

HOME RULE; NOTHING LESS

Leaders of Irish Party in Commons Vote for Autonomy.

URGED TO BOYCOTT ENGLAND

Redmond Anticipates Great Popular Agitation With Home Rule as the Sole Plank of Platform.

Sixty-four representatives of the districts of 17 members of the House of Commons attended a meeting of the national directory of the United Irish League at Dublin, June 20. The object of the meeting was to take steps to organize an Irish protest against the continual denial of self-government for Ireland.

Great unity of purpose was shown. It was resolved to hold a series of popular demonstrations throughout Ireland to endorse the declaration of the national convention that nothing short of national autonomy will satisfy the Irish people and lead to peace and contentment, as well as to impress on the minds of English statesmen the necessity of finding some acceptable settlement of the question.

The people are to be urged to cease the use of British manufactures and to insist that the children be taught the Irish language in the schools. Besides approving a number of other planks in the national policy, a resolution was unanimously adopted expressing confidence in the Irish party and approval of its withdrawal from the Liberal alliance.

The directory elected by a vote of 89 to 7 a motion inviting the cooperation of Wm. O'Brien, M. P. for Cork, and Timothy Healy, M. P. for the North Division of Louth, and also by a vote of 89 to 4 a motion favoring the retirement of the Unionists from the parliament, which was strongly advocated by some of the most extreme members of the league. The members were urged to devote themselves to a vigorous campaign during the coming autumn and winter.

Special thanks were voted to the Irishmen of Jarrow for the lead given to Irishmen in Great Britain in emphasizing their dissatisfaction with the government, whose surrender to influences within and without the cabinet and the House of Lords was denounced.

Mr. Redmond expressed his satisfaction at the result of the meeting. He said that he anticipates a great popular agitation with "home rule as the sole plank of the platform."

At North Monaghan E. W. Lardner, local candidate, was elected to parliament unopposed, in accordance with Redmond's advice.

WAGE SETTLEMENT

No Advance for Men in Sheet and Tin Mills.

No advance in wages for the workers in the sheet and tin mills, and no strike because of the refusal, is the result of the conference held in Pittsburgh. Facing the alternative of a shutdown and lockout, or to continue work under the present scale the representatives of the workers chose the latter. The matter was settled by representatives of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers and the American Sheet and Tinplate Co.

The present scale terminates on July 1, and at the annual convention in Toledo last month it was decided to ask for a general advance in both departments after that date. An increase of from 6 per cent to the roller to 16 per cent for the heater and catcher were demanded in the tin scale. In the sheet department it was proposed to place all hands on a tonnage basis and abolish all per diem wages. This meant a slight advance for some of the men.

Last year's scale will again obtain. This decision affects all the sheet and tin workers in the country, about 15,000 men, as the other manufacturers accept whatever settlement is made at this conference.

HARK FROM THE TOMB

Ventriloquist Creates Panic at Funeral and All Flee.

There was excitement at a negro funeral near Denton, Md., when Samuel Johnson, a negro ventriloquist, "threw" his voice into the grave as the casket was being lowered, and said, "Let me down easy." The mourners thought it was the corpse who spoke and fled. The pallbearers were so frightened they dropped the casket.

Later, the mystery was explained and Johnson was arrested and held in jail, charged with disorderly conduct and malicious mischief. He says he will never again give a performance in a cemetery.

No Grievance Against America.

The five principal chambers of commerce of Japan have passed resolutions expressing the opinion that the San Francisco affair was due to defective local control, from which the Japanese were not the sole sufferers. Therefore it is urged that there is no ground for treating the matter as an international question.

Put the Blame on Architect.

In the Pennsylvania Capitol investigation at Harrisburg, former Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker and ex-Auditor General E. B. Hardenbergh testified before the capitol probers, saying they trusted all details to Architect Huston, in whom they had implicit confidence.

