YOU SENT YOUR DOLLAR?

TO REPUBLICANS:
 We are anxious to have every Republican in close touch, and working in harmony with the Republican National Congressional Committee in favor of the election of a Republican Congress.

The Congressional campaign must be based on the administrative and legislative record of the party, and, that being so, Theodore Roosevelt's personality must be a central figure and his achievements a central thought in the campaign.

We desire to maintain the work of this campaign with popular subscriptions of One Dollar each from Republicans. To each subscriber we will send the Republican National Campaign Text Book and all documents issued by the Committee.

Help us achieve a great victory.
