

Coffee— A Question of Taste

Don't let anyone tell you what coffee to buy. Connoisseurs and expert coffee judges differ in their tastes. The point is to get a coffee that suits your taste. GILLIES' COFFEES—"the finest obtainable," are blended to suit different tastes—all tastes. There are four distinct flavors, characteristic of coffees from different parts of the world, consequently four different prices. These different prices mean that some coffees cost more to import than others. If your choice is the lowest or the highest priced—you may be sure that you have the very best of its kind. GILLIES' 35 cent coffee is mellow, aromatic and very delicately flavored, while GILLIES' 30c coffee is rich, full-bodied and delicious—the 25c or 20c blend each has a distinctive flavor which may please you.

There's a blend for YOU

LAST year the Pennsylvania Democratic convention hailed Bryan as the successor of Roosevelt. This year it declined to commit itself. Are the Pennsylvania Democrats faltering in their allegiance to the "peerless leader?" asks an exchange.

The State Bar Association wants the Superior court abolished. This is not strange. The Superior court is a useless tribunal. It decides nothing, but is a sort of half-way stopping place between the Common Pleas and the Supreme court, to add to the law's delays and the litigant's expense.—Uniontown News Standard.

AN exchange says: "Sometimes we wonder what a mean man thinks about when he goes to bed; when he turns out the light and lies down; when the darkness closes in around him and he is alone and compelled to be honest with himself. And not a bright thought, not a generous impulse, not a manly act, not a word of blessing, not a grateful look comes to bless him again. Not a penny dropped into the outstretched palm of poverty, nor the balm of a loving word dropped into an aching heart; no sunbeam of encouragement cast upon a struggling life, the strong right hand of fellowship reached out to help some fallen man to his feet—when none of these things come to him as the 'God bless you' of the departed day, how he must hate himself! How he must try to roll away from himself and sleep on the bed! When the only victory he can think of is some mean victory, in which he wronged a neighbor. No wonder he sneers when he tries to smile. How pure and good all the rest of the world must look to him, and how cheerless and dusty and dreary must his path appear! Why, even one isolated act of meanness is enough to scatter crumbs in the bed of the average, ordinary man, and what must be the feelings of a man whose life is given up to mean acts? When there is so much suffering and heartache and misery in the world, anyhow, why should you add one act of wickedness or sadness to the general burden? Suffer injustice a thousand times rather than commit it once.

THE DOCTOR AWAY FROM HOME WHEN MOST NEEDED.

People are often very much disappointed to find their family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like cramp colic and cholera morbus require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proved fatal before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and all risk. Buy it now; it may save life. For sale at Miller's Drug Store. 8-1

MORE INJUNCTIONS.

The End of the Trolley Tangle Not Yet in Sight—Fine Car for P. & M. Company Arrived this Week.

No decision has yet been handed down in the injunction cases argued by the P. & M. and the M. & S. trolley companies in the Equity Court of Somerset, many weeks ago, and the Lord only knows when there will be a decision, for the court aforesaid is as slow as molasses in January, and then some. To add to the vexation of a long suffering public, the B. & O. Railroad Company last week sent men to several points along the Salisbury branch to keep the P. & M. trackmen from laying tracks across the railroad. This resulted in an injunction prayed for by the trolley people, restraining the B. & O. from interfering with their work.

To retaliate, the B. & O. and the M. & S. companies have since asked the court for a rule to issue on H. H. Maust and John M. Wright, Superintendents of the P. & M. company, to show cause why attachments should not issue for them for contempt of Court. They are charged with violating the Court's injunction. These rules are made returnable next Tuesday.

It is difficult to see how the allegations of the plaintiffs in this case can be sustained, for the defendants have been pushing their construction work on such portions of their line not tied up by injunction.

The P. & M. company will in all probability haul the B. & O. before the State department to show cause why it should not be compelled to surrender its charter for the Salisbury branch, on which said company has for years violated its charter by refusing to carry passengers.

Most of the track on the P. & M. line is now laid, the power house is completed and equipped with the necessary machinery, and on Monday last the company received its first car, which cost over $6,000, and is of the most modern type. It is 44 feet long, and equipped with every modern convenience. One end of the car is partitioned off and equipped for the carrying of baggage and freight.

The P. & M. company will complete its road and have it in operation in about 60 days or less, if the court ever acts and gives a just decision, which is hoped for.

TAKE THE POSTMASTER'S WORD FOR IT.

Mr. F. M. Hamilton, postmaster at Cherryvale, Ind., keeps also a stock of general merchandise and patent medicines. He says: "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is standard here in its line. It never fails to give satisfaction and we could hardly afford to be without it." Only One Birth in Six Months.

