DEATH OF WILLIAM SMITH.

Once a Prominent Business Man of Salisbury.

William Smith, one of Salisbury's oldest and most respected citizens, passed to his reward, Tuesday afternoon. Had he lived until August, he would have reached the age of 82 years. Mr. Smith came to Salisbury from Dauphin county, Pa., 61 years ago, and resided here ever since. Here he married Caroline Dively, who died 18 years ago, but the parents are survived by the following named children: Stewart, of Salisbury; Edward, Willis and Ellet, of Pittsburg; Mrs. S. M. Baumgardner, of Morgantown, W. Va.; Mrs. C. E. Sperry, of Wilmerding, Pa., and Mrs. Robt. H. Johnston, of Salisbury. Two sons of the deceased died during their childhood, many years ago.

For a period of about 25 years, Mr. Smith was a prominent business man of Salisbury, being engaged in the mercantile and shoox business. However, during the last 30 years or more he lived a retired life. His brother John, who was his senior, but who died some years ago, was also a prominent merchant and shoox manufacturer here during the years when that business flourished in this county.

Deceased was a kind-hearted Christian gentleman, and was greatly esteemed by his fellow citizens. He never was a robust man, yet enjoyed general good health until overtaken by the infirmities of old age.

Funeral today at 10 a. m., conducted by Rev. Barlett, of Somerset, assisted by Rev. S. M. Cousins, of Salisbury. Deceased was a faithful and consistent member of the United Evangelical church.

THE PRICE OF HEALTH.

"The price of health in a malarious district is just 25 cents; the cost of a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills," writes Ella Slayton, of Noland, Ark. New Life Pills cleanse gently and impart new life and vigor to the system. 25c. Satisfaction guaranteed by E. H. Miller, druggist. 5-1

FREE SEEDS.

By special arrangement of Congressman Cooper, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has forwarded to THE STAR a large mail bag filled with vegetable seeds for free distribution.

As long as they last, these seeds will be handed out in packages to all who apply for them, except to children. Therefore, don't send your child for seeds, but come yourself or send some adult friend. We positively refuse to be annoyed by children in this seed distribution, as we have been in the past, for the youngsters used to come in droves, the same ones frequently coming several times a day, and often the packages were torn open, and the seeds thrown at people on the streets. For that reason we will no longer hand seeds to children, no matter whose children they are.

All grown people, however, are welcome to the seeds, and each and all are requested to call and get a package, together with the compliments of "Uncle Sam," Congressman Cooper and THE STAR.

BITTEN BY A SPIDER.

Through blood poisoning caused by a spider bite, John Washington, of Bosqueville, Tex., would have lost his leg, which became a mass of running sores, had he not been persuaded to try Bucklen's Arnica Salve. He writes: "The first application relieved, and four boxes healed all the sores." Heals every sore. 25c. at E. H. Miller's drug store. 5-1

Well Known Hotel Man Dead—Headed Appeal of Conscience.

Joseph Stull, an old and prominent citizen of Shanksville, has passed to his eternal home. He was about eighty years old, and known to a large portion of the oldest residents of Somerset county. During the Civil war he served as a Lieutenant. For many years Mr. Stull kept the hotel at Shanksville, until one day without any ceremony he tore up his license and said that he would never sell a drop of liquor again in his life. His death was caused by pneumonia.

DOING BUSINESS AGAIN.

"When my friends thought I was about to take leave of this world, on account of indigestion, nervousness and general debility," writes A. A. Chisholm, Treadwell, N. Y., "and when it looked as if there was no hope left, I was persuaded to try Electric Bitters, and I rejoice to say that they are curing me. I am now doing business again as of old, and am still gaining daily." Best tonic medicine on earth. Guaranteed by E. H. Miller, druggist. 50c. 5-1

FROM SAGEBRUSH JIM.

James Easton in Nevada—His Impression of that Locality.

Our friend James Easton (Sagebrush Jim) is now in Nevada, where he went to do some prospecting for an eastern drilling company. We received the following letter from him, last week:

YERINGTON, NEV., March 24, 1907.

DEAR PETE:—You will please send THE STAR to the above address.

I am in a country where fortunes, cities and cyclones are made in a day. I enclose clipping from Reno Gazette. It is but a small exaggeration of the recklessness of the mining camps.

Laborers receive three times as much per day as in the East. Sunday is unknown, gambling is licensed, Indians abound, and the wind blows continuously, while I sit shivering, sheltered by the meagre sage brush, waiting for the appearance of THE STAR of the East. J. Easton.

Following is the clipping referred to: "I was in a local restaurant, the other day, when all those trains were stalled here," says Glenn Hurst, local real estate man. "There was a fellow from Vermont who was waiting for the roads to open. Excursion ticket to California. I got into conversation with him.

"Do you know," he said, "I saw the wildest prodigality in one of these local saloons, to-day, I ever heard of. Why, when I went in, there was a crowd standing at the bar. One of the men threw $20 down on the bar, and ordered another drink. Those who still had wine in their glasses, threw it out to have them refilled. The barkeeper passed back the change, and the man swept it onto the floor. And do you believe it, there was nobody to pick it up."

