

CATARRH

To prove unquestionably, and beyond any doubt that Catarrh of the nose and throat can be cured, I am furnishing patients through druggists, small free Trial Boxes of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. I do this because I am so certain that Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure will bring actual substantial help. Nothing certainly is so convincing as a physical test of any article of real, genuine merit. But this article must possess true merit, else the test will condemn, rather than advance it. Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure is a snow white, healing antiseptic balm, put up in beautiful nickel capped glass jars at 50c. Such soothing agents as OIL EUCALYPTUS, Thymol, Menthol, etc., are incorporated into a velvety cream like Petroleum, imported by Dr. Shoop from Europe. If Catarrh of the nose and throat has extended to the stomach, then by all means also use internally, Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Stomach distress, a lack of general strength, bloating, belching, biliousness, bad taste, etc. surely call for Dr. Shoop's Restorative. For uncomplicated catarrh only of the nose and throat nothing else, however, need be used but

DROPS

TRADE MARK

A PROMPT, EFFECTIVE REMEDY FOR ALL FORMS OF RHEUMATISM

Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Kidney, Gout and Kindred Diseases.

GIVES QUICK RELIEF

Applied externally it affords almost instant relief from pain, while permanent results are being effected by taking it internally, purifying the blood, dissolving the poisonous substance and removing it from the system.

DR. S. D. BLAND

Of Brewton, Ga., writes: "I had been a sufferer for a number of years with Lumbago and Rheumatism in my arms and legs, and tried all the remedies that I could gather from medical works and also consulted with a number of the best physicians, but found nothing that gave me the relief obtained from 'S-DROPS.' I shall prescribe it in my practice for rheumatism and all its kindred diseases."

DR. C. L. GATES

Hancock, Minn., writes: "A little girl here had such a weak back caused by Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble that she could not stand on her feet. The moment they put her down on the floor she would scream with pain. I treated her with 'S-DROPS' and today she runs around as well and happy as can be. I prescribe 'S-DROPS' for my patients and use it in my practice."

FREE

If you are suffering with Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Kidney Trouble or any kindred disease, write to us for a trial bottle of "S-DROPS."

The Sanitary Water Purifier, CALVANIZED Steel Chain Pump

It is the Best Pump on the Market.

Operated over cisterns and wells where depth does not exceed 20 feet. It will not Freeze, Rust or Rot.

It is the most beautiful, strongest and serviceable, and will produce more water. It is entirely sanitary. The water coming up the first tube is into the spout, the over production into the waste box, draining through the center tube. The base is so constructed that the water never splashes through the sides. We have used this pump in the finest homes in the city in kitchens, porches and yards and it has always proven satisfactory. It is Sanitary because it is clean. It purifies the water by the action of the chain which agitates the water, there being enough air ventilation in the pump, when in action, to keep the water pure and tasteless. Ask your dealer to show it to you. Manufactured by EVANSVILLE PUMP & MANFG. CO., EVANSVILLE, INDIANA.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE

Makes Kidneys and Bladder Right

Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar Cures all Coughs, and expels Colds from the system by gently moving the bowels.

Harold—If you buy this elegant fur coat, Philomena, how are we ever going to pay for it?
Philomena—Oh! Harold, don't let us talk about two things at once! Let's talk about the coat.

Teasle—Jack has been coming to see me for nearly three weeks, and he hasn't attempted to kiss me yet.
Jessie—He wasn't nearly so timid when he used to come to see me.

How Gossip Grows.
"Did you hear about Mr. Peasley?"
"No, what is it?"
"He's lost all his money."
"Mercy! How did he lose it?"
"I don't know, but George said he was running a sprinkling cart, and of course he wouldn't do that if he wasn't awfully poor."
"A sprinkling cart?"
"Why, I suppose that's what George meant. He said Mr. Peasley was on the water wagon now." — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Deadbeat's gone in for settlement work.
"Then there's some chance for me to get that ten he owes me."

The Letter of the Law.
A lady went to look at an apartment, and finding that it suited said to the porter: "Well, I'll take the house."
"Have you children, Madam?"
"Yes, two."
"Then I cannot let you have the apartment."
"But my children are grown up, married and live in Turin."
"That makes no difference. My orders were implicit—give the apartment to no one with children."

Blancé—I wonder why the judge deferred the sentence until to-morrow?
Tom—Probably he wants to talk the case over with his wife.

