

MRS. DE PASSE OF NEW YORK CITY

"I Consulted Several Physicians, but they Did Me No Good. I was not and Man-a-lin Helped Me."

MRS. ALINE DEPASSE.
Mrs. Aline DePasse, 770 E. 165th St., New York, N. Y., writes:
"It gives me pleasure to testify to the curative qualities of Peruna and Manalin. I was afflicted for over seven years with catarrh of the head, throat and digestive organs. I consulted many physicians, but they did me no good. One day I happened to read some testimonials in your Peruna almanac. I decided to try Peruna and Manalin. I bought a bottle of each, and after taking them for a week I noticed a change for the better. So I kept it up, and after using twelve bottles I was perfectly cured. I also gave the medicine to my children and they had the same beneficial result. I would never be without these remedies in the house."
"I highly recommend Peruna and Manalin to all my friends, and in fact to everybody."
Miss Mildred Grey, 110 Weimar St., Appleton, Wis., writes:
"It gives me pleasure to recommend Peruna for catarrh of the stomach. I had this disease for a number of years, and could not enjoy a mouthful of food that I ate. It was indeed a great relief when I hit upon Peruna, and obtained decided results from the first. I took six bottles before I felt entirely cured of my trouble, but I had an aggravated case."

High Prices in Klondike.
The Klondike region might make an excellent summer resort for people who are seeking an easy way to get rid of their surplus wealth. According to the Philadelphia News Bureau, not an article is sold up there for less than 25 cents, as there is no money in circulation of a lesser denomination. The cost of coal is $15 to $20 a ton; hay, $60 to $80 a ton; butter, 50 cents a pound; flour, $6 a hundred pounds; milk, 35 cents a quart, and beef, 25 to 50 cents a pound. The wages of mechanics for a 10-hour day is $10; common laborers, without board, $6; clerks, $150 to $200 a month, while the cost of a two-horse draft team is $25 a day.

The searchlight of the British Dreadnaught has a new feature in that it projects beams at the same time in opposite directions to facilitate signalling.

Pure White Lead is the Natural Paint Pigment

Numerous compounds are being offered to take the place of white lead as a paint, but no real substitute for it has yet been found. Pure White Lead has a peculiar property of amalgamating with the wood upon which it is used—added to this it has an elasticity which permits the paint to follow the natural expansion and contraction of the wood. Pure White Lead (with its full natural tenacity and elasticity, unimpaired by adulterants), alone fulfills all the requirements of the ideal paint. Every key which bears the Dutch Boy trade mark is positively guaranteed to be absolutely Pure White Lead made by the Old Dutch Process.

LITTLE THINGS Worth Knowing

How mosquitoes exist, within the Arctic circle, without a blood diet, is a mystery.

Every German soldier's equipment includes a Bible and a half-pound cake of chocolate.

The oldest manuscript written on cotton paper in England is in the British Museum, and bears date 1049.

The Bank of England suspended cash payments twice—first in 1636, and secondly in 1797.

Two divers descended to a depth of 210 feet in a Scotch lake the other day. This is said to be the greatest depth to which divers ever descended in the British Isles.

The oldest enlisted man on the rolls of the United States Army is Sergeant David Robertson, of the hospital corps, stationed on Governor's Island. He is a native Scotchman. He first enlisted May 27, 1854, and he has been in continuous service, having the extraordinary record of never having lost a day. He is seventy-four years old.

When first hatched the bee appears to have no desire to collect honey; she must first serve her apprenticeship in the hive before the desire awakens to go forth to the honey fields. When older she either joins the field force and collects honey, or is detailed to do sentinel duty at the entrance of the hive to prevent any intrusion from other colonies.

All of the furniture and fixtures in the office of Francis E. Leupp, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, were made by Indians. His desk, tables, portieres and bric-a-brac came from various tribes of red men, and Mr. Leupp knows the makers of many of the articles. His home in Washington abounds in fine specimens of Indian handiwork.

The United States never coined for circulation a gold piece of a higher denomination than $20. The $50 gold coins, round and octagonal, were coined in California from 1850 to 1861 by assayers and bankers and were supposed to give bullion weight for face value. Some of them command a high premium if in fine condition. As a circulating medium they were never up to the mint value of coins bearing the Government stamp.—Newark Call.

There are a few of the lower animals that attain to a greater age than that of man. The pike, the turtle, the eagle and the elephant have been known to reach well into the second century of life. The golden eagle has been known to live nearly 200 years. The most notable authentic instance of human longevity is that of Henry Jenkins, of Yorkshire, England, who died in 1670, at the age of 169.

IGNORED MAN FOR 27 YEARS.

Jilted Girl Even Forbade Their Attending Her Funeral.

Miss Jennie E. Carroll, who died a few days ago at the house of her sister, near Southpass City, Wyoming, had not, so far as was known to those familiar with her life, spoken to a man for twenty-seven years.

