

Coffee—
A Question of Taste

Don't let anyone tell you what coffee to buy. Connoisseurs and expert coffee judges differ in their tastes. The point is to get a coffee that suits your taste. GILLIES' COFFEES—"the finest obtainable," are blended to suit different tastes—all tastes. There are four distinct flavors, characteristic of coffees from different parts of the world, consequently four different prices. These different prices mean that some coffees cost more to import than others. If your choice is the lowest or the highest priced—you may be sure that you have the very best of its kind. GILLIES' 35 cent coffee is mellow, aromatic and very delicately flavored, while GILLIES' 30c coffee is rich, full-bodied and delicious—the 25c or 20c blend each has a distinctive flavor which may please you.

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney Nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell

The Sanitary Water Purifier, CALVANIZED Steel Chain Pump
It is the Best Pump on the Market.

Operated over cisterns and wells where depth does not exceed 20 feet. It will not Freeze, Rust or Rot.

It is the most beautiful, strongest and serviceable, and will produce more water. It is entirely Sanitary. The water coming up the first 10 ft. into the spout, the over production into the wheel box, draining through the center tube. The base is so constructed that the water never splashes through the sides. We have used this pump in the finest homes in the city in kitchens, porches and yards and it has always proven satisfactory. It is Sanitary because it is clean. It purifies the water by the action of the chain and the drainage through the center tube which agitates the water, there being enough air ventilation in the pump, when in action, to keep the water pure and tasteless. Ask your dealer to show it to you. Manufactured by EVANSVILLE PUMP & MANFG. CO., EVANSVILLE, INDIANA.

FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY, JOHN S. MILLER.

To the voters of Somerset County, Pa.: I hereby announce to you that I am a candidate for the nomination of the Republican party for the office of District Attorney.

I am one of the younger members of the bar, having been admitted to the practice of law in the several courts of our county in the fall of 1904. I have always been a staunch Republican, and all my relatives, of whom I have a large number in the county, have always voted that ticket.

I most earnestly solicit your vote and support at the coming Primary, and if elected will fill the office according to the laws of the Commonwealth, the oath of office, and the best interests of the people of Somerset county; and will perform the duties of said office earnestly, actively, and with dispatch.

JOHN S. MILLER.

GOOD WORDS FOR CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

People everywhere take pleasure in testifying to the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Edward Phillips, of Barclay, Md., writes: "I wish to tell you that I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My little girl, Catherine, who is two years old, has been taking this remedy whenever she has had a cold since she was two months old. About a month ago I contracted a dreadful cold myself, but I took Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was soon as well as ever." This remedy is for sale at Miller's Drug Store. 6-1

The Rockwood Leader says that Perry Bird, of Addison, through Attorney J. C. Lowry, wants a mandamus on Confluence's "Squire" DeCorse, alleging that the said "squire" refuses to grant an appeal from one of his decisions, and said he would not grant the appeal even if ordered to do so by Judge Kooser. No doubt Mr. Bird thinks "Squire" DeCorse about "de coarsest officer he ever cum across." He is the most dignified "squire" in all Somerset county, that's sure, and he wears a badge about as big as an ordinary saucer, on the lapel of his coat, on which is engraved in bold letters his name and official designation. There is no appeal from the court of last resort in Confluence, of which "Squire" DeCorse is the whole push. He is equal to the big, mushy lobster now employed as chief of police in Salisbury, who will likely be converted into lobster salad when the proper time arrives.

We notice that our old friend Editor "Jim" Bryant, of the Carleton (Neb.) Leader, recently administered a severe journalistic spanking to the editor of a paper that goes by the crazy name of Deshler Rüstler. The trouble grew out of the wearing of buttons bearing the words "undesirable citizens," the term applied by President Roosevelt to Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone, officers of the Western Federation of Miners, who are now on trial for the murder of the Governor of Idaho. The editor of the Deshler paper is James Pontius, and the Leader declares that the said Pontius is a relative of Pontius Pilate, the judge who allowed Christ to be crucified. We don't know whether that can be verified or not, but it appears that the Deshler dunce is a staunch admirer of the Kansas anarchist sheet erroneously called Appeal to Reason, and also a friend of the thugs now on trial for their lives out in Idaho. But why all the rumpus about the wearing of a few buttons? If the men who believe Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone to be guilty, are wearing the buttons mentioned, they should discard them at once. But if the other fellows are wearing them, they are wearing something that proclaims to the world just exactly what Haywood, Moyer, Pettibone and the believers in the Kansas anarchist sheet are. The poor, deluded admirers of the paper known as Appeal to Reason, haven't got a full row of buttons, anyway, and there can be no reasonable objection to their longing for a few more, especially if they bear the words "undesirable citizens." By their buttons and the kind of literature they believe in shall ye know them—poor, sin-soaked simpletons!

