We Trust Doctors

If you are suffering from impure blood, thin blood, debility, nervousness, exhaustion, you should begin at once with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the Sarsaparilla you have known all your life. Your doctor knows it, too. Ask him about it.

You must look well after the condition of your liver and bowels. Unless there is daily action of the bowels, poisonous products are absorbed, causing headache, biliousness, nausea, dyspepsia, and thus preventing the Sarsaparilla from doing its best work. Ayer's Pills are liver pills. Act gently, all vegetable. The dose is only one pill at bedtime.

Made by J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass. Also manufacturers of HAIR VIGOR, ACHILLES CURE, CHERRY PECTORAL.

He was taken to the hospital, and will recover.

U. G. Johnston, of McKeesport, Pa., was one of the attendants at the funeral of William Smith, last week. Mr. Johnston is a son of the late Eli Johnston, who used to reside here about 30 years ago. U. G. used to be one of our old playmates, and we were indeed glad to see him after the lapse of all these years. He is engaged in the concrete business, is married, has five children and is doing well.

Herbert Wigfield, a farmer residing near Butler, while cutting fence posts with Adam Byerly, a neighbor, a few days ago, announced that he was going to cut his leg off. Following his statement he placed his leg against a log, and with three blows of his ax severed it cleanly between knee and ankle. He was taken to the Butler County General Hospital in a farm wagon, and when asked by the attending physician why he did it, he replied: "The Lord directed me to."

It is reported that during the band serenade, Wednesday evening, an East End couple were standing on the porch listening to the sweet strains of music from the brass band, when a piece of brick thrown by a small boy struck the lady on the side, fracturing one of her ribs and simultaneously broke the young man's wrist. If this is true, it is a case of another good right arm going to waist, and also proves the "correctness" of the old saying that the most dangerous kind of bats that fly by night are brick-bats.—Berlin Record.

The News—No Pure Drug Cough Cure Laws would be needed, if all Cough Cures were like Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure is—and has been for 20 years. The National Law now requires that if any poisons enter into a cough mixture, it must be printed on the label or package. For this reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison-marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and see. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Simply refuse to accept any other. Sold by Elk Lick Pharmacy. 5-1

On Tuesday Mrs. C. B. Dickey was taken by surprise by a number of her friends who came over from Brothersvalley and Berlin to celebrate the 37th anniversary of her birth. Some of our home people also participated in the happy event, and some forty people are reported to have been at the hospitable Dickey home on the day aforesaid. There was lots of good eating, presents, good wishes, etc., of course. Tuesday was a great day for birthday anniversaries of good people. The editor's wife also completed her 37th year on that day, as did also Rev. E. S. Johnston, D. D., but in his case the figures must be reversed to make 37.

The following truthful statement clipped from an exchange appeared recently in the Altoona Tribune: "Too many people expect the editor of the local paper to be the whole thing in booming the town. They're constantly giving him the hunch to whoop it up. The editor's inspiring efforts must be reinforced by the people more directly interested. Business men, capitalists, men who are able financially to do things, must put their shoulders to the wheel and help push the car of progress along. One or two men can do a great deal, but they can't do it all. It requires the concerted action of the citizens. When one man shoulders a town and attempts to carry it, there are always a lot of cranky kickers ready to jump on top of the load. Unity of action is what counts."

Rest is the great restorer. We tire our muscles by exercise and then rest to restore them; yet a great many of us do not stop to think how little rest we give to our stomachs. As a usual thing no part of our bodies is so generally overworked as our digestive organs. A tired and overworked stomach will give signs of distress to which we pay no heed until at last Dyspepsia takes hold. Indigestion is just a warning, and if we heed the warning we can easily avoid further consequences. KODOL is a most thorough stomach relief. It digests what you eat and gives the stomach the needed rest and greatly assists in restoring it to its normal activity and usefulness. KODOL is sold on a guarantee relief plan. It is sold here by E. H. Miller. 5-1

