SAFE AND SANE RAILROAD LEGISLATION.

A timely note of warning comes from no less a personage than Ex-President Cleveland touching the popular clamor for regulating the railroad business of the country and the demand for restrictive legislation touching public service corporations. He says:

"There is much of the nature of delirium in the popular outcry against railroad corporations, for instance. We shall all be ashamed of it by and by. I dare say I have some reason to know of the real inequities of corporations, and I do know them; but there is much that is not only groundless, but wrong, in the off-hand attacks made on the railroads by the thoughtless people on all hands. What is well founded in them will be cured, but the craze of denunciation will soon pass.

"We shall reflect that railroads are vitally related to our prosperity, and to attack them needlessly is to attack ourselves. It is not the stock of soulless millionaires, but the property of citizens, of widows, and orphans, whose savings are invested in railroads, that is being damaged. We shall recall what railroads have been and are still to be in the development of our country, and this craze will pass.

"Of course there must be some form of governmental supervision, but it should be planned in a quiet hour, not in one of angry excitement."

The Same Vacant Look.

An old woman was being questioned by a lawyer as to how a testator had looked when he made a remark to her about some relatives. "Now, how can I remember? He's been dead two years," she answered, testily.

"Is your memory so poor that you can't remember two years back?" he persisted.

The old woman was silent, and the lawyer asked: "Did he look anything like me?"

"Seems to me he did have the same sort of vacant look," responded the witness.

The lawyer had no further questions to ask her.

The Billmeyer Lumber Company as Sized Up by the Marine Journal of New York.

The Billmeyer Lumber Company, of Cumberland, Md., which is composed of young men well known in Salisbury, is getting quite an enviable reputation among lumber dealers. The following appeared in a recent issue of the Marine Journal, a paper devoted to the improvement of the Merchant Marine, the Navy, rivers, harbors and kindred interests:

H. D. Billmeyer is the general manager of the Billmeyer Lumber Company, of Cumberland, Md., in which he has associated with him his two brothers, Frank and A. H. Billmeyer. Mr. Billmeyer was born in Pennsylvania, and comes of a long line of ancestors of lumbermen located at various times in Lewisburg, Pa., and Womelsdorf, W. Va. The company now doing business in Cumberland, Md., was organized in 1897, and a considerable boundary of very fine oak timber was purchased and mills constructed thereon, pains being taken to have special facilities for the manufacture of long, heavy oak. The success of the initial venture of these young men was due to close application to their business, so marked that in 1903 they decided to embark in the wholesale lumber trade, as well as in the manufacture of the same, and at present are operating two mills and have probably unequalled facilities for the manufacture of oak for ship, boat and dock purposes.

Through being descended from lumbermen and having filled every position in the business, thus giving them a thorough knowledge of the trade, these young men owe their rapid advance as one of the leading lumber manufacturing firms of the country. For the past four years they have catered especially to the boat and dock trade at this port, and have met with unlimited success, as shown by the fact that they have as customers for oak ship timber some of the largest and most reliable ship-building and repair plants in New York city and along the New England coast, among whom are the Fore River Ship Building Company, James Tregathan, Sons & Co., New Jersey Dry Dock.

"If there is a pitiable sight in the world, it is that of a man with the executive ability, sagacity, and foresight to make a clean fortune, yet using his energies and abilities in making a dirty one,—a fortune which denounces and condemns him, and is a perpetual disgrace to himself and his family.

"The right ought to thunder so loudly in a man's ears, no matter what the business or transaction in which he is engaged, that he can not hear the wrong or baser suggestion.

The highest service you can ever render the world, the greatest thing you can ever do, is to make yourself the largest, completest, and squarest man possible. There is no other fame like that,—no achievement like that."

THE DOCTOR AWAY FROM HOME WHEN MOST NEEDED.

