

Coffee— A Question of Taste

Don't let anyone tell you what coffee to buy. Connoisseurs and expert coffee judges differ in their tastes. The point is to get a coffee that suits your taste. GILLIES' COFFEES—"the finest obtainable," are blended to suit different tastes—all tastes. There are four distinct flavors, characteristic of coffees from different parts of the world, consequently four different prices. These different prices mean that some coffees cost more to import than others. If your choice is the lowest or the highest priced—you may be sure that you have the very best of its kind.

GILLIES' 35 cent coffee is mellow, aromatic and very delicately flavored, while GILLIES' 30c coffee is rich, full-bodied and delicious—the 25c or 20c blend each has a distinctive flavor which may please you.

Look on the poor with gentle eyes, for in such habits often angels desire aims.

It is time to begin warning the country that we should have a safe and sane Fourth of July.

A CURRENT publication is called the Bill-Board. But a document which is read with more anxiety is the Board bill.

It is said that the automobile habit has almost put the diamond stores out of business in Paris. Few are wealthy enough to afford both luxuries.

RECENTLY issued orders that no rice or old shoes must be thrown in any of its stations, will make the Pennsylvania railroad solid with the June brides.

"I WILL not stand for re-election," says Senator Platt. Which is very well, as it is not at all probable that New York would stand for it, either.

DELAWARE now has a law making it a crime to drink liquor on a railroad train in that state. People will now begin to be thankful that it doesn't take long to get out of that small state.

It is reported that Justice Harlan, in a recent baseball game of the Washington Bar Association, made a home run. This is to be expected of a judge of the highest court. No umpire can overrule him.

A SCIENTIST predicts that automobiles will be unknown in ten years from now, and that every one will travel in airships. If this man ever runs for office, he will get the entire pedestrian vote.

The party primaries will be held on Saturday of this week, under the uniform primary law, and the general election officers will preside at the polls. There is practically no interest felt in primary election matters, this year, and a very light vote is predicted all over the county. The Republican party is the only party that has a full set of candidates for nomination. The Prohibitionists had a full set of candidates, but H. F. Yost, whom they had slated for District Attorney against his will, has withdrawn, thus leaving but two candidates in the field for that office, namely, A. C. Holbert and John S. Miller. Both of these men are Republicans, and good ones, too.

GOOD WORDS FOR CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

People everywhere take pleasure in testifying to the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Edward Phillips, of Barclay, Md., writes: "I wish to tell you that I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My little girl, Catherine, who is two years old, has been taking this remedy whenever she has had a cold since she was two months old. About a month ago I contracted a dreadful cold myself, but I took Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was soon as well as ever." This remedy is for sale at Miller's Drug Store. 6-1

ANOTHER LETTER FROM A. C. HOLBERT.

In these last days of the campaign, do not permit yourself to be deceived by any adroit schemes of advertising. Advice appearing in any newspaper, not signed by a candidate, requesting you to vote for this or that candidate, is paid for advertising, not the request of the editor, and does not indicate the policy of the paper.

Should such stuff appear, do not permit it to influence you. I have said that I have always supported the party nominee; I shall do so now; no other person promises the same, hence I ask that you give me your vote on the 1st day of June for District Attorney.

Yours truly,
AARON C. HOLBERT.

RELIEF FROM RHEUMATIC PAINS.

Among the troubles that beset mankind rheumatism is one of the most aggravating. "I suffered with it for over two years," says Mr. Rolland Curry, a patrolman, of Key West, Fla. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet and hands so I was incapacitated for duty. One night when I was in severe pain and lame from it, my wife went to the drug store here and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months." For sale at Miller's Drug Store. 6-1

OUR LOBSTER POLICE.

More Evidence that George B. Walker Ought to be Discharged.

Last Saturday night was one of tumult and lawlessness in this town, and much of it could have been avoided if Officer Walker had done his duty. The big "slob" stood around quaking with fear, while profanity and vulgarity could be heard in abundance all around him, and men swaggering drunk were not in the least bashful about parading back and forth in his presence, to their heart's content.

The rowdies regard Walker only as a big, mushy coward, and they know full well that from him they need fear nothing. It is true that he had two fellows in the "coop" for a short time, but if he had done anything like his full duty, he would have had fellows packed in the "cooler" as tight as sardines in a box.

But Walker is not the man to preserve order, and well do the rowdies know it. They have taken his correct measure long ago, and for the Council to keep a mutton-head of his stripe on the police force is a most disgraceful waste of the taxpayers' money. All he seems to be good for is to arrest children and summon people before the Burgess who have violated no ordinance. Mere trifles are the things he usually tries to make cases out of, but the Burgess has thus far been fair and manly enough to say "not guilty," when it was plain that the big lobster of a policeman was merely trying to vent his spleen on some one he had a spite at, or arrest little children for the merest trifles.

If the Councilmen will take the trouble to watch Walker up on pay day nights and other occasions when there is lots of "boozing" going on, they can readily convince themselves, if they are open for conviction, that he is an arrant coward and no more fit for policeman than an old grandmother in petticoats. In the opinion of many people, the Council is only fostering rowdiness by keeping the big nonentity in office.