Gov. Hughes honored a requisition from Pennsylvania for Louis A. Fuhr, alias L. William Albert, who was arrested in New York on a charge of bigamy.

CONTRACTS FOR WARSHIPS

Newport News and Fore River Companies Will Build Monsters.

The Newport News Shipbuilding Co. of Newport News, Va., and the Fore River Shipbuilding Co. of Quincy, Mass., were the successful bidders for the contract to construct the two monster American 20,000-ton battleships, popularly called Dreadnaughts. The Fore River Co. is to receive $4,480,000 for the warship it builds, and he Newport News Co. will get $3,957,000 for the one it constructs.

Armor for these two big battleships will be furnished by the Midvale Steel Co. at $410 per ton for Class A armor to be used. The bids of the Carnegie and Bethlehem Steel Companies for armor amounting to 7,956 tons for the battleships were $410 per ton. For the armor required for the turrets, known as Class B, the Carnegie and Bethlehem companies each bid $400 per ton, while the Midvale bid was $410 per ton.

For 392 tons of Class C armor, the Carnegie and Bethlehem companies each bid $400 and the Midvale $410. For 1,075 tons of Class D armor the Bethlehem company bid $400; the Midvale $410 and the Carnegie company submitted no bid.

The officials of the Navy Department were gratified and surprised at the loyalty of the bids, considering conditions in the industrial world. They pointed out that the bid of the Newport News Co. for one of the great 20,000-ton ships was not only between $400,000 and $500,000 less than corresponding bids from any other company, but actually considerably less than the price submitted for building the 16,000-ton battleship Minnesota, and $300,000 less than the price paid for the battleship Louisiana.

STRIKE AVERTED

Telegraph Companies and Operators Make Concessions.

The strike of the telegraphers against the Western Union Telegraph Co., which had been decided on by a vote, and which would have involved the Postal Union Co., was averted through the good offices of Charles P. Neill, United States Commissioner of Labor, who went to New York as the representative of President Roosevelt to investigate the trouble.

The strike was to have taken place in San Francisco between the 24th and 25th of this month, and to be extended at once, if not before, there, and President Small of the Commercial Telegraphers Union of America, who went to San Francisco several days ago to manage the strike, was notified by Deputy President Kenekamp that the strike was called off by the executive committee. It will be declared officially off within the next day or two.

Mr. Neill informed the executive committee that he received a letter from President and General Manager Clowry of the Western Union Co., in which he agreed to make the 10 per cent advance in wages, announced to have gone into effect on March 1, universal, and to include the men on the "waiting list" to abolish the sliding scale, to make a standard rate of wages for all wires, and to pledge the company that there would be no discrimination against union operators.

After a short consultation with the members of the executive committee Deputy President Kenekamp agreed, in consideration of these and other concessions, to waive the demands that the company furnish the typewriters and the demand for the eight-hour day.

TROOPS JOIN INSURGENTS

France Excited Over Mutiny of Battalion of Soldiers.

A battalion of the Seventeenth Infantry regiment, stationed at Agde, France, deserted with its arms and ammunition, and joined the insurgent wine-growers at Peziers, the headquarters of the regiment. The mutineers, who were mostly recruited among the wine-growers, number about 400 men.

Gen. Baillou arrived there, and after an interview with the mutineers, they decided to return to their regiment.

HORRIBLE CRIME

The Body of a Kidnaped Boy Found Minus Head.

Two miles in the interior of a big swamp near New Orleans, the headless body of Walter Lamana, an Italian child between 7 and 8 years old, who was kidnaped and held for $8,000 ransom, two weeks ago, was found by police and vigilants. He had been strangled to death, according to the confession of one of several Italians held by the police. The boy's neck is supposed to have been broken when he was strangled, causing the head to become separated from the body when decomposition set in. The head was found a short distance from the body.

Five Italians, two of them women, are under arrest, charged with being accomplices to the murder and extra details of police and deputies are maintaining order in the excited Italian quarter of the city.

