keep you
awake?

Our White Pine Cough Balsam with tar touches the tickle. It is very unwise to let it run on. Many times a cough is nothing more than a slight cold, and can be stopped by the use of our Pine Balsam.

This is just the season of the year when the cool, blustering wind and nipping air are making coughs and colds pretty fast. If you are one of the victims, you need something, and we have that something. We are pretty positive about that.

MUST REMAIN IN JAIL.

Damaging Evidence Against Flickinger at His Hearing Last Saturday.

John Flickinger was given a hearing on a habeas corpus proceeding, last Saturday, before Judge Kooser, and after two witnesses were heard, (Ross Holler and Mrs. Emerick, wife of the man Flickinger is charged with murdering) it was decided to return the prisoner to jail, where he will have to await his trial at the February term of court.

According to evidence already given, it is believed that when the trial takes place, the widow of the dead man will be found to have been a partner in a plot through which Wesley Emerick came to his horrible death. In the meantime, let us all hope that speedy justice will be meted out, that no innocent person will have to suffer, and no guilty one escape.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of Opium, Chloroform, or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in Cough remedies. Dr. Shoop, it seems, has welcomed the Pure Food and Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure containers have had a warning printed on them against Opium and other narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by Elk Lick Pharmacy. 2-1

STATE POLICE.

Private M. A. Prynne Tells of an Interesting Revolver Match by Troop C, of Which He is a Member.

READING, Pa., Jan. 4th, 1907.

EDITOR STAR:—On Jan. 1st, 1907, the members of this troop held a revolver match here for a silver cup presented to the troop by Deputy Superintendent J. Chester Morris.

The prize was won by L. E. Booth, who has never had any military experience, and he will hold it until the next shoot. It will become the personal property of the person winning it three times.

The shoot was at 25, 50 and 75 yards, five shots to be fired within one minute, each distance, and five shots rapid firing at 25 yards, 10 seconds allowed.

Private Booth, Captain Smith and Private Jensen tied in the total score, each having 80 points; but Booth made the best score at 75 yards, and he was declared the winner.

Following is the total number of points out of a possible 100, made by the best fifteen contestants who fired in the match:

Private L. E. Booth	80
Captain Smith	80
Private Jensen	80
Sergeant Hunt	79
Private Talley	79
Lieutenant Garwood	74
Private Smeaton	72
Private Ely	69
Private Wisman	68
Private Meikrinsz	68
Private Thomas	67
Private Prynne	63
Private Culver	62
Sergeant Van Vorhis	62
Private Lot	60

I consider I did very good for one who has never had much experience in shooting. The winner, Booth, and myself, are the only two in the troop that have not had any military experience. Booth is a splendid shot with any kind of a gun.

We are having a very mild winter down here; have not had any cold weather yet, but plenty of rain for the past day or two.

Hoping you had a good Christmas, and wishing you and yours a bright and prosperous New Year, I am yours truly,
MARK A. PRYNNE.

CURED OF LUNG TROUBLE.

"It is now eleven years since I had a narrow escape from consumption," writes C. O. Floyd, a leading business man of Kershaw, S. C. "I had run down in weight to 135 pounds, and coughing was constant, both by day and by night. Finally I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and continued this for about six months, when my cough and lung trouble were entirely gone and I was restored to my normal weight, 170 pounds." Thousands of persons are healed every year. Guaranteed at E. H. Miller's drug store. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free. 2-1

TIMBER STATISTICS FOR 1906.

Figures to be Gathered by Forest Service and Census Bureau—Success of Last Year's Work.

Schedules for the collection of statistics of forest products for 1907 have been sent by the Forest Service to all engaged in industries directly dependent upon our forests. This work is a continuation of that done in 1906 by the Forest Service in cooperation with the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association. It then received the universal approval and support of the users of wood throughout the United States. The work was undertaken to meet the urgent demand for accurate data upon the annual drain upon our forest resources. The results proved so valuable that the information will be compiled annually, in accordance with the plan outlined by the Forest Service a year ago.

To add to the efficiency, accuracy, and promptness of compilation of the data, the Bureau of the Census and the Forest Service are this year cooperating in gathering the statistics. This plan insures to the manufacturers the announcement of results at the earliest possible moment after all the reports have been received.

