

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local. Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional. The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments. The "Night Cure," as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, causes nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

The Sanitary Water Purifier, CALVANIZED Steel Chain Pump

It is the Best Pump on the Market. Operated over cisterns and wells where depth does not exceed 20 feet. It will not Freeze, Rust or Rot. It is the most beautiful, strongest and serviceable, and will produce more water. It is entirely sanitary. The water coming up the first tube is into the spout, the over production into the wheel box, draining through the center tube. The base is so constructed that the water never splashes through the sides. We have used this pump in the finest homes in the city in kitchens, porches and yards and it has always proven satisfactory. It is sanitary because it is clean. It purifies the water by the action of the chain and the drainage through the center tube which agitates the water, there being enough air ventilation in the pump, when in action, to keep the water pure and tasteless. Ask your dealer to show it to you. Manufactured by EVANSVILLE PUMP & MANFG. CO., EVANSVILLE, INDIANA.

FROM OLD ARKANSAW.

Our Friend Ed. Flynn Heard From —He Likes Old Arkansas.

THE STAR has readers in nearly every state of the Union, and it always affords us much pleasure to hear from friends who have drifted away from dear old Salisbury. One of those recently heard from is jolly, whole-souled Ed. Flynn. Following we reproduce a portion of his letter:

PARIS, ARK., May 8, 1907.

EDITOR STAR:—It is with the greatest of pleasure I write you a few lines today. I am getting along very well. I had been sick and not able to work for nearly two weeks, but am better now. Crops look very well out here, but there has been so much rain that I could not plow my corn yet. I am raising a crop of my own, this year. My brother from Tennessee came out here, this spring, and he is raising a crop on the same place. We work together and help each other. We planted about eight acres of cotton, but it has been so rainy and cold that it did not come up, and we will have to plant it over.

This is a fine country, but it has been very wet this spring.

I like to read THE STAR.

Yours Truly,
ED. FLYNN.

RELIEF FROM RHEUMATIC PAINS.

Among the troubles that beset mankind rheumatism is one of the most aggravating. "I suffered with it for over two years," says Mr. Rolland Curry, a patrolman, of Key West, Fla. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet and hands so I was incapacitated for duty. One night when I was in severe pain and lame from it, my wife went to the drug store here and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months." For sale at Miller's Drug Store.

The Star a Notable Exception.

THE SALISBURY STAR advertises old newspapers, which it informs its large circle of readers are good to put under carpets.

That's about all some of them are good for. We hasten to add that THE STAR is a notable exception. We always find matters of interest in its columns. Our weekly budget of exchanges wouldn't be complete without Editor Livengood's breezy journal.—Connellsville Courier.

MY BEST FRIEND.

Alexander Benton, who lives on Rural Route 1, Fort Edward, N. Y., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is my best earthly friend. It cured me of asthma six years ago. It has also performed a wonderful cure of incipient consumption for my son's wife. The first bottle ended the terrible cough, and this accomplished, the other symptoms left one by one, until she was perfectly well. Dr. King's New Discovery's power over coughs and colds is simply marvelous." No other remedy has ever equaled it. Fully guaranteed by E. H. Miller, Druggist. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free. 6-1

Interesting Letter from an Elk Licker at Ligonier.

LIGONIER, PA., May 7, 1907.

DEAR EDITOR STAR:—Having received several copies of the "Twinkler," and after reading each number from one end to the other, I concluded that I need it in my business, as the "feller sez," so please find enclosed one dollar to pay for the same until I see you again.

I like my position "O. K.," and find plenty to do. Work is very plentiful in Ligonier, especially around the coal and coke works, and the supply of cars has been very good during the past few months.

Our shipments during the month of April averaged 7 cars of coke and 8 cars of coal daily.

The company is just completing a new modern equipped tippel at mine No. 2, at which place the output will exceed the old by over one-half, thus raising the average shipments to 40 cars daily.

Ligonier is a hustling little town of about 1200 inhabitants, and is a great summer resort. It lies in the beautiful Ligonier Valley, and is surrounded by the Chestnut Ridge mountains. The pure air and excellent sand spring water make it a very desirable place to live in summer time.

Ligonier is an old land mark where a fort, supposed to have been built during the renowned French and Indian War, now marks the place.

While I like the place, yet there is no spot on earth so dear as old Elk Lick. Thanking you for past compliments, and wishing you and all the readers of THE STAR abundant success, I remain, Yours Sincerely, D. J. STRAVANUS.

DON'T PAY ALIMONY

$10.00 FOR TICKET TO HADES.

To Go as far Toward that Place as She Could for that Amount.

Ujontown, May 11.—Here's $10 Go as far towards hell with it as you can get."

That is what Jacob Kramer, a Hebrew merchant of Masontown, told his hired girl, when, after a long period of "sweating," she confessed that her tale of being assaulted by a strange man who also robbed the Kramer house was false. Kramer was in his store at Masontown, about seven o'clock, Friday evening, when the woman came in. Her arms were scratched, clothing torn and condition such that a nervous breakdown seemed imminent. A physician was called, and when able to tell her story, she said that a man had broken into the Kramer house, some three blocks distant from the store, assaulted her and took many valuables. Investigation showed a valuable diamond ring, worth about $300, missing, as well as other trinkets.