Henry Watterson was the principal speaker at the commencement of the Indiana University. A degree was conferred upon James Whitcomb Riley.

Identified Bombs.

Judge Luther Goddard on the witness stand, in the Haywood trial at Boise, Idaho, identified the bomb dug up at his front gate last year, which Harry Orchard previously testified he had planted there for the purpose of killing the judge.

The Hon. Augustus E. Wilson.

The Hon. Augustus E. Wilson of Louisville was nominated by acclamation as Republican candidate for governor of Kentucky at the state convention.

SAFE NOT BURGLAR PROOF

Expert Testifies that He Drilled a Hole into Capitol Vault.

OVERCHARGES MONSTROUS

Bills Were Not Audited Before Payment, Although They Amounted to $4,900,000.

That an expert can bore through a "burglar proof" vault in the state treasury in four hours, with a one-eighth inch drill, was testified before the capitol investigation committee by Chas. D. Montague, a metallic furniture expert. He actually had done the trick to demonstrate that Congressman Cassel's Pennsylvania company had furnished an inferior article of goods for fabulous prices. Two vaults and 14 safes in the building cost the state $60,000, and their real value was about $20,000. Mr. Montague said also that no chrome steel or steel rolls had been used in the vaults, only ordinary steel, which any one could bore into with ease. As to the metallic furniture, the expert said the state was charged, excessive prices. He cited certain bills which were two and three times more than a fair trade list price without the customary discount.

He said the sub-basement contained one case that cost the state $1,182. The list price was $2,701, subject to the discount. The first floor metallic furniture cost $229,231.10, and was worth $132,463.53. On the second floor cases were billed at 151,688.40, and were worth $54,470.65. These estimates were based on standard trade price lists. Mr. Montague never heard of metallic furniture being sold by the floor "outside of Harrisburg."

The testimony of Mr. Montague showed that in the Senate and House filing rooms in the basement of the capitol, there are metallic cases two feet less in height than specified. Double doors and swinging doors have been substituted for sliding doors, which lessened the cost 20 per cent. The expert found in many instances where heavy metal was ordered light was substituted.

He said Architect Huston "designed" metallic furniture for rooms which do not contain any at all, and that the plans for which Huston collected a commission of $50,000 from the state as his own, were prepared by a company which supplied the metallic furniture to the Pennsylvania company.

The expert said the bronze on the first floor was worth $25,000. The state paid $560,000.

T. Stewart Pearce, former cashier of the state treasury, testified regarding the settlement sheets for the payment of capitol contracts which he had approved during the incumbency of State Treasurers Harris and Matthews. He approved settlements to the amount of about $800,000, which were never audited. He said he never made any effort to ascertain if the "waiting list" was delivered, or whether they were up to the specifications, adding that his approval was purely perfunctory.

Geo. C. Keim, bookkeeper in the department of public grounds and buildings, testified that bills amounting to more than $4,900,000 had been paid without the approval of the board of grounds and buildings.

The sergeant-at-arms of the commission took the stand and told of his efforts to find Architect Huston and Contractor Sanderson. Huston was reported ill and Sanderson could not be found. Their attorneys refused to accept the service of subpoenas.

TEN DEAD IN SMASHUPS

Passenger Runs Into Worktrain—Four Persons Are Killed in Rochester (N. Y.) Wreck.

Six workmen were killed and 40 more injured when a passenger train on the Highland division of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad crashed into the rear of a work train that was backing into Hartford, Conn., from New Britain, at the Sigmund street crossing. Of the injured two will probably die. Some of the victims within easy reach were dead, but were left while the rescuers tried to extricate the living.

Four persons are known to have been killed, three more are thought to be dead, and eight were badly injured in a wreck about 11 o'clock at night, at Mitchell's Farm, about a mile east of Pittsford, on the Auburn branch of the New York Central railroad. The train was No. 239, going west. It met a freight head-on.

