My Hair Ran Away

Don't have a falling out with your hair. It might leave you! Then what? That would mean thin, scraggly, uneven, rough hair. Keep your hair at home! Fasten it tightly to your scalp! You can easily do it with Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is something more than a simple hair dressing. It is a hair medicine, a hair tonic, a hair food.

The best kind of a testimonial—
"Sold for over sixty years."

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Brown are rejoicing over the arrival of a new boy that came to their house several days ago.

Good for the cough, removes the cold, the cause of the cough. That's the work of Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar—the original laxative cough syrup. Contains no opiates. Sold by E. H. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Joy, of Courtney, Pa., visited Mr. Joy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Joy, during the past week. We only got a glimpse of Joseph, Jr., this time, but we noticed that he was looking as hale and hearty as ever.

Edward, a son of the late Simon Wagner, died at his home in Confluence, last week, of typhoid fever. He was aged about 21 years. His uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Wagner, of this place, were in attendance at the funeral.

Misses Leora Young and Malissa Lowry were passengers on the Pittsburg excursion train, last Sunday. Miss Young went to the city in the interest of the Young millinery store, and Miss Lowry went to visit friends at Braddock.

The Meyersdale Sheet Steel Company's plant was recently sold at Sheriff's sale for $350. It was purchased by Meyersdale stock-holders of the defunct concern, and it is said that a reorganization will be effected and an effort made to put the plant in operation again.

When you have a cold it is well to be very careful about using anything that will cause constipation. Be particularly careful about preparations containing opiates. Use Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar, which stops the cough and moves the bowels. Sold by E. H. Miller.

Mrs. Nancy McClosky, wife of the late Jacob McClosky, of Elk Lick township, died last Friday night, aged 73 years. The funeral service was held at the United Evangelical church, on Monday, conducted by Rev. L. E. Young. Deceased is survived by several daughters.

Last Sunday morning Chas. F. Cochrane and S. W. Martin went to Mt. Clemens, Mich. Cochrane went there to take treatment for rheumatism, and we think Martin went for the sole purpose of giving Cochrane an opportunity to travel with a good-looking man. How about it, Wilt?

On Tuesday the teamsters employed on the trolley line struck for higher wages. The price paid per day for a man and team was $3.50, and the teamsters struck for $4.00. The demand was refused, and the striking teamsters quit, but other teamsters are taking their places.

V. L. Blocher, the popular and accommodating clerk at Miller's drug store, went to Grantsville, Md., on Monday, to visit the home folks for a short time, after which he will go to Baltimore to continue his studies in pharmacy. Clyde Wagner has taken his place in the drug store.

Mr. Herbert Smalley and Miss Mary E. Wagner, both of Elk Lick township, were married last Sunday evening, at the home of the bride, Rev. H. S. May officiating. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Smalley, and the bride a daughter of Wm. Wagner, Sr. We extend our best wishes to the young couple.

When two strong men come to blows, even if they are well matched, it is not a pleasing sight, but if the man who gets the worst of it will use DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, he will look better and feel better in short order. Be sure you get DeWitt's Good for everything salve is used for, including piles. Sold by E. H. Miller.

Revs. E. S. Johnston and L. P. Young, accompanied by Mrs. Robt. H. Johnston and son, went to Addison, Monday, to attend a conference of the Lutheran church. They were also accompanied by Rev. Lambert, of Friedens, Pa., who with his wife came over to Salisbary on Sunday. Mrs. Lambert is bringing here to visit friends during her husband's stay at Addison.

The Kendall Lumber Co., the largest lumber operators of this county, have recently acquired several fine tracts of timber in the West Virginia field, and last week closed negotiations for another large tract of over 1200 acres in Somerset county, Pa. They have negotiations pending for one of the largest and most valuable tracts in the state of Oregon.—Oakland Journal.

"You see, grandmamma," said the college-bred youth, "we perforate an aperture in the apex and corresponding aperture in the base, and by applying the egg to the lips and forcibly inhaling the breath, the egg is relieved of its contents." "Bless my soul," cried the old lady, "what wonderful inventions they do make! Now, in my younger days, we just made a hole in both ends and sucked."

A bath cleanses the skin and rids the pores of refuse. A bath makes for better fellowship and citizenship. Not only should the outside of the body be cleansed, but occasional use of a laxative or cathartic opens the bowels and clears the system of effete matter. Best for this are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Pleasant little pills that do not gripe or sicken. Sold by E. H. Miller.

A preacher had a three-hour sermon upon "The Major and Minor Prophets." He talked an hour and a half upon the major prophets. The congregation grew restless. He talked another hour and a half upon the minor prophets. The congregation grew more restless. Finally he said: "And what place shall we give Malachi?" "I don't care for the back seat rose wearily and said: "Malachi can have my place—I'm going home!"

It is a trifle early to announce attractions for December, but we just wish to give you a hint that the strongest feature which has ever appeared in The Ladies' World is scheduled for the Christmas number. We do not mind telling you that it is a serial story of the highest grade, and by an author who has published many books and whose name stands at the top of the list of present-day writers. Not another word until November!