People are often very much disappointed to find their family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like cramp colic and cholera morbus require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proved fatal before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and all risk. Buy it now; it may save life. For sale at Miller's Drug Store. 8-1

Stevens Double Barrel Shotguns.

The supremacy of Stevens rifles has asserted itself so frequently and so impressively for generations past, that it is now universally conceded that these arms are peerless in their unerring accuracy. They are known as the "Bull's Eye Kind."

Of late, Stevens double barrel shotguns have been making rapid strides in popular favor, being moderate in price and excellent gun value in every particular. For trap and field purposes these guns are earning an enviable name for themselves, and their low prices place them within the reach of all shooters. The Stevens are manufactured in both hammer and hammerless styles—guaranteed to give service, satisfaction, and prove a first-rate gun investment.

If you want a good, strong, inexpensive shooter, this fall, ask your local hardware or sporting goods merchant to show you a Stevens double gun. Persist in insisting on this time-honored make. If you cannot obtain, write to the J. Stevens Arms & Tool Co., Chicopee Falls, Mass., and they will ship direct, express prepaid, upon receipt of catalog price.

A 160 page complete illustrated catalog will be mailed to any applicant by above mentioned company, upon receipt of five cents in stamps to cover postage.

Every Little Helps.

A Small Breath.

The late Theodor Tilton, who boasted that he had never had a pipe, cigar or cigarette in his mouth, used to declare that the most inveterate smoker he ever knew was Sojourner Truth, the famous freedwoman reformer and lecturer. He was wont to tell how one day, when the venerable dame, then about 90 years old, was on a visit to his house, she sat smoking her pipe by the chimney corner, when George W. Bungay, the author of several eloquent anti-tobacco tracts, called to see her.

"Aunt Sojourner," he said, "I reverence your character, but I deplore your smoking, for it will keep you forever out of heaven."

"Lawkes, honey, how so?" she asked.

"Because, aunty," he rejoined, "you know that, according to the Good Book, nothing entereth there that defileth. Now, how do you expect to get into heaven with your breath defiled by tobacco?"

"Lawkes, honey," answered the old negress, "when I go to heaven I 'spect to leave my breff behind me!"—New York Tribune.

Were Members of the Same Church.

Bishop Kemper was the victim of a holdup one night when he was the only passenger on a western trip. The driver told the road agent, who had covered him with a six shooter, that his only passenger was a bishop.

"Well," said the robber, "wake up the old man. I gant to go through his pockets."

When the bishop was aroused from a sound slumber and realized the situation, he gently remonstrated with the man behind the gun. He said:

"Surely you were not a poor bishop. I have no money worth your while, and I am engaged in the discharge of my sacred duties."

"Did you say you were a bishop?" asked the road agent.

"Yes, just a poor bishop."

"What church?"

"The Episcopal church."

"The — you are! Why, that's the church I belong to. Driver, you may pass on!"—Selected.

Telling the Truth.

A worthy squire had a cow that always kicked and reared when milked. He decided to get rid of it, and, calling one of his farmhands, told him to take the animal to market.

"Sell the brute," he said, "but mind you, tell no lies. I've been unlucky in my purchase, but that's no reason why I should deceive others."

Two hours later the man returned from market with a larger sum than the squire expected.

"I'm sure you lied about that cow," he said.

"Not a bit of it," replied the man.

"Every time I was asked if she was a good milker I simply said: 'You'll get dead tired of milking before you've got all her milk.' They asked no more questions, so that I didn't volunteer any more answers."—Bon Vivant.

Was It Possible?

A minister who was waiting for a train was beguiling the time by talking to a half-witted boy.

"I say, Jamie," said the minister, "were you ever at school?"

"Yes, sir, sure enough."

"And who had the honor to be your schoolmaster?"

"Maister Black, sir," replied Jamie.

How strange! Why, Mr. Black was my schoolmaster also.

For a moment Jamie was silent, then said, looking straight at the minister: "Mon, who'd ha' thoct old Black could ha' turned out twa like us?"
