

Coffee— A Question of Taste

Don't let anyone tell you what coffee to buy. Connoisseurs and expert coffee judges differ in their tastes. The point is to get a coffee that suits your taste. GILLIES' COFFEES—"the finest obtainable," are blended to suit different tastes—all tastes. There are four distinct flavors, characteristic of coffees from different parts of the world, consequently four different prices. These different prices mean that some coffees cost more to import than others. If your choice is the lowest or the highest priced—you may be sure that you have the very best of its kind.

There's a blend for YOU

GILLIES' 35 cent coffee is mellow, aromatic and very delicately flavored, while GILLIES' 30c coffee is rich, full-bodied and delicious—the 25c or 20c blend each has a distinctive flavor which may please you.

INSTEAD of threatening to drive people out of the Democratic party, Mr. Bryan should be making his arrangements to entice a few more inside, if he wants to be elected President.

MR. HEARST says he is a "Jeffersonian Democrat and a Lincoln Republican." Mr. Hearst should discharge his puzzle editors and himself take charge of that department on his various papers.

"ONE word from Mr. Bryan will make Mr. Roosevelt his own successor," says Mr. John Temple Graves. Still, Mr. Graves, isn't it rather an unbrotherly thing to seek to confine Mr. Bryan to one word?

OUTSIDE of the railroad companies themselves, Elijah Livengood is the only man yet discovered who is opposed to the 2-cent-a-mile passenger rate law. The passenger rate law isn't the only thing on which Elijah holds different views from all other people in the universe, and it isn't at all likely that all the other people hold erroneous ideas, either.

GOOD CASE FOR DAMAGES. Mrs. Simon Tedrow Run Down by Street Car and Badly Injured.

While in Pittsburg, last week, on their way to or from the Mercy Hospital, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Tedrow were run down by a street car, and Mrs. Tedrow was badly injured. She is now in the same hospital where her daughter, Mrs. Chas. F. Lung is, who was taken there week before last for the removal of a tumor.

Mrs. Lung's affliction is what took Mr. and Mrs. Tedrow to the city. We are glad to note that the daughter was successfully operated on, but sorry to note the injury to the mother. However, hopes are entertained for the recovery of both in due time.

Mr. Tedrow alleges that the accident to his wife was caused by the carelessness of a street car motorman, and a damage suit will be the outcome as soon as it can be ascertained to what extent his wife has been injured. A broken scapula, several broken fingers, together with numerous cuts and bruises are some of the bad effects of the accident, to say nothing of the severe nervous shock, etc. Mr. Tedrow was also struck by the fender of the car, but escaped with nothing worse than a bad scare.

IDAHO MURDER TRIALS.

The eyes of the whole country are now turned toward Idaho, where Haywood, Pettibone and Moyer, three officers of the Western Federation of Miners, are on trial, charged with the murder of Frank Steunenberg, former Governor of that state.

Some of the more fanatical and criminal labor unions have for some time been trying to overawe justice and intimidate the officers of the law by writing threatening letters and holding threatening demonstrations as to what organized labor will do if the three men being tried are convicted.

They are trying to interfere with the course of justice, and they are resorting to intimidation to bring about the acquittal of the aforesaid officers, whether they are guilty or not.

Suspicion points strongly to the guilt of Haywood, Pettibone and Moyer, but if they are innocent of the murder charged against them, the trial will doubtless establish their innocence and bring about their speedy acquittal.

But President Roosevelt uttered the truth when he said Haywood, Pettibone, Moyer, Debs and Harriman are undesirable citizens, and we are glad to note that he is standing by what he said, even though his remarks may have been indiscreet.

The following from the Connellsville Courier on the Haywood-Pettibone-Moyer trial is timely and to the point: "The world of organized labor is stirred up over the approaching trial of William D. Haywood, George A. Pettibone and Charles H. Moyer, charged with conspiracy to murder Frank Steunenberg, former Governor of Idaho. Thousands of dollars have been contributed by labor unions for their defense, and there is a disposition to regard them as martyrs to the cause of labor.

"This disposition was materially strengthened when President Roosevelt in a recent utterance classed them with Harriman as undesirable citizens, an utterance which is interpreted as an unjust prejudgment of the case. The President undoubtedly spoke hastily in this matter, in spite of the confession of an alleged accomplice that these men plotted the murder and he executed it. The President now says to the labor unions that he is willing to do anything in his power to promote justice; but, as to the guilt or innocence of the accused, he will have to be shown.

"The President only voiced the popular verdict in this matter, but it is questionable whether he acted with propriety in so doing. It is certain that, unless the defendants can discredit the story of the assassin who declares that he did the killing at their instigation, public opinion will remain unchanged.