In these days of rush and hurry, courtesy is often forgotten. In the mad, pell mell rush of our life, little things are done to offend that we rather remained undone. A hastily eaten meal and its resultant headache may cause us social or financial loss. The wise man or woman is the one who regards little ills of this sort by a little dose of Kodol For Dyspepsia. It digests what you eat and puts your stomach back into shape. Sold by E. H. Miller.

Persons running traction engines over the public roads should use every precaution to avoid accidents, as the law requires. Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Wagner had a hard time to avoid a serious runaway, recently, owing to a traction engine which was coming toward their horse and buggy after night, causing the horse to become frightened.

The law requires that a man be sent some distance ahead of a traction engine to give warning and assistance to drivers of horses.

Twenty-seven years ago Mrs. Samantha Ambergris, a quiet, modest seamstress residing in Walnut Grove, was sewing a button on her husband's trousers. Having occasion to thread a needle, she held it between her lips while she looked for a spool of thread. Just then she sneezed violently and the needle disappeared; nor could she find it after the most prolonged search. The incident passed entirely out of her mind. One day last week, however, Mrs. Ambergris, who is now an elderly woman, felt a tingling sensation in the middle finger of her left hand. She looked at the finger and saw something small and sharp protruding from the skin. Applying a pair of tweezers, she pulled it out. It proved to be a splinter she had accidentally run into her finger the day before, while cleaning house.—Lanark (Ill.) Gazette.

No one would buy a sailboat with sails that could not be reefed. There is always that possibility of a little too much wind that makes a cautious man afraid to go unprovided. The thinking man, whose stomach sometimes goes back on him, provides for his stomach by keeping a bottle of Kodol For Dyspepsia within reach. Kodol digests what you eat and restores the stomach to the condition to properly perform its functions. Sold by E. H. Miller.

Mr. George H. Suhrie made The STAR a pleasant visit Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Suhrie is an old newspaper man and printer of wide experience. With Lou A. Smith as a partner, he was one of the founders of the Salisbary Independent, about the year 1871, which paper flourished for a time under the firm name of Suhrie & Smith. Mr. Suhrie was also employed in the Meyersdale Commercial office for a number of years, and he undoubtedly made that paper what it was when it was yet at its best, which was some twenty years ago. Later he published the Meyersdale Register, which was as able a paper as Meyersdale ever had, but which was discontinued after an existence of four years or more. For a number of years Mr. Suhrie was foreman of the job printing department of the Altoona Gazette, but since the first of the present year he has not followed the printing business regularly, although he has not abandoned it entirely. He has been visiting friends in Salisbary and other parts of Somerset county during the past few weeks.

An Open Apology.

To WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:—Through listening to representations made by other persons whom I am now fully convinced were only trying to stir up trouble and dissatisfaction concerning a gun I purchased from P. L. Livengood, I, in an unguarded moment, became unreasonable and openly asserted to certain people that the said P. L. Livengood had not dealt honorably with me, and sold me a gun which was not what he represented it to be. I now am fully convinced that I was mistaken, that I had no cause for complaint, and that in saying what I did I wronged Mr. Livengood, for which I am sorry, and take this way of setting matters right. Respectfully,
L. S. FOLK.

A Determined Suicide.

As the engineer of the Conneville accommodation was approaching Braddock, Monday last week, he noticed a man sitting on a low bank beside the track. He blew his whistle to warn the man, who, instead of getting out of the way, dashed forward and then deliberately placed his neck on the rail, and his head was cut clean off his body.

When the engineer saw the stranger was bent on self-destruction, he jerked his emergency brake so suddenly that passengers in the rear coaches were thrown in their seats, but the effort came too late. There were no marks on the body of the dead man by which he could be identified, so the body was brought to Somerset and buried at the county home cemetery, says the Somerset Democrat.

THE BREATH OF LIFE.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Everell lungs are the largest of creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by E. H. Miller, druggist. Price 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Fish for Everybody.

A statement given out Friday by United States Fish Commissioner Bowers, regarding interior waters, may be of interest. Somerset county abounds with just such creeks and ponds as he refers to, and nowhere else in the country are the natural conditions better adapted to fish culture than in Somerset.

Commissioner Bowers says that the waters of the interior have been replenished with what are regarded as the most desirable indigenous fish, and each year larger numbers of largemouth and small-mouth bass are planted. Innumerable small lakes and ponds, many of them artificial, have been stocked, and these often constitute the only source of food fish for the community.

Under the bureau's policy, the small farmer, the owner of private reservoirs and the sportsman's club may have waters in which they are interested planted with the most suitable fishes.—Somerset Democrat.

WELL WORTH TRYING.

W. H. Brown, the popular pension attorney, of Pittsfield, Vt., says: "Next to a pension, the best thing to get is Dr. King's New Life Pills." He writes: "they keep my family in splendid health." Quick cure for Headache, Constipation and Biliousness. See Guaranteed at Miller's drug store.