Centennial at Somerfield.
Somersfield, July 22.—This village will be one hundred years old next January, and it is proposed to celebrate the event with some appropriate exercises. Somersfield was a conspicuous place on the national map long before some of the larger towns in Somerset county were thought of. In the prime days of the National Pike many of the country's most eminent men passed through the village, and frequently they stopped at the local tavern for a day, or perhaps longer. General Washington, whom every school boy knows as "the father of his country," passed about ten days in this vicinity.
It was while General Braddock's troops passed through Somerset county in June, 1755, over a route laid out by Washington, that General Washington became ill at Somersfield, and he was forced to remain in camp here. General Washington participated in the battle that marked General Braddock's defeat, though he was so ill that he could scarcely sit in his saddle. Much of his history will be revived when the town celebrates its centennial.

North Carolina Wit.
Some years ago, while the writer was returning from Raleigh, North Carolina, on an excursion train over the Seaboard Air Line, he was accosted by the conductor of the train, one who had evidently spent his youth in keeping away from anything that pertained to education, and who proceeded to unfold the following example of "Down-home" wit:
"I declare some people can ask the most foolish questions I ever see. What do you suppose some woman asked me just now?"
I replied that I was unable to guess, and requested him to enlighten me. He then proceeded to tell his story, which ran as follows:
"While I was passing through a coach just now some woman stopped me and asked me how far we were from Weldon. I replied that we were about fifty-five miles from Weldon. She then asked: 'This side or the other side?'"

"Whistle Your Hat Back"
It isn't safe to deceive children, even in fun. This was shown very plainly at one time by an experience of an Englishman and his son upon a railway journey which they took together. While the little fellow was gazing out of the open window, his father slipped the hat off the boy's head in such a way as to make his son believe that it had fallen out of the window. The boy was very much upset by his supposed loss, when his father consoled him by saying that he would "whistle it back." A little later he whistled, and the hat reappeared. Not long after the little lad seized upon his father's hat, and, flinging it out of the window, shouted: "Now, papa, whistle your hat back again."

His Nerve Was Good.
One of the nurses at the Huron Road Hospital, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer, tells of a sample of wit and pluck that came under her observation there a day or two ago.
An Irish lad was there to undergo an operation, and his mother and sister came in to visit him before he went under the knife. They were wringing their hands and bewailing the fact that he must risk his life on the surgeon's table.
"Aw, stop making such a fuss," he exclaimed suddenly. "I wouldn't go in the way you are if the doctor was to cut off my head and show it to me."
After that they tried to make their talk more cheerful.

Real Co-operation.
A Buffalo physician tells of two young friends in that city who entered simultaneously upon their respective careers of physician and lawyer.
Late one afternoon the newly made medico dashed into the room of his legal friend, exclaiming:
"Great luck, old man; congratulate me! I got a patient at last! On my way to see him now!"
Whereupon the legal light-to-be clapped his friend on the back, saying, "Delighted, old chap!" Then, after a slight pause, he added, with a sly grin: "Say, let me go with you. Perhaps he hasn't made his will!"

TO LAND OWNERS.—We have printed and keep in stock a supply of trespass notices containing extracts from the far-reaching trespass law passed at the 1905 session of the Pennsylvania Legislature. The notices are printed on good cardboard with blank line for signature, and they will last for years in all kinds of weather. Every owner should buy some of them, as the law requires land owners to post their lands if they want the protection of the latest and best trespass law ever passed. Send all orders to THE STAR, Elk Lick, Pa.

The Same Old Fish-in-a-Jug Story.

It is reported that while a number of our fishermen were enjoying an outing along Brush creek, recently, one of the party landed a jug that had been submerged in the stream. It was discovered that the hook had entered the mouth of the vessel and a fish inside had taken the bait. Upon breaking open the jug, a two-pound catfish was found therein. It is supposed the fish had entered the jug when just small enough to squeeze in, and after eating smaller fish within the vessel, it grew too large to escape, and had been compelled to grow up in the bottle. This story does not come from "Bald Headed Bill," but is vouched for as being correct. However, what is puzzling their friends is to know what particular kind of bait was used.—Berlin Record.

The above is practically the same old fish-in-a-jug story that has been appearing in the newspapers from time to time during the last 25 years. Just what particular brand of bait causes fishermen to tell such stories, we can not say, but we feel sure that whatever brand it is, is carried in a jug or bottle and used in liberal quantities, or rather in copious draughts.