The seriously injured includes Roy Banks of Youngstown, O.

FOUR DROWNED

Girl Rocks the Boat and Death Takes Her and Party.

Gus Hammer, Ola Peterson, Lydia Olin and Anna Johnson, all residents of Muskegon, Mich., were drowned in Muskegon lake Sunday.

The quartet hired a rowboat for a pleasure trip on the lake, and it was capsized. The accident is said to be due to one of the party rocking the boat. A party in a launch passed the quartet shortly before the accident and declared that one of the girls was standing up, rocking the boat.

Expo Changes Hands.

Directors of the Jamestown Exposition Co. accepted the resignation of Gov. W. E. Cottrell, practically made James M. Barr director general, with full powers, and endorsed a second bond issue for $700,000 to cover all the exposition company's liabilities.

Burglars Entered the Mansion of Craig Lippincott in the fashionable section of Philadelphia and secured jewelry and bric-a-brac valued at more than $5,000.

GOULD AND RAMSEY SUED

Charges Misrepresentation in Formation of Little Kanawa Syndicate.

Suit was filed in the Circuit Court at St. Louis, by John F. Jones against the Little Kanawa syndicate and Joseph Ramsey, Jr., former president of the Wabash railroad; George J. Gould and Wm. E. Guy, as principal defendants, and others as nominal defendants, because they were stockholders in the syndicate.

The action is started to secure a receiver and an accounting, and an injunction is asked in order to tie up until after the accounting of $3,000,000, alleged to be on deposit in the St. Louis Union Trust Co. to the credit of the syndicate.

The petition alleges that Ramsey and Gould organized the syndicate in 1901 for the purpose of buying up coal lands in West Virginia and Ohio and several short lines of railroad.

The organizers undertook to sell stock in the company to the extent of $3,000,000 to $8,000,000 and did sell stock up to the latter amount, of which Gould subscribed for $3,000,000.

Jones claims to have paid $700,000 cash on a subscription of $100,000, most of the other subscribers not paying over 50 per cent cash.

Jones alleges mismanagement on the part of Ramsey, Gould and Guy. He states that Ramsey represented to prospective subscribers that the properties acquired by the syndicate would ultimately be sold to the Wabash railroad.

In 1903, however, after the Wabash had spent large sums of money extending its road into Pittsburg, the managers, of the syndicate, Jones avers, did not wish to turn over the properties to the Wabash and gave up the work of developing and improving the railroads and coal lands.

An instance of the abandonment of the Zanesville, Marietta & Parkersburg railroad after the expenditure of $800,000 is cited. Jones claims that the building of this road was stopped because the syndicate managers found it would not be to the advantage of other enterprises in which they were entangled.

FATHER KILLS FIVE

Domestic Troubles End in Deaths of Father, Mother and Three Children.

W. W. Barton, a carpenter, shot and almost instantly killed his wife, three children and himself, at his home at Jasper, Fla. One victim, a child, 5 years old, survived long enough to tell that Barton did the killing.

The shots were heard about 10 o'clock at night, but no attention was paid to the matter until the next day, when neighbors discovered Barton's body lying on the front porch and that of his wife on the back porch. The children were found in a bed room, the pistol having been held close to the mouth in each instance, and the faces were powder marked. Domestic troubles are believed to have been responsible for the crime. Barton left home Tuesday and did not return until late Wednesday, when he found the doors nailed against him. He battered them down.

Boston Wool Market.

Recent large sales in imported fine wools have increased the volume of business in the local market, although trading along domestic lines continues quiet. There have been some arrivals of spring Texas stock, but the Arizona new wool is about all taken. Recent heavy sales in quarter-blood fleeces have exhausted the stock of fleece wools and dealers are awaiting the arrival of the new clip for quotations. Advices from Ohio and Michigan show a particularly active market and buyers there are paying as high as 26c for Michigan and 28 to 29c for mediums, while in Ohio they have exceeded 30c for medium wool in several instances. The leading domestic quotations range as follows:

Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces—XX, 33 to 34c; X, 31 to 32c; No. 1 washed, 28 to 30c; No. 2 washed, 27 to 28c; fine unwashed, 25 to 26c; fine unmerchantable, 25 to 28c; half-blood clothing, 27 to 28c; half-blood combing, 32 to 33c; three-eighths blood combing, 32 to 33c.