"I told him I didn't see anything unusual about that, and he looked at me in arieved tone, as much as to ask where I expected to go when I died."

J. M. DODDS DEAD.

Well Known Hotel Man of Confluence Expired at Pittsburg, Sunday, of Pneumonia.

Jackson M. Dodds, aged 47, formerly a well known hotel proprietor of Confluence, Pa., died at Mercy Hospital, Pittsburg, last Sunday. He is survived by his widow, two brothers and a sister. Jack Dodds was a familiar and well known figure in Southwestern Pennsylvania. He was known to practically every resident between Connellsville and Confluence, and few there are who did not know him throughout Somerset county. For years he ran the Dodds House at Confluence, which he still owned at the time of his death. He retired from the hotel business several years ago, and since spent much of his time traveling.

At the time he was taken ill he had left Confluence for a trip to California with Mrs. Dodds. At Pittsburg he took pneumonia, which resulted in his death.

A CARD.

This is to certify that all druggists are authorized to refund your money if Foley's Honey and Tar fails to cure your cough or cold. ### A Correction.

Mrs. Samuel Gray, of Coal Run, a daughter of the late Henry Mull, of same place, informs us that it is not correct that her father had been opposed to her marriage, as had been reported and published in THE STAR, some time ago. We gladly make the correction.

"PNEUMONIA'S DEADLY WORK has so seriously affected my right lung," writes Mrs. Fannie Connor, of Rural Route 1, Georgetown, Tenn., "that I coughed continuously night and day and the neighbors' prediction—consumption—seemed inevitable, until my husband brought home a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, which in my case proved to be the only REAL cough cure and restorer of weak, sore lungs." When all other remedies utterly fail, you may still win in the battle against lung and throat troubles with New Discovery, the REAL cure. Guaranteed by E. H. Miller, druggist. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free. 5-1

Wildcat William Monkeyed With Mexican Pete's Monkey.

Mexican Pete, a long-haired "greaser" with a small-caliber Wild West show, exhibited in Salisbury, last week. He had a bear, several dogs, a monkey or two, and numerous other attractions with him, but the chief feature of the show was Mexican Pete's long hair and a bear and bulldog fight.

The latter was an exciting part of the program, but not any more so than a fight that occurred between one of Pete's monkeys and Wildcat William Wagner. It is a well known fact that Wildcat William has no use for monkeys and "coons," and it seems that one of Mexican Pete's monkeys took a dislike to William, and at it they went. The monkey drew the first and only blood, but the fight was declared a draw. William says he had fully intended to fight the bear, but after his encounter with the monkey, he changed his mind.

AN INSIDIOUS DANGER.

One of the worst features of kidney trouble is that it is an insidious disease and before the victim realizes his danger he may have a fatal malady. Take Foley's Kidney Cure at the first sign of trouble, as it corrects irregularities and prevents Bright's disease and diabetes. Sold by all Druggists. 5-1

Elope to Cumberland and Wed.

Samuel Schrock and Miss Ollie Fair hid themselves to Cumberland, where they were married, Monday, returning to Berlin, Tuesday evening. "Sammy" has been paying court to Ollie ever since the Fairs came to this place, last spring, and they became very much enamored of each other. They wanted to marry, but as neither was of age, the consent of the parents was necessary. This young Schrock succeeded in securing, but Ollie's parents objected. Be that as it may, in some manner they got the license and were "tied up" in the Maryland town. Up to the present time Mr. Fair has not forgiven the young people, and refuses to give them his blessing. They expect to go to Pittsburg, in the near future, where Schrock will secure employment, and the couple will settle down to house-keeping.—Berlin Record.

THIS MAY INTEREST YOU.

No one is immune from Kidney trouble, so just remember that Foley's Kidney Cure will stop the irregularities and cure any case of kidney and bladder trouble that is not beyond the reach of medicine. Sold by all Druggists. 5-1

A Pretty Home Wedding.

A pretty wedding occurred last Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, when Mr. Warren L. Keller and Miss Adaline May Lichter were made man and wife at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Lichter, who reside on Gay street.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. M. Cousins, in the presence of the parents of the bride and groom and others of their nearest relatives and friends. It goes without saying that a fine supper followed the ceremony, and that the couple were the recipients of many handsome and useful presents.

The bride is one of Salisbury's most excellent young women, and has the good will and best wishes of all who know her.

The groom came here from Friedens, Pa., a year or more ago, and by his industry, good habits and gentlemanly bearing has made himself a good name in our community, and also enjoys a splendid reputation in the community from whence he came. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Keller, who came to Friedens from Ohio.

The Salisbury Cornet Band treated the couple and their friends to some splendid music during the evening, for which the members received a liberal cash donation, and were also treated to a fine supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Keller will go to house-keeping in the large double house just south of the E. Stalter residence, and THE STAR joins their many friends in wishing them a long, happy and prosperous matrimonial career.

Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup cures chronic constipation by stimulating the liver and bowels and restores the natural action of the bowels. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. Refuse substitutes. Sold by all Druggists. 5-1