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY.

There is probably no medicine made that is relied upon with more implicit confidence than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. During the third of a century in which it has been in use, people have learned that it is the one remedy that never fails. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. LETTER FROM A. C. HOLBERT.

Another card to the Republican Voters of Somerset County.

I may not yet have seen you during this campaign; I may not be able to see you; the time has been very short and I cannot perform the impossible; I ask that you take no offense should I not see you personally.

I further ask that you consider my lifelong devotion to the interests of the Republican Party; the fact that I am ON THE RETURN; that I promise to support the nominee; the fact that I am fully competent to fill the office in the interests of the County, and then, whether I see you personally or not, give me your vote on the 1st day of June, 1907.

AARON C. HOLBERT.

RELIEF FROM RHEUMATIC PAINS.

Among the troubles that beset mankind rheumatism is one of the most aggravating. "I suffered with it for over two years," says Mr. Rolland Curry, a patrolman, of Key West, Fla. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet and hands so I was incapacitated for duty. One night when I was in severe pain and lame from it, my wife went to the drug store here and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain kept on using it during the night. I had nearly gone for a little more than two weeks and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months." For sale at Miller's Drug Store. 6-1

OUR LOBSTER POLICE.

Editor Summoned Before Burgess Who Promptly Renders a Sensible Verdict.

Last Thursday morning George H. Walker, the big, mushy lobster who by accident, some months ago, was chosen as chief of police of this borough, went before Burgess McKinley and entered complaint against the editor of this paper, charging him with profanity and other unbecoming conduct on the street, alleging that said offense was committed the evening before. He wanted a warrant, but the Burgess did not give it to him, evidently thinking, and rightly so if he did, that the lobster policeman had made another of the blunders for which he is noted.

Consequently the editor was not arrested, but was allowed to come to the office of the Burgess unattended, and at such time as suited him for a hearing, which was last Saturday evening.

Lobster Walker was there and made affirmation to his statement, which almost choked him, while beads of sweat stood out all over his sneaking countenance. Sensible people in the court room couldn't help but smile and snicker at Walker's flimsy and poorly concocted statement, and the editor had no trouble whatever in proving that he had not sworn an oath, and furthermore that he had done nothing else that he should be fined for.

The editor had two good, law-abiding citizens as witnesses (John R. Brown and S. L. Livengood) who were with him during the time that the offenses complained of were alleged to have been committed, and their testimony easily disproved Lobster Walker's allegations.

After the evidence was all in, Burgess McKinley rendered a verdict of "not guilty," giving his reasons therefor in a few well chosen, logical and sensible remarks, and thus the great trial ended, much to Walker's chagrin and disgrace.

Spite work was at the bottom of the whole affair, so far as Walker was concerned, and a few unprincipled whelps in the community tried hard to influence the Burgess to decide the case on personal prejudice instead of on the evidence, the law or common sense. They reminded him before the trial came off that he and the editor had not been on good terms for some years, and advised him to "get even." But they tried to corrupt the wrong man, and whatever else may be said of McKinley in his official capacity, he must be given credit for doing what he believes to be right in the matter of his decisions. While he is not our ideal of a Burgess, we nevertheless give him credit for not being governed by personal prejudice in his decisions, and we believe he would make an excellent Justice of the Peace. For that office we would support him with pleasure.

As to our sorry apology for Chief of Police, that fellow is getting to be an intolerable nuisance, and the Town Council ought to fire him. If we are correctly informed, he has gone before the Burgess not less than four times to lay in complaint when he had no case. He seems to think he is hired to spend about half his time loafing in Schramm's restaurant, and the other half in sneaking around and playing the part of a contemptible eavesdropper. He strains at gnats and swallows camels and elephants with ease. He puts in his time watching decent citizens and thoughtless children, but neglects to properly look after the rowdies that need looking after. What he needs is some more of the good medicine that "Al" Swartzwelder gave him just outside of the borough limits, a few years ago, or the kind that "Shad" Engle gave him in front of Jeffery's store, one night, when George was looking for trouble.

But never mind, he will be given some more medicine, judging from what we hear, just as soon as the opportunity arrives, that will be even more effective than Dr. Swartzwelder's favorite prescription or Dr. Shad Engle's swamp root and gutter purgative.

What Lobster Walker needs to wear is not a star and mace, but a piece of Canton flannel about a yard square about his loins and hips, for the Lord only knows what will happen him if certain people ever get a chance to "get even" with him for his dirty, unwarranted offenses.