PEACE PROBLEMS

America Reserves Right to Propose Limit of Armaments.

The surprise of the second session of the peace conference at The Hague was the formal reservation by Gen. Horace Porter, on behalf of the United States, of the right to present the question of limitation of armaments. He also reserved the right to introduce the subject of the collection of contractual debts by force.

Sir Edward Fry also served notice that Great Britain reserves the right to introduce subjects outside the program.

SEVEN KILLED IN COAL MINE

Mine Gas Lets Go in a Pennsylvania Colliery With Fatal Results.

Five men were killed and the plant demolished by an explosion in the mixing room of the Sinnemaoning Powder Company's plant, near Sinnemaoning, Pa. The mixing room was blown to atoms. The dead: Edward Nelson of Emporium, foreman of the plant.

Edward Cole, married, leaves several small children.

Harry Cole, brother of above, single.

Philip Summers, married, leaves small family.

William Chadman, Sinnemaoning, married.

The bodies of the victims were horribly mangled, and it was with difficulty that sufficient of the remains could be found for identification. The shock of the explosion was felt for several miles around.

As these five men were the only ones in the mixing room at the time the cause of the explosion is a mystery.

Seven men were killed and two others injured in two explosions of mine gas in the Johnson No. 1 mine at Pritchburg, Pa. The first explosion was caused by the carelessness of a doorkeeper, who, by leaving a door open, allowed gas to accumulate in the workings. The second explosion, which resulted in the deaths, resulted from the ignition of fire damp, which accumulated after the first explosion.

CARNEGIE GIVES MORE

Will Pay Cost of Branch Libraries in New York.

It was announced that Andrew Carnegie has notified the trustees of the New York public library that they may increase the number of branch library buildings, erected under his gift of $3,500,000, by 22 and that he will pay the bills.

This will bring the total of his gift to the city to $6,750,000, and will increase the number of branch libraries provided for under the terms of his original gift from 78 to 100 buildings.

OVATION TO KNOX

Senator Attends Reunion of Alumni at Mt. Union College.

Senator P. C. Knox was given a great ovation by the alumni of his alma mater, Mt. Union College. Announcement that Mr. Knox, who was a member of the class of '72, would be present, drew the largest crowd which has attended the commencement exercises at the college for years.

He was referred to as our "presidential candidate" by Judge J. A. Martin of Columbiana county, who introduced him, and the audience indicated that it would support him in preference to Ohio's favorite son, William H. Taft.

Senator Knox graciously sidestepped the honor thus paid him, launching forth into a non-political speech. He criticized the war secretary in speaking of the latter's efforts in behalf of universal peace and of his great work in the Philippines.

EVIDENCE OF FOUL PLAY

Police Discover Negro Burying His Wife's Body.

A Philadelphia policeman detected Robert Maloyed, a negro, digging in his back yard, and in answer to questions, was informed by the negro that he was burying his wife. The policeman entered the house, and in an upper room found the corpse of Mrs. Maloyed, which had been dead apparently about three days. The body showed evidences of foul play, and the negro was arrested and held to await the action of the coroner.

POWDER EXPLODED ALL RIGHT

Miners Settle An Argument at a Heavy Cost.

At the Florence coal mine on the Ohio side, opposite Wheeling, three miners upset some powder in a pool of water, and this started a discussion whether wet powder would explode.

To settle the argument one of the trio set fire to the powder. The explosion communicated to a nearby keg of dry powder and the result was the wrecking of the house and the serious injury of one of the men, who was removed to the Martins Ferry hospital, while his wife and a boarder received minor injuries.