One of the men he had in the "coop" for a short time, last Saturday night, went down town immediately after he was liberated, and in a very short time he became involved in a quarrel with a young man from Coal Run. Much "rag-chewing" and bantering was done in the policeman's very presence by the two men quarreling, while some of their friends were at least indirectly urging on a fight, which was arranged for and pulled off with the policeman's full knowledge. The fact that the two men went out of the borough to fight it out, makes no material difference. The fact remains that they were followed out of town by a big, noisy crowd of men, the greater portion of whom had been guilty of promoting a quarrel and fight, hence were disturbers of the peace. Had J. R. Joy, M. D. Thomas, John J. Walker or Frank Wagner been the officer on the street at the time, no fight would have taken place, neither inside nor outside of the borough. The whole affair would have been nipped in the bud, and the crowd would have either been dispersed or arrested. But with a lobster for a policeman, the result was different, and it was a most disgraceful scene that took place just a little north of the borough line. One of the scrappers was pretty badly "done up," and several other fights were narrowly averted.

The Constable, either of the township or of the borough, should get the names of the persons who participated in the fight, as well as those who encouraged it by their words and their presence, and arrest the whole "push." And right here we want to tell you that it is a constable's sworn duty to do that very thing when he learns of such affairs.

In the meantime, the members of the Council should keep tab on the policeman and behold for themselves that it is just as impossible to make a good officer of such worthless material as it is to make a silk handkerchief out of a sow's ear. A great majority of the people of this borough are opposed to George B. Walker acting as policeman, for the reason that he lacks judgment, executive ability and the necessary courage. He is badly at loggerheads with Burgess McKinley, and he spends much of his time denouncing the Burgess, declaring that he will take no more cases before him.

As there is no other place for him to take his cases, what is the use, or where the business sense in keeping such a policeman on the force? Burgess McKinley will impose fines whenever Walker brings real cases before him, but whenever the big sapshead tries to manufacture cases out of mere trifles and things that do not conflict with the spirit and intent of the borough laws, then the Burgess will very sensibly ignore them.

AN ITEM OF COUNTY HISTORY.

The Young Attorneys' Office.

The first election for District Attorney in Somerset county was held in 1850. Prior to that date the office was filled by appointment by the Governor. The office in the last fifty-seven years has been filled by the following members of the bar, all of whom were young men when elected:

Col. J. R. Edie, elected 1850, one term.
Hon. W. H. Koontz, 1853, one term.
Cyrus Meyers, 1856, one term.
Wm. Postlethwaite, 1862, one term.
Samuel Gaither, 1865, one term.
Judge Francis Kooser, 1868, two terms.
James L. Pugh, 1871, one term.
John R. Scott, 1877, one term.
Geo. R. Scull, 1880, one term.
F. W. Biesecker, 1883, one term.
L. C. Colborn, 1889, one term.
J. A. Berkey, 1892, one term.
R. E. Meyers, present incumbent.

As to my qualification, I quote from two of our leading county papers at my admission to the bar, and further say that since my admission to the bar I have earnestly and incessantly pursued the study of law and have been active in its practice; and believe I am well qualified for the office.

"Mr. Miller is a bright and exemplary young man, and the Standard predicts that his admission will bring credit to him and the Somerset bar. He is a graduate of Washington and Jefferson college."—Somerset Standard, Nov. 17, 1904.

"After having passed a highly creditable examination before the standing committee of attorneys, John S. Miller was on Friday admitted to membership in the Somerset county bar. Attorney Miller is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Miller, of Stoyestown. He was born in Jenner township, and is a graduate of Washington and Jefferson college. He registered three years ago as a law student in the office of Coffroth & Ruppel, since when he has diligently pursued his studies. Few young attorneys enter the profession better equipped than Mr. Miller, and his friends all predict a brilliant career for him. Mr. Miller has a wide circle of acquaintances throughout the county, and is justly popular wherever known. He has secured an office in the Berkey building, over Coffroth & Ruppel."—Somerset Herald, Nov. 16, 1904.

JOHN S. MILLER.

THE MURDER TRIALS.

This week all interest in court centers in the trial of John Flickinger, charged with the murder of Wesley Emerick, the particulars of which are well known to THE STAR's readers. It is doubtful whether the case will be given to the jury before next week, as both the prosecution and the defense will put up a vigorous fight to win.

Mrs. Emerick, the widow of the supposed murdered man, made a statement before Justice of the Peace Levi Lichliter, some months ago, which led to Flickinger's arrest. Since the trial is in progress, however, Mrs. Emerick has testified that her first statement was false, and that she made it through fear of violence that was threatened by some of her neighbors. Just what the outcome of the case will be, is hard to predict. Following is a list of the jurors in the case:

As soon as the Flickinger case is disposed of, the Stauffer murder case, of Stonycreek township, will take place. In this case much interest is also centered, and the following named jurors will decide the fate of Miller, the man accused of the murder:

M. J. Shank, of Black township; Jonathan Enos, of Rockwood; Nelson Saylor, of Meyersdale; Jacob N. Walter, of Milford township; J. L. Sanner, of Lower Turkeyfoot township; Mahlon Bowman, of Somerset township; Cyrus Shultz, of Black township; Hiram Beck, of Middlecreek township; E. H. Largent, of Addison; G. B. Cousman, of Jenners; N. D. Hay, of Elk Lick township, and William J. Venn, of Berlin.