"The assassination occurred some sixteen months ago. The delay in bringing the matter to trial is due to the tactics of the accused. It is evident, therefore, that their defense is not as perfect as their sense of personal safety would dictate. The ample funds at their disposal are probably being used to strengthen their case as far as possible.

"It is apparent that President Roosevelt, like the people of the nation generally, only wants to see justice done, and has no desire to interfere with its proper course. There was a foul murder. The victim was the Chief Executive of the state. The facts justify the suspicion that he fell a martyr to duty. If so, the safety of the government demands that an example be made of the murderers, lest we shall be ruled by intimidation in the future."

INSANE MURDERER.

A Case that is Hard to Dispose of in a Legal Way.

The slowness of the courts, together with the delay in legally disposing of red-handed murderers, is not only responsible for most of the lynching that takes place throughout the country, but to the same cause is also due much other trouble, expense and worry.

Joe DeFrancesco, the Italian who committed a brutal murder at Coal Run, nearly a year ago, was duly found guilty of murder in the First degree, sentenced to the gallows, and he should have been hanged long ere this. Entirely too much time was fooled away before he was tried and sentenced, as is usually the case in dealing with murderers. But most of the needless delay in the said murderer's case was shown after sentence had been pronounced. Instead of being executed without needless delay, as should have been done, the poor wretch was detained in prison, at the county's expense, until he became violently insane. Now the question arises. What is to be done with him? The answer is not easy, judging from the following, which appeared in last week's issue of the Somerset Standard:

"While Joe DeFrancesco, the Italian murderer, remains in the Somerset jail violently insane, public officials seem to be unable to relieve his condition for lack of jurisdiction. The man's condition is miserable, and he should be in a hospital instead of a county jail.

"Several weeks ago Sheriff Begley petitioned Judge Kooser to appoint a commission to examine the man's sanity, but after examining the authorities, the Court reached the conclusion that inasmuch as sentence of death had been imposed upon the man, the case was outside the jurisdiction of the local authorities. He forwarded his opinion to Governor Stuart, with the recommendation that the Governor make the appointment required, and that he act promptly. No reply was had from the Executive until Monday, when Sheriff Begley telegraphed the Governor, asking him to take some action. Later in the day the sheriff's office was called up by telephone, when the Governor's secretary reported that the Governor was without authority in law to make the appointment of such a commission. The Governor recommended that DeFrancesco's attorneys carry his case before the Board of Pardons, when it meets at Harrisburg, this month.

"There is a deplorable deficiency in the law somewhere. DeFrancesco is absolutely without means or friends, and his attorneys, who defended him without compensation, do not feel like defraying the expense of making an appeal to the Pardon Board.

"In the meantime Sheriff Begley is giving the unfortunate man the best attention possible under all the circumstances."

To The Republican Voters of Somerset County, Pa.

I hereby announce to you that I am a candidate for nomination, subject to your decision, for the office of District Attorney, at the June Primary Election to be held on the First day of June, 1907.

I have been a candidate for this office twice before, and have been defeated both times; on neither occasion did my defeat interfere with my devotion to the Republican Party; on the contrary I gave it the same loyal support that I have given it ever since I attained an age sufficient to entitle me to a vote.

According to the customs of the County of Somerset, I am "On the Return," hence I solicit your votes at the June Primary.

As to my competency to fill the position, I may say that for twenty years I have been engaged in the practice of Criminal Law, especially; I have tried on one side or the other every crime known to the code. If you do not know me or me, I refer you to any one that does know me, regardless of whether he be friend or foe, and after he has expressed himself, I ask you to vote according to the information he may give you, whether it be in my favor or the reverse.

Should I be nominated and elected, I shall perform the duties of the office with regard to the best interests of justice, of the County of Somerset, and of the taxpayers who furnish the means of carrying on the various offices thereof.

Should I be defeated, I shall support the successful man with the same loyalty that I have always shown to the nominees of the Republican Party, but my defeat for this nomination, at this my third time of offering for the place, means my retirement from the field for all future time.

The time for the campaign is short, and it may be that I shall not be able to see you personally; three weeks is a short time in which to see and talk to all the voters of so great a county as Somerset, and if I should fail to see you, take no offense, I ask, as it is impossible for a man to do always just what he wants to do.

Consider these things, make up your mind and—then give me your vote on the first day of June.

AARON C. HOLBERT.

Card of Thanks.

In behalf of the teachers and pupils of Salisbury, I desire to express appreciation of the interest manifested by the people of this borough and vicinity, in the public schools; as shown by the large attendance at the school entertainment. Also appreciation of the high grade of music furnished by the orchestra. The services of the orchestra were given without compensation, for which I desire to express thanks.

JENET O. MCKINLEY, Principal of Schools.