Kramer became suspicious. Calling in the Chief of Police, the two men took the girl to an adjoining room and quizzed her. After several hours "sweating" she finally confessed that her story was false, but not until she vociferously declared that she hoped she might die and not be buried in a Christian cemetery if she wasn't telling the truth.

Kramer, who is a Jew, assured her that if she died he would see that she didn't get into a Christian cemetery. The woman, after making a confession, took the men to an alley, where beneath a stone, the valuables were concealed. She then promised to leave at once if they would not prosecute her. Asking for 50 cents with which to get out of town, Kramer handed her $10, making the remark as aforesaid.

Death of Emanuel Lowry.

The Gibson (Ill.) Courier, of the 26th ult., contained this brief announcement:

"Emanuel Lowry, editor and publisher of the Courier for twenty-two years, from 1875 until 1898, and father of the present-publisher, died at his home in this city on Thursday, April 25, at 9:50 o'clock p. m., after a lingering illness which had continued for a period of ten years. His age was 70 years, 4 months and 3 days. His entire family was at his bedside at the time of his death, with the exception of his son Russell, who arrived from San Francisco, Cal., a few hours later."

Deceased was a brother of our esteemed fellow citizen, Mr. Samuel Lowry, and in his younger days was well known in Salisbury and vicinity. He was a man of fine ability and was well educated at Bethany College, at Bethany, W. Va.

West Salisbury Postmaster Meets With Bad Accident.

Frank Argenbright, the West Salisbury postmaster, met with a horrible accident, one day last week, at the mine operated by the Big Vein Coal Company, near West Salisbury. He was driving a horse in the mine, when in some way the animal stumbled and fell, catching Mr. Argenbright's leg and breaking it at the ankle. It is reported that one of the bones was literally torn out, and it will be a long time before the unfortunate man will be able to walk. We feel very sorry for him.

Three From the Oakland Journal.

A Pennsylvania coal company have had a core drill in operation on the Mahlon Miller farm, between this place and Grantsville, for about ten days, and it is said that the coal found is very promising, and it is hoped that the test may lead to the development of this extensive coal field.—Bittering Correspondent.

Messrs. Wagner & Wilt have been holding renewed options for nearly two years on the coal lands of Mt. Nebo and the surrounding country. The contracts are drawn up with James Harding & Co., of Pennsylvania, party of the second part. The company at one time was holding back for ten thousand acres before starting a drill for the purpose of testing. The contracts call for all the merchantable coal, consisting of what is geologically known as Bed E, and locally known as "Aaron Beachy Vein," and all the underlying coals and seams of coal. The party of the second part is to stand good for all surface damage by roof falls, air shafts or drill holes. The party of the second part agrees to pay 23 dollars per acre for said coal. The company has set men to work with a core drill, near the Maple Grove church, and on May 4th they were down 200 feet.—Mt. Nebo Correspondent.

Joseph Hetrich, who has been employed as a teamster by the White's Creek Lumber Co., met with a serious and shocking accident on last Friday afternoon. While engaged in hauling and rolling logs, Mr. Hetrich was thrown, and a heavy log rolled upon him, badly fracturing his skull and inflicting other serious injuries upon the body and limbs. The unfortunate young man, who is a son of Charles Hetrich, was removed to his home near this place, and Dr. Robison, of Grantsville, was called to his bedside, and at the last report the case was considered critical.—Bittering Correspondent.

Wild Man Captured.

Hatless and coatless, but otherwise well dressed, an unknown man 35 years old, who has been terrorizing the neighborhood of Addison, Pa., has been captured by a posse of 20 men under command of Constable Howard Wright, and landed in the Somerset county jail.

The man was almost starved when caught, but with knife and club put up a fight. He stepped from a train at Confluence, two weeks ago, and struck out for the mountains. Since then frequent reports have been received of a strange looking man who rushes out on unsuspecting travelers, brandishing a knife. Thursday night Constable Wright organized a posse and found him in an abandoned sugar camp.

On the way to jail he grappled with the constable, and had it not been for assistance, would have choked him to death. The man refused to give his name.—Oakland Journal.

NOTICE TO OUR CUSTOMERS.

We are pleased to announce that Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung troubles is not affected by the National Pure Food and Drug law, as it contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, and we recommend it as a safe remedy for children and adults. Sold by all Druggists. 6-1

Silas Durst Will Please Sit Up and Take Notice.

Joe Hoover, the well known electrician, informs us that beginning next Monday morning the Citizens' Light, Heat and Power Company will blow their fire alarm whistle each Monday morning, just to keep it in good trim. We make mention of this so that Silas Durst will not get scared again at the yells of an imaginary panther, and like the man mentioned in Mother Goose's Nursery Rhymes, run fourteen miles in fifteen days and never look behind him.

MORE NEWS FROM THE NEW ENGLAND STATES.

If any one has any doubt as to the virtue of Foley's Kidney Cure, they need only refer to Mr. Alvin H. Stimpson, of Willimantic, Conn., who after almost losing hope of recovery, on account of the failure of so many remedies, finally tried Foley's Kidney Cure, which he says was "just the thing" for him, as four bottles cured him completely. He is now entirely well and free from all the suffering incident to acute kidney trouble. Sold by all Druggists. 6-1