She was forty odd years of age at the time of her death, and ever since she came to Wyoming eighteen years ago had made her home with her sister, Mrs. Ella Cobler. She went there with the understanding that she was not to be required to speak to Mr. Cobler and did not do so, though he lived two years after her arrival.

The story is that twenty-seven years ago, Miss Carroll was engaged to be married to a young man in the East. Guests had assembled for the ceremony at the home of her mother, but when the hour came, the young man did not appear. Miss Carroll never saw or heard from him afterward.

She took a vow that night, the story runs, never again to speak to a man. Before she died she requested her sister to permit no men to attend her funeral, and none did attend it.—New York World.

Well Dressing Festival.

The annual custom of decorating the wells of the village of Tissington, in the heart of the peak of Derbyshire, which for centuries has taken place on Ascension Day, was duly observed yesterday, when many visitors joined with the villagers in the thanksgiving service held in the church.

There a procession was formed, and each of the five decorated wells was visited, psalms and Asconston-tide hymns being sung. Upon the stone frontage of the wells a wooden structure, covered with a layer of clay, had been placed, and flowers had been wrought into exquisite mosaics, with Scriptural passages interwoven.

The origin of the celebration is involved in obscurity, but the uninterrupted continuity of the observance in recent years may be due to the circumstance that during a terrible drought in Derbyshire the Tissington wells did not fail.—London Standard.

FINANCE AND TRADE REVIEW

DUN'S WEEKLY SUMMARY

Steel Mills Cannot Shut Down Because of Demand for Finished Shapes.

Improvement has become more pronounced in distribution of seasonable merchandise, and with the reduction of retail stocks there is a broadening of interest in jobbing and wholesale shipments of fall and winter lines. Weather conditions have again favored both trade and agriculture, rapid development of the crops being potent for good in commercial departments. Little machinery is idle in the leading industries, except where repairs or inventories interfere. Building operations are large, although less than contemplated, owing to financial conditions.

Increased demand for finished steel shapes makes it more difficult for the mills to arrange for the customary seasonal shut-down for repairs and inventories. Well filled order books and importunate customers seeking prompt deliveries will make the season of idleness more brief than ever before. Some of the smaller concerns are still securing premiums on the limited tonnage of plates and other shapes upon which quick shipment can be made, but most mills cannot consider deliveries for many months and the Carnegie Company has advanced prices for bars $1 per ton on all contracts for the third quarter. The pig iron situation is stronger, numerous inquiries for early delivery indicating that melters have provided for their requirements very inadequately. Textile plants continue to produce freely, having much business already under contract, but orders are light at this time, owing to stock taking by jobbers.

A weak tone is still noted in the hide market, although some grades receive fair support. Foreign dry hides have steadied, but there is no recovery from the recent decline of 3½ cents, while wet salted foreign hides have fallen still lower. Leather is steady, but sales are smaller than at this time last year.

Thaw Case Cited.
The judge presiding at the Loving trial at Huston, Va., barred evidence the state wanted to submit to show Miss Loving's story false and that her father had not suffered provocation for killing Theodore Estes. The court cited the Thaw case as showing that the story of a woman in such circumstances may not be questioned.

MOTHS AND DOGS.
Dyed rugs, such as dog and goat skins, are not attacked by moths, because in curing and dyeing them poisons are put in that make them practically immune from attacks by these insects; but the contrary is true of the natural skins, such as polar bear, tiger, leopard, etc., for, though the curing process they go through contains more preservatives than are put into that used on muffs, coats, etc., they are much more likely to attract these destructive insects than those that are dyed.—Boston Post.

New Grange Good Roads Bill

The State Grange Legislative Committee are using their best endeavor to get a Good Roads law enacted that shall be in accord with the views expressed by the Good Roads Committee of the last State Grange. Therefore, a bill has been prepared, and, at the request of the committee, introduced by Assemblyman Hamm and Senator Cobb, proposing to amend the Fuller-Plank law so that highway administration in the money system towns will be in harmony with the desire of the Grange.

This bill seeks to overcome objectionable features of the present law by an adjustment of State aid according to the assessed valuation per mile of road, instead of the valuation per town. With the classification as worked out at the instance of the committee poor towns will receive a larger proportion of State aid and towns of like circumstances and conditions be placed upon an equal footing. Under the present law there is manifest discrimination, because the dividing line being at the million of valuation towns, with more than a million assessment cannot receive more than one-tenth of one per cent. of their valuation, while towns below a million can draw to the extent of one-half the amount that they themselves raise, without reference to other conditions. Many towns rated as above a million are relatively poorer than many towns below a million, and therefore quite as much in need of assistance.

The Grange bill proposes to give towns with a valuation of less than $5000 per mile a 100 per cent. addition to that which they raise themselves; $5000 to $7000, 90 per cent.; $7000 to $9000, 80 per cent.; $9000 to $11,000, 70 per cent.; $11,000 to $13,000, 50 per cent. To guard against unreasonable demands upon the State a limitation is fixed for towns of less than $25,000 per mile valuation at not to exceed $25 per mile annually, and towns with a mileage valuation in excess of $25,000 shall not be permitted to draw more than one-tenth of one per cent. of their total valuation.

