PLEDGE KEEPING.

The last session of the Pennsylvania Legislature was the most creditable session held in many years. The Republican party has made good its pledges to the people, and in reviewing the last session of the Legislature, the Uniontown News Standard makes the following truthful remarks:

"The passage of the Dunsmore railroad commission bill is the redemption of one of the most important of the campaign pledges of 1906. Its salient principle is that official publicity will best regulate the abuses of common carriers, and these common carriers include not only railroads and trolleys, but also telegraph and telephone lines, etc.

The Dunsmore bill as it passed the House was amended in the Senate, and then went to a conference committee of both houses, finally reaching a shape such that it commanded the unanimous vote of both houses on final passage.

"It is conceded that this bill would either have been killed or emasculated in the Senate, but for the strong stand taken by Governor Stuart. He gave that body to understand that pledges made to the people in campaigns must be kept, and he brought the dodging senators into line. The people owe much to Governor Stuart, who is showing himself to be an executive of conscience and courage.

"With the two-cent passenger rate bill, the right of trolley companies to carry freight and to eminent domain, the railroad commission, the employers' liability bill, and several other measures, and the new capitol probing, the Legislature of 1907 has made a good record of keeping the promises made to the people in 1906.

"But for the strong stand taken by Governor Stuart, backed up by the practically unanimous support of the state press, several of these important pledges would have been repudiated by the shifty bosses who imagine that pledges are made merely for campaign purposes. The Legislature has, on the whole, made a good record, and to this result a courageous governor and a fearless press contributed an important share."

If any one has any doubt as to the virtue of Foley's Kidney Cure, they need only to refer to Mr. Alvin H. Stimpson, of Willimantic, Conn., who after almost losing hope of recovery, on account of the failure of so many remedies, finally tried Foley's Kidney Cure, which he says was "just the thing" for him, as four bottles cured him completely. He is now entirely well and free from all the suffering incident to acute kidney trouble. Sold by all Druggists. 6-1

WISDOM.

Large Chunks of it in a Few Words.

The following from the Frostburg Mining Journal strikes us as having about as much truth and wisdom in it as any equal number of words we have ever seen in print:

Michael Barry, writing to the United Mine-Workers' Journal, says labor conditions are quite bad in the Georges Creek coal region, but he forgets that labor has been unfortunate in the character and methods of the missionaries sent into this region.

Wage wars waged by William Warner and William Wardjohn, walking waifs, walloped the wallets of working-men worse than wringing the wampum of the well-off wardens of wrestlers for winter warmth.

In terms not alliterative, the gospel of labor, like any other propaganda of salvation, must be preached in tones less revolutionary than we usually hear

FROM Paris comes the news of the death of Theodore Tilton, American author and journalist, on Saturday, aged 71. Mr. Tilton delivered the first teachers' institute lecture at Somerset, more than twenty years ago, when the Hon. John C. Weller was county superintendent of schools. The theme of his lecture was "The World's Tomorrow." It was a great lecture—thought, by some, to have been the greatest lecture ever delivered in Somerset. The death of Mr. Tilton brings to the recollection of the older and middle-aged generation the memorable Beecher-Tilton episode of 1871, when Mr. Tilton sued the famous Henry Ward Beecher for alienation of his wife's affections; the trial lasting 112 days and resulting in a disagreement of the jury. Subsequently Mrs. Tilton made a public confession, declaring her husband's charges to be true. For the past twenty years Mr. Tilton lived the life of a recluse in Paris.—Rockwood Leader.

How to Boil Eggs.

A well-known bishop relates that while on a recent visit to the South he was in a small country town, where, owing to the scarcity of good servants, most of the ladies preferred to do their own work.

He was awakened quite early by the tones of a clear soprano voice singing "Nearer, My God, to Thee." As the bishop lay in bed, he meditated upon the piety which his hostess must possess, which enabled her to go about her task early in the morning, singing such a noble hymn.

At breakfast he spoke to her about it, and told her how pleased he was. "Oh, law!" she replied, "that's the hymn I boil the eggs by; three verses for soft, and five for hard."—Ex.

A Philanthropic Somerset.

The annual Board meeting of the Tressler Orphans' Home will be held June 5th and 6th. J. Harry Fritz, Esq., is one of the trustees. He gave $1070 towards the erection of the chapel, and bought the Minnich farm and donated it to the Home, so that the boys could learn to be farmers. He also erected at his own expense, the Girls' dormitory in memory of his beloved mother. Mr. Fritz was his own architect, and superintended the erection of the building, which is a four-story structure, 80 feet long and 40 feet wide, with all the modern improvements, and furnished it with 61 beds of the very best material. The entire cost of this fine building was born by Mr. Fritz, and the property was donated by him to the Home. By his acts of philanthropy, Mr. Fritz has not only helped a most deserving cause, but he has erected an enduring monument to himself.—Somerset Democrat.

"Penny" Now Has Biggest Locomotive in the World.

Pittsburg has just completed the largest and heaviest locomotive in the world. Engine and tender together weigh 204 tons, and after being built it had to be taken back into the shops in Manchester, Lower Allegheny, in order to have its whistle adjusted so that it could tear under ordinary bridges without carrying anything away. It is now in the Fort Wayne shops in Allegheny.

This giant is officially known as "7067," and is destined for a passenger run on the Pennsylvania lines west, although which run has not yet been decided upon. It will likely haul the Chicago Limited out of Union Station every night, once it gets limbered up, says the Connellsville Courier.

THE AVERAGE MAN.

The average man is the man of the mill,
The man of the valley or man of the hill,
The man at the throttle, the man at the plow—
The man with the sweat of his toil on his brow,
Who brings into being the dreams of the few,
Who works for himself and for me and for you,
There is not a purpose, a project or plan,
But rests on the strength of the average man.

The growth of a city, the might of a land,
Depend on the fruit of the toil of his hand,
The road or the wall or the mill, or the mart
Call daily to him that he furnish his part,
The pride of the great and the hope of the low,
The toil of the tide as it ebbs to and fro,
The reach of the rails and the countries they span
Tell what is the trust in the average man.

The man who perchance thinks he labors alone,
The man who stands out between hovel and throne,
The man who gives freely his brain and his brawn,
Is the man that the world has been builded upon,
The clang of the hammer, the sweep of the saw,
The flash of the forge—they have strengthened the law,
They have rebuilt the realms that the wars overran,
They have shown us the worth of the average man.

So here's to the average man—to the one
Who has labored unknown on the tasks he has done,
Who has met as they came all the problems of life,
Who has helped us to win in the stress and the strife!
He has bent to his toil, thinking neither of fame
Nor of tribute nor honor nor prize nor acclaim—
In the forefront of progress since progress began—
Here's a health and a hail to the average man!

New Special Delivery Regulations.

Many persons will welcome the new postal regulation providing that after July 1 ordinary stamps may be used to prepay special delivery letters. It doubtless often happens that a person wishes to send a special delivery letter at an hour and place when the specially designed stamp can be obtained only with great difficulty, if at all.
