BEST MEDICINE IN THE WORLD FOR COLIC AND DIARRHOEA.

"I find Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to be the best remedy in the world," says Mr. C. L. Carter, of Skirum, Ala. "I am subject to colic and diarrhoea. Last spring it seemed as though I would die, and I think I would if I hadn't taken Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I haven't been troubled with it since, until this week, when I had a very severe attack and took half a bottle of the twenty-five cent size Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and this morning I feel like a new man." For sale at Miller's Drug Store.

1907 A YEAR OF DISASTER.

Although the first half of 1907 has just passed, statistics compiled by the Chicago Tribune show that the record of casualties already exceeds the total of 1906. There have been 38 railroad accidents of more than ordinary magnitude, in which 273 persons have been killed and 925 injured. Twenty-three steamers have been wrecked, involving the loss of 902 lives.

There have been 13 mine accidents, in which 355 persons have perished. These casualties have been due to human negligence or ignorance in large part, but nature has been destructive also. Tidal waves have swept away 2230, earthquakes 5100, hurricanes 539, but cyclones thus far have been merciful, the deaths numbering so far only 70, exclusive of the loss of life at Kurachi, India.

When to these totals is added the sum of smaller casualties there can be little doubt that 1907 will be known in history as the year of disaster.

THE DOCTOR AWAY FROM HOME WHEN MOST NEEDED.

People are often very much disappointed to find their family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like cramp colic and cholera morbus require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proved fatal before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and all risk. Buy it now; it may save life. For sale at Miller's Drug Store.

OLD PAPERS for sale at THE STAR office. They are just the thing for pantry shelves, wrapping paper and cartridge paper for the miners. Five cents buys a large roll of them.

FOUND BY A DREAM.

Point Marion Man's Remarkable Dream Locates Body of Man in Casselman River.

Point Marion, June 29.—A remarkable case of thought transmission or mental telepathy has just come to light here. Mahlon Marshall, Secretary of the G. B. B. A., a glassworkers' beneficial society, on June 12 had a remarkable dream. About this time Ambrose Brenner, of Baltimore, Md., disappeared. His body was found in the Casselman river. Here is the dream as Mr. Marshall recounts it:

"I thought I was on some high hill, and I looked in the distance and saw the most beautiful sunset. I could see the sun sinking down behind the hill, and I thought it was the prettiest sight I ever saw. I looked around over the scene and saw a creek flowing down through the land, and as I followed that stream I saw the body of a man lying along the shore, with his face down in the water. It just looked like he had been caught there. I could see him very plainly, but did not recognize him. The dream was as plain as day to me. Everything was clear, and the sunset was beautiful. I could see the man in the water, although I seemed to be a great distance from him. The dream did not last very long. In the morning when I awoke it was still very clear to me. I spoke to some of my friends about it, but they laughed at me. After I had been thinking about it for some time it struck me all of a sudden that the body I saw was Ambrose Brenner, and the more I thought of it the more convinced I was that it was he.

"In the afternoon of that day I wrote to the Secretary of the Association of G. B. B. A. at Baltimore to find his brother and tell him I believed his brother was drowned, and to try and locate him, if possible. After his brother got my letter the authorities at Baltimore received word from Rockwood, near Connellsville, that a man had been found in the creek there. They described the body, and stated that it had been identified by a man there as one he had been talking to on the railroad track, and he stated that he had a brother in Baltimore who was a glass worker. When this was made known to his brother there, he remembered my letter and came here to see me. We talked the matter over, and I advised him to go right down to Rockwood and have the body taken up, and see if it was his brother. He consented to this, and left Sunday morning. He had with him letters from the Chief of Police of Baltimore, requesting the authorities at Rockwood to take the body up for examination. I told him that when he had made the examination and was satisfied that it was his brother, to telegraph me, and I would make arrangements to pay over to his mother his death benefits.

"Sunday evening, the same evening he left here, about 6:30, I received a telegram from him stating that it was his brother, and for me to go ahead with the arrangements."

WAS IN POOR HEALTH FOR YEARS.

Ira W. Kelley, of Mansfield, Pa., writes: "I was in poor health for two years, suffering from kidney and bladder trouble, and spent considerable money consulting physicians without obtaining any marked benefit, but was cured by Foley's Kidney Cure, and I desire to add my testimony that it may be the cause of restoring the health of others." Refuse substitutes. Sold by all Druggists.

Dogs Must Wear Tags.

An act passed by the last Legislature requires that all dogs shall wear a substantial collar, to which shall be attached a tag showing that the tax upon the dog has been paid. These tags shall be furnished free by the County Commissioners.