The records of the office of the registrar of vital statistics at McConnellsburg, Fulton county, show that there has been but one birth in that town during the past six months, and the Fulton county News says: "While we have no disposition to be unduly officious, we would suggest to State Health Officer Dixon that if he has any old second hand storks about his office, he might send them up to Fulton county's capital."

What they need in the Fulton county capital is a consignment of good, old-fashioned wives and husbands, the kind that do not regard children as less desirable than poodle dogs, cats and parrots. But, after all, there isn't much use in having a family of nice, rosy-cheeked children when an old fiend in human form is permitted by a state to compel people to maim, cripple, kill and poison the blood of their children by enforcing the damnable and dastardly vaccination law of which Tyrant Dixon is the chief sponsor and exponent. Count Tolstoi's idea, to permit the human race to die off, is preferable to such a state of existence as the vaccination cranks and tyrants would enforce upon us.

BEST MEDICINE IN THE WORLD FOR COLIC AND DIARRHOEA.

"I find Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to be the best remedy in the world," says Mr. C. L. Carter, of Skirum, Ala. "I am subject to colic and diarrhoea. Last spring it seemed as though I would die, and I think I would if I hadn't taken Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I haven't been troubled with it since, until this week, when I had a very severe attack and took half a bottle of the twenty-five cent size Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and this morning I feel like a new man." GREAT IS REFORM.

Somerset Standard's Size-up of the Corrupt Practices Act.

The Roberts Corrupt Practices Act, an alleged reform measure passed in 1906, is a failure in many respects, and in some particulars it invites corruption instead of preventing it. Everywhere candidates violate the plain letter of the law, but of course not all of them knowingly violate its terms. Among other requirements of the act, all candidates, whether nominated or defeated, shall file a sworn statement of their election expenses within thirty days after the nomination or election, or subject themselves to a fine of not less than fifty dollars, or more than one thousand dollars; or to undergo imprisonment for not less than one month, or more than two years, either or both, at the discretion of the Court.

More than thirty days have elapsed since the last election, but up to Tuesday evening not more than four of the thirty persons who were candidates at the last primary had filed their account. No person can lawfully take the oath of office until he files an account.

When the expenses are under fifty dollars, the candidate must certify to that fact, and when they exceed that amount, detailed statements must be filed. Two detailed statements have been filed, one by John S. Miller, several weeks ago, and one within the last week by A. C. Holbert, the unsuccessful candidate for district attorney. His expenses were $65.30, which, with the exception of $6.72, was divided among ten newspapers of the county.

The purpose for which money can be expended by candidates is divided into eight classes. One of these classes is "for dissemination of information to the public." A free "disseminator" can distribute money with great lavishness to and among voters, where it will do the most good. Evidence of this is given in the statements of some of the candidates in Fayette county, who parted with thousands of dollars through disseminators. J. Q. Van Swearingen, the successful candidate for the Republican judicial nomination, says his expenses were $21,541.93, and his opponent, Judge E. H. Reppert, got off with an expenditure of $12,340.39. Peter A. Johns, successful candidate for sheriff, put his expense account in at $3,482.50.

Some of this money went to newspapers, but the great bulk of it was distributed by disseminators. For illustration, Judge E. H. Reppert gave Senator W. E. Crow $5,000 "for dissemination," and Mr. Van Swearingen distributed a considerable amount to thirty or more persons in sums ranging from $100 to $3,500, also for "dissemination." Great is the blanket of "dissemination!"

G. B. BURHANS TESTIFIES AFTER FOUR YEARS.

G. B. Burhans, of Carlisle Center, N. Y., writes: "About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It entirely stopped the brick dust sediment, and pain and symptoms of kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I have never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have elapsed, and I am evidently cured to stay cured, and heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to any one suffering from kidney or bladder trouble." Reunion of War Veterans.

Emory Fisher Post, of Johnstown, is making preparations to hold an immense gathering of veterans of the war, at Luna Park, Johnstown, on August 1st. All old soldiers from Somerset and adjoining counties will be invited to participate. Among the distinguished persons who will be invited to address the former wearers of the blue, are Gen. W. H. Kooztz, of Somerset, Hon. J. D. Hicks, of Altoona; Judge Harry White, of Indiana, Hon. A. W. Barker, of Ebensburg, and M. D. Barnard, of Bedford.

WAS IN POOR HEALTH FOR YEARS.

Ira W. Kelley, of Mansfield, Pa., writes: "I was in poor health for two years, suffering from kidney and bladder trouble, and spent considerable money consulting physicians without obtaining any marked benefit, but was cured by Foley's Kidney Cure, and I desire to add my testimony that it may be the cause of restoring the health of others." Refuse substitutes. Sold by all Druggists. 8-1
