David Tye Dead.

On the 8th inst., Postmaster Naugle of Meyersdale, received the following message:

VINTON, IOWA, July 7, 1907.

To Postmaster, Meyersdale, Pa.
Dave Tye is dead. Find family. Wire orders, our expense.

L. W. LATHAM, Coroner.

Mr. Naugle informs THE STAR that he can find no such family, and asks if we know any people by that name. We do not, but our uncles, Jer. J. and John J. Livengood, say they used to know a man named David Tye, many years ago, who resided in that portion of Summit township known as "Dumb Corner." They do not know, however, what became of him or of the balance of the Tye family. Can anybody else give any information concerning the Tyes?

Richard Sipple Loses House by Fire.

Richard Sipple, who had a snug and commodious two-story frame house in the village of St. Paul, about 2 1/2 miles west of Salisbury, lost it by fire, last Monday.

The blaze started in the kitchen, but how or from what cause, is unknown to any of the family. The fire had made so much headway by the time it was discovered that all efforts to extinguish the flames were futile. However, owing to a favorable wind, nearly all the household goods were saved, except those in the kitchen and in the attic.

Mr. Sipple carried $800 insurance, but that amount will not pay half his loss.

H. G. Lepley's store building, which stands near the site of Sipple's house, was saved by hard work, but the building was badly damaged.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And The Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me to-day for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by Elk Lick Pharmacy. 9-1

Stunned by Lightning in the Mines.

While working in the mines, last Saturday night, Frank Swartzwelder had an experience that he will not soon forget. He was standing with one leg against a mining car, making a wedge to use in setting timber, when the lightning struck the car track somewhere on the outside. The current followed the iron rails into the mines, knocking Frank senseless for a considerable time. After he regained consciousness, he found that he was somewhat burned about one leg and foot, but was not seriously injured.

A horse in the mines was also pretty badly stunned and shaken up. We congratulate Frank on his escape from death, but it was a close call.

WAR AGAINST CONSUMPTION.

All nations are endeavoring to check the ravages of consumption, the "white plague" that claims so many victims each year. Foley's Honey and Tar cures coughs and colds perfectly, and you are in no danger of consumption. Do not risk your health by taking some unknown preparation when Foley's Honey and Tar is safe and certain in results. The genuine is in a yellow package. Sold by all Druggists. 8-1

The Warden and the Liar.

A Colorado man who is visiting in Wellington told H. L. Woods this story: The game warden of Colorado was walking out in the mountains, the other day, when he met a hunter with his gun. The officer suggested that that ought to be a good country for hunting.

"It certainly is," said the hunter, proudly. I killed one of the finest bucks yesterday I ever saw, and he weighed over 200." It was the season when deer may not be shot without subjecting the hunter to a heavy fine. "Well, that is a fine one," said the warden, "and do you know whom you are talking to?"

Being assured that he did not, the officer said:

"Why, I am the chief game warden of Colorado."

The hunter was only taken back a moment when he said:

"And do you know whom you are talking to?" The game warden did not know.

"Well, sir," said the hunter, apparently much relieved, "you are talking to the biggest liar in the whole state of Colorado."—Kansas City Star.

Do you really enjoy what you eat? Does your food taste good? Do you feel hungry and want more? Or do you have a heavy, dull feeling after meals, sour stomach, belching, gas on the stomach, bad breath, indigestion and dyspepsia? If so, you should take a little Kodol after each meal. Kodol will nourish and strengthen your digestive organs and furnish the natural digestive juices for your stomach. It will make you well. It will make your food do you good. Turn your food into good, rich blood. Kodol digests what you eat. Sold by E. H. Miller. 8-1

Patronize Home Merchants.

An exchange, in speaking of building up a town, rightly recommends strictly patronizing home people first, last and all the time, and says that "every person who is interested in the growth and development of the town, every one who is dependent upon the industry of the town for their maintenance, ought to purchase everything in the town which can be obtained there. If merchants do not have the article or the quality you want, there will always be one or more of them who will be glad to obtain it. And what is more, a universal practice of spending money in the town would so improve the stores that they would carry in stock a larger and finer line of goods than is possible in a community where the tendency is to send to a city store for every little want."

But where the home merchant himself boycotts home industries, he should also be boycotted.

BITS OF CONDENSED WISDOM.

From The Bee Hive Supplement.

Lucky is the man who loses his reputation—if it is bad.

It's a sure sign of rain when some one swipes your umbrella.

It takes a man with sand to leave footprints on those of time.

State prisons are filled with people who thought they were clever.

Cultivate pleasant memories; they are a lasting enjoyment.

Success is utter failure if achieved by the sacrifice of moral principle.

The little wheels make the greatest commotion at an obstruction.

The average man has more friends and fewer enemies than he thinks he has.

It's easy to talk philosophically if you are not personally interested.

Watching the other man's patch will not keep the weeds out of your own.

If a man deceive you once, shame on him; if he deceive you twice, shame on you.

The kitten has its eyes open in nine days, but a fool has to wait longer.

Destiny has turned many a man down while he was waiting for something to turn up.

Do not hold your head so high that you cannot see where your feet are going.

The difference between praise and flattery is that the one may be honest—the other never is.

A man who continually questions other people's motives without proof is a man you are justified in distrusting.

If you win it is no certain evidence that you are right; or if you lose—no positive reason you are wrong.

A good resolution should be like a porous plaster—easy to put on, but hard to tear yourself away from.

A good today makes a bright yesterday to think of, and a bright tomorrow to look forward to.

The way of the world is to run into debt and then spend years afterwards slowly creeping out of it.

Uprightness in all our dealings with one another is not a matter of human convenience, but of divine requirement.

A fool can talk without knowing what he ought to say, but a wise man's silence is due to his knowing what he ought not to say.

Our chief comforts often produce our greatest anxieties, and an increase of our possessions is but an inlet to new disquietudes.