Rogers & Grille, who appeared in Hay's opera house, last Saturday evening, gave an excellent entertainment. Mr. Rogers is the finest harpist we ever heard, and when it comes to recitations, there are few indeed who can excel Mr. Grille. Their entertainment was the last attraction on this year's lecture course program, which was so greatly enjoyed by all our people, and which was provided for through and by the energy and bustling qualities of Rev. L. P. Young. The people of Salisbury and vicinity owe Rev. Young a large debt of gratitude for his poorly paid labor in their behalf, and when a rising vote of thanks and appreciation was called for, in the opera house, by Dr. A. M. Lichty, last Saturday evening, practically the whole audience arose. We hope to see the lecture course continued, next season, and to that end let one and all aid Rev. Young in every way possible.

Miss May Cosgrove, who resigned some time ago as Western Union telegraph operator and manager of the central office of the Somerset County Telephone Company, in this town, took her departure for Frostburg, Md., this morning, and will at once take charge of the telegraph office at the railroad station in Frostburg, where she will get a larger salary than she received here. It was with much regret that the people of Salisbury bade Miss Cosgrove adieu, for she was very popular here, and justly so. She was telegraph operator here for about three years, and manager of the central telephone office for about two years. She was not only very efficient in her work, but also very obliging, and at all times cheerful and affable. No one ever left the town more universally respected than Miss Cosgrove, and the departure of no one from this community was ever more regretted. THE STAR joins her many friends in wishing her well in her new position, and we know that she will make good in any position she undertakes to fill. Her successor here as telegraph operator is Mrs. V. E. Baumgardner, who needs no introduction or recommendation to our people. She was operator here for many years prior to the Baumgardner family's removal from the town. Like Miss Cosgrove, she is an excellent and obliging operator. Miss Zella Fogle, we understand, will try to conduct the business at the central telephone office, and while we wish her success, we fear it is quite a big undertaking for one so young.

Pelham Clothes

THE ABOVE PICTURE will give you some notion of the style and character of our new spring showing of "Pelham Clothes." We will outfit you at a little less than anybody else, and a little better, when style and tailoring is counted. Don't take our word for this statement, but come here and see how true are these facts. They are ready-to-wear clothes, that rival the product of the finest custom tailor. We, of course, have our usual unusual new spring showing of other fashionable accessories of dress. BARCHUS & LIVENGOOD.

Mrs. Henry Keim Dead.

The aged wife of the late Henry Keim, of Elk Lick township, died yesterday forenoon of la grippe and the infirmities of old age, at the home of her son David, who resides on the old homestead, near West Salisbury. Deceased was aged about 80 or 81 years. We have learned nothing of the funeral arrangements.

Bled to Death.

After her right ear and part of her right cheek had been cut off by a scythe, Mary Williams, the nine-year-old daughter of a farmer living near Addison, bled to death before medical aid could be summoned. The scythe was in the bough of a tree, and fell on the little girl when she tried to pull it down, says the Connellsville Courier.

A Champion Hog.

The champion egg eater of Fayette county is W. K. Knuckles, a miner, who ate 42 raw eggs at one sitting. In the store of W. E. Gans, at Gans Station, Knuckles was commenting on his capacity for eggs, and the merchant offered to provide the eggs. Knuckles had lined his interior with 42 of them, when Gans pulled the basket away, declaring Knuckles would kill himself. Knuckles indignantly asserted he could eat two dozen more without hesitating. He has offered to bet that he can eat 100 eggs without stopping.

Salisbury Young Man Falls Three Stories.

C. G. Wagner, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Silas A. Wagner, of this place, fell from the third story of a new building in Johnstown, Pa., several days ago. He fell down an elevator shaft, and after landing at the bottom, got up, shook himself and then walked out to the hospital ambulance, unassisted. His friends here telephoned to the Memorial Hospital for particulars of his condition, after they heard of the accident, and received a reply stating that the young man had already left the hospital, and that he was hurt but little. His escape from death or serious injury seems like a miracle.