The tags will be given to the several tax collectors, who shall deliver the same to the owner of the dog when the tax is paid. Should the owner refuse to pay the tax during the year for which it is assessed, the collector shall give notice to pay, and if he then fails to comply with the law within ten days, the owner must kill the dog, or it becomes the duty of the constable to kill the same.

G. B. BURHANS TESTIFIES AFTER FOUR YEARS.

G. B. Burhans, of Carlisle Center, N. Y., writes: "About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It entirely stopped the brick dust sediment, and pain and symptoms of kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I have never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have elapsed, and I am evidently cured to stay cured, and heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to any one suffering from kidney or bladder trouble." Sold by all Druggists.

Somerset Coal Company Brings an Action for the Sum of $64,153.-28 Against Garrett Coal Company.

Somerset, June 23.—Attorneys Ruppel & Uhl and Koontz & Ogle, acting for the plaintiffs, have filed papers and opened a case in behalf of the Somerset Coal Company against the Garrett Coal Company, in which the plaintiff claims damages in the sum of $64,153.-28. The facts upon which the claim for damages is based as set forth in the plaintiff's papers, are as follows: The plaintiff company is the owner of a certain tract of land in the southern part of this county, known as the Irvin J. Walker tract, and the defendant company is mining coal on an adjoining tract. Some time since, it is alleged, the defendants forcibly entered this tract of the plaintiff company and removed about one acre of coal, valued at $6,289.92, for which treble damages in the sum of $18,869.76 are claimed.

After the removal of certain coal in their own holdings, it is averred by the plaintiff company, the defendant company made openings in the wall separating the mines of the two companies and permitted a large quantity of water to flow from their workings into the mine of the Somerset Coal company, thus interfering with the mining operations of the plaintiff and damaging coal for which damages in the sum of $40,000 are claimed.

The plaintiff also alleges that the defendant company made a heading through the Irvin J. Walker tract and removed the coal from a space 1800 feet in length and 25 feet in width, and after removing this coal, filled the heading with water to the damage of the coal and to the hindrance of the plaintiff in mining the coal. Damages are claimed in the sum of $5,283.52.

Crimes Against Consumptives.

Texas is again in the limelight. It has put a ban on consumptives in the advanced stage. Hereafter all such persons will be debarred from entering the state. Whether Texas can enforce such a stringent measure, is open to doubt, but if it partially succeeds in doing so it will be entitled to applause.

It is a fact well known to the medical fraternity that practically every consumptive in the advanced stage sent to the states where the climate is mild, soon passes away. It may be safe to say that a large percentage of those who are sent to Texas, Florida and Colorado are abandoned by the local physicians, who do not want deaths on their hands. At least this was recently the charge of an eminent physician. It is a crime against consumptives because their lives would be prolonged if they were permitted to remain at home. The eminent physician in question declares that a sudden change in climate invariably hastens the death of consumptives in the advanced stage. He presented official figures to bear out the truth of his claims.

The time for consumptives to go to Texas, Florida and Colorado is in the early stage of the disease. All of them may not recover, but many of them may prolong their lives. Some of them may be fully restored to health. But to send them to these states when their lungs are gone is little short of brutality. The tediousness of the journey itself is exhausting, and the sudden shift from a rigid to a mild climate is usually fatal.

Other states besides Texas in which climatic conditions are mild, should follow the example of the Lone Star commonwealth. It is a good move for the consumptives in two ways. It will encourage those who have the disease in a mild form to go away in time to insure beneficial results, while it will discourage those who are in the advanced stage from making a change, thus prolonging their lives, says the Johnstown Democrat.

A Pretty Story.

On an eighteen-mile branch of a certain railroad running out of New Haven, an extra passenger coach is kept in reserve to be used when the traffic is heavy.

It stands in the yard at the outer terminal, and is sometimes not used for a period of several weeks. It happened, one day recently, that it was needed after a rest of more than a month, and the conductor had it attached to the train to make the eighteen-mile run.

During the time that it had lain idle, a robin had built her nest on the rods under the car, and had there hatched her little ones. When the car left the yard the robin followed, flying the eighteen miles, and reaching the station one minute after the train. She singled out the car while it lay in the yard there and watched and fed her little brood, and when it started back she flew after it as before, arriving about the time it did.

In this way the little bird made four trips that day, a total distance of 72 miles. When the coach was once more sidetracked in the yard at the outer terminal, the mother took her place on the nest to warm and comfort her naked little ones.