This bill was prepared by Patrons who are thoroughly posted in road matters, and it has been received with marked favor in Albany. Individual members of the order, and granges that can act upon, should urge their representatives in the Legislature to support its passage. In this no Patron should allow himself to be influenced by unverified reports respecting the progress of road legislation, for the committee is alive to the real situation and has offered a measure that deserves support.—J. W. Darrow.

Florida Will Have Roads.

W. J. Morgan, the well known promoter of beach race meets and mountain climbs, and lately prominent in good roads agitation, has just returned to New York City from a season's absence in the South. Among other things he has the following to say:

"Five years ago, when I went to Florida first to look into the beach proposition for racing, Jacksonville had about one dozen automobiles, and about one-half of them in running order. A recent canvass showed nearly 400 automobiles in Jacksonville. Consider that there have been few roads that the Florida driver could use in the past, the present number of cars only goes to show what may be expected for automobilizing in Florida when the present good roads crusade bears anything like a good crop. It is safe to say that there are 1000 automobiles in the State, but of course that number is vastly increased in winter."

Mr. Morgan says that the manner of conducting future meets on the Ormond-Daytona beach is somewhat undecided at the present time. When the St. John's Canal is cut through between St. Augustine and the St. John's River, at Jacksonville, a continuous water trip can then be had from the north to the most southerly point of the United States, Key West. The residents at the latter place want a motor boat meet next winter.—The Automobile.

The Slow But Sure Gait.

There have been numerous disappointments in the outcome of some of the boys. We remember one boy in particular who was the butt of all ridicule from the boys of his age, and he took it good-naturedly. He seemed to have no particular friends and herded by himself. His clothes always looked funny and he had that awkward swagger over which the rest of us had much sport. No one ever thought that that plug would ever get anywhere or have anything. But to-day that plug is drawing a better salary than any two of the old gang. He has more money, more influence and more friends than any of the rest of us. The plug had a gait that was slow, but it was sure. He didn't appear to be a bit bright then, but he had a surface that took on a polish.—Westphalia (Mo.) Times.

A camel can readily carry as much as two oxen: With a load of 400 pounds he can travel twelve or fourteen days without water, and make forty miles a day.

MUZZLING RUSSIAN PRESS

Liberal Papers Heavily Fined and Radical Sheets Suppressed.

The Russian government's repressive campaign against the Liberal press, to prevent hostile criticism of the dissolution of the Duma and the new electoral law, continues vigorously. Dispatches from many cities report that papers have been fined from $500 to $2,000. Radical papers have been suppressed entirely and their editors in several instances fled, among them M. Gorskoff, who was a member of the first parliament from Yelizavetgrad.
Lieut. Vuyakhevich, who participated in the suppression of the recent mutiny of the sapper battalion at Kiev, has committed suicide.

Some Divorce Customs.

A great variety of divorce laws prevail in different countries. The ancient Jews had a discretionary power of divorcing their wives; and in Hindustan a man and wife may become divorced through an incident which an American might take as a matter of daily domestic life.

A curious custom regarding divorce prevails in Cochinchina, where a couple may become divorced by merely breaking a pair of chop sticks before a company which is assembled to witness the service.
Divorces are scarcely ever known to occur in Greece; while in Tibet it is almost impossible to obtain a divorce, and remarriage is positively forbidden.

Two kinds of divorce are known in Circassia. By the first the divorced people are allowed to remarry at once, and by the second remarriage is not allowed within a year.
It is said that among certain tribes of American Indians divorce may be accomplished by breaking the pieces of sticks given to the witnesses at the marriage ceremony.

Revengeful Testators.

Will making often affords a man an unrivaled opportunity of paying off old scores and speaking his mind without any fear of unpleasant consequences to himself.
The great Duke of Marlborough evidently could not resist the temptation of a farewell "slap" at his duchess, when he left her "£10,000 worth with to spoil Blenheim in her own way, and £15,000 to keep clean and go to law with."

There is also a distinct note of spitefulness in the extract from the testament of a Mr. Kerr, who, after declaring that he would probably have left his widow £10,000 if she had allowed him to read his evening paper in peace, adds, "But you must remember, my dear, that whenever I commenced reading you started playing the piano and singing. You must therefore take the consequences. I leave you £1,000."—Grand Magazine.

Golf and Fish Story.

Some time ago a Northern golfer drove a ball, a fine, low, skimming shot, across a river. Just as the ball was nearly over a salmon leaped at the ball and caught it in its mouth. Such was the pace of the ball that it carried the salmon up to the river's bank, where it was immediately secured with the ball tightly wedged in its teeth.—Golf Illustrated.