Says Yellow Races Will Rule.

Gen. Wm. Booth, head of the Salvation Army, has returned to London, after his trip to the Orient, greatly impressed with the possibilities of the yellow races. In an interview he declared that the Chinese and Japanese will completely capture eastern trade and commerce. "There are features about the Chinese and Japanese," he said, "that are bound to make them the conquerors of the world, but they will do it by peaceful means."

Supplements Carnegie Gift.

A gift of $45,000 to Buchtel College at Akron, O., was announced at the commencement, the condition of the gift being that the donor's name should be withheld. The money will be added to a fund of $50,000, half of which has been given to the college by Andrew Carnegie.

The Porte has addressed a communication to the United States Embassy removing the final obstacles in the way of United States' adhesion to the three per cent customs increase.

Bayard Wyman of Michigan has been selected to fill the office of superintendent of postmasters' appointments, a place created by Congress at the last session and paying a salary of $3,000 a year.

WAKATSUKI IS OPTIMISTIC

Vice Minister of Finance Says His People Feel They Have American's Good Will.

Reiziro Wakatsuki, Japanese vice minister of finance, who is in New York on his way to London and Paris, talked about the Japanese troubles in San Francisco.

"Americans," said Mr. Wakatsuki, "should remember three things: That no citizen of Japan can forget that it was America which opened up Japan to the world, and western civilization; that there are in both Japan and America sensation mongers, and that in Japan, as well as in America, there are politicians out of power who seize upon anything, however inconsequential, which may help to discredit their political opponents."

Vice Minister Wakatsuki has been appointed special financial commissioner by the Japanese government to visit Europe and incidentally America, for the purpose of studying their financial and business conditions and of acquainting them, as much as possible with the same conditions in Japan. The minister said:

"As a nation the Japanese have almost confidence in the American people. They believe they have the good will of the people of the United States and they value it."

"While Japan as a nation considers the San Francisco disturbances as purely local outbreaks and small things, still she does regret exceedingly that they happen so often, and she hopes that they may soon stop. By being worked up at both ends of the line they may do a great deal of harm to both countries."

RICHES GONE, SEEKS DEATH

Fortune of $150,000 Dropped in Wall Street.

The Wall Street panic, which wiped out in a day a fortune of $150,000, is believed to be responsible for the second attempt at suicide made within a month by Thomas Walters, 34 years old, of 140 Willis avenue, of the Bronx. Walters is in Lincoln hospital, the arteries of both wrists slashed, with about one chance in a thousand of recovering.

Up to three months ago Walters had a wholesale liquor business in East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth Street. He invested in Wall street and when the panic came was obliged to advance most of his fortune to cover his investments, only to see it all fade away in turn.

Louisiana Wasps for Africa.

At the request of the Pasteur Institute of France, a cargo of Louisiana wasps known as "horse guards" will be shipped on July 12 by the Louisiana Crop Pest Commission to Algeria, to exterminate horseflies. The wasps, which were gathered in Cameron parish, near New Orleans, will be sent in refrigerated baskets, with the pupae of the insect.

The mayor was removed on the ground that because of his imprisonment in the county jail, which followed his conviction for extortion, he is no longer able to perform the duties of his office. Supervisor James Gallagher, chairman of the finance committee, who occupied the mayor's chair while Schmitz took a vacation in Europe, was chosen as acting mayor.

BUILDING NEW RAILROAD

Western Allegheny to Have New York Central Connection.

At a cost of $1,500,000 the Western Allegheny Railroad will build a 30-mile extension, running from East Brady, in Butler county, Pa., to Leesburg, in Mercer county. Many engineering difficulties are to be overcome and several long bridges will be necessary, making the cost of construction $50,000 a mile. The Western Allegheny road will then connect with the New York Central, which is constructing a line that will touch the Western Allegheny between New Castle and Franklin.