Several new features will distinguish the collection and publication of figures for 1906, now under way. The figures for the production of lumber were withheld, last year, until returns had been received from every state. This year the production of each state will be announced as soon as the returns are in. The failure of the manufacturers of a single state to furnish the information promptly will therefore delay the publication of results for that state only. The total production of the United States will be compiled when all state reports are complete.

The lines upon which inquiry will be made are practically identical with those of last year, covering lumber, lath and shingles, pulpwood, railroad ties, tan bark, veneer, wood distillation, and coeprage. A single addition has been made in an inquiry as to the consumption of telegraph and telephone poles. The Service believes that the statistics for 1906 will be more complete and more promptly obtained than those gathered last year. If so, there practical value to wood producers will be greatly increased. Success depends very largely upon the ready cooperation of manufacturers throughout the country.

How Build or Not Build Up a Town.

When Cain had killed off one-fourth of the people on the earth—leaving only three, then went into the land of Nod and builded a city, it is evident that he did not sit around like a bump on a log and growl about the Nod real estate people. He was not himself, perhaps, the most exemplary of men, and if he had some reason to emigrate from the land of his birth, he did not mope and whine, but got hold of a piece of ground and went to work to do something. The man who could build up a city under such auspices is the kind of material we want in this town; and we will not inquire too minutely into his antecedents, so that he takes hold like a man and be good at last.

But what is more, Cain did not advise his son to "go west, and get out of the old dead town." He named the city after him, believing in it, worked for it, brought his goods there and kept his money at home. Does anybody suppose that when stranger came to Enoch, (name of the city) with any notion of going into business there, Cain told them it was a "dead old town," that it was established by a murderer, that the water was bad, it merchants all sharks, and its mechanic botches—that the town was not health and would "never amount to anything." Does anybody suppose that when he wanted to invest a few dollars in dr. goods he hustled off to the city, or that he only went to the merchants (Enoch when he wanted a favor—wanted "a little time"?)

Do you think he ever went away from home to get lumber that could be had at better rates in Enoch than elsewhere, or to Cincinnati for cheap bugles, when the "home manufacture" could meet every demand with more stylish and substantial rigs?

Do you suppose he went moping around about taxes being too high in Enoch, and no one there knowing anything about business? No, sir. He evidently wasn't built that way. If taxes were high, he got up and hustled to increase the value of property, that there would be greater values in tax. He built houses and encouraged others to do so. If city lots got low, he bought up a dozen or two, scattered here and there, for the double purpose of personal profit and strengthening values. On these he put up plenty of houses at reasonable figure good ones, too, so that when any one came to Enoch he did not have to move into an old tumble-down shanty to move on. He improved and beautified every lot, kept the weeds down and set out trees on the lots and in front of them, even where he did not build, the adding to the value of each lot and adjoining property as well. He found that it did not take so much money to run a comely, well kept town as it did a delapidated, God-forsaken one, and there were four times the value of which to raise the required money. That's the way he lowered taxation, not by sitting on a stump and howling about it. If a man wanted to run a factory, or some other enterprise, he was not afraid the fellow wanted to make some money, but told him to "see in, and I'll help you all I can. A business that does not make money is a good. We want every legitimate business in Enoch to make money, at piles of it."

AN INTERESTING TREATMENT.

E. H. MILLER SAYS HE HAS AT LAST DISCOVERED A POSITIVE CURE FOR INDIGESTION.

"For years," said the above druggist, "I have been waiting for some one to discover a remedy that really will cure dyspepsia."

"I recently learned that a new remedy, Pepsikola Tablets, had been placed on the market, and on investigation found that at last there is a remedy that surely will cure."

"I laid in a big supply because I knew that as soon as the people began to know about this remarkable remedy there would be a big demand for it, as it is selling beyond my expectations. It is not often a druggist sells a remedy on a positive guarantee, but unless cured of nervousness, dizziness, sour stomach, coated tongue, palpitation and other symptoms of dyspepsia, Mr. Miller will hand back your money cheerfully and without argument."

No one should hesitate on trying a 25-cent box of Pepsikola Tablets, as they will not cost you a penny should they fail to relieve and cure the worst case of indigestion and dyspepsia. 2-1
