THESE are the days when it is simply impossible to keep a good thermometer down.

DR. DRAKE, of Hollins Institute, says "girls are kissing their lives away." Dr. Drake is an old quack.

PROOF of Mrs. Carrie Nation's daring and foolhardy bravery is no longer needed. She is going to try to reform Pittsburg.

AS LONG as war between this country and Japan is confined to the yellow press of both countries, there is still reason to hope.

ANNA ONE HOUSE has just secured a divorce from Jim One House, her Sioux husband. This is a House divided against itself.

THAT man who called at Oyster Bay and claimed to be the devil, may have merely wanted to ask the President if it is hot enough for him.

"Who is the most discussed man in America?" asks a contemporary. We do not know, but John D. Rockefeller doubtless is the most "cussed."

THE Nebraska Supreme court has decided that "the wife is the boss of the house. In all the other states, the wives have decided that for themselves.

IN one day, recently, the Mayor of Alton, Ill., kissed a thousand babies, and when he got through he was probably just in a mood to start on their big sisters.

"LEARN to shoot straight" is the President's advice to the youth of the land, and he should have backed that up with the caution not to aim an unloaded gun at anybody.

THE Standard Oil Company is reported to be preparing to make war on the Steel trust. In that event, the public will hope to see each combatant get all that is coming to it.

BEFORE the date of the next Republican convention, Mr. Fairbanks can be expected to be charged with everything from striking Billy Patterson to consuming too many cigarettes.

JERSEY CITY people recently protested successfully against a "gospel tent" as a nuisance. When one is trying to escape mosquitoes there, it is an aggravation to be reminded of a hot hereafter.

THE discovery that one Michigan man has held office continuously for fifty years, has created considerable talk, and the consensus of opinion seems to be that if he ever was a Democrat, he managed to conceal the fact.

TOLERANCE should always be cultivated. Because a man does not entertain the same views upon every proposition upon which you have an opinion, does not make him a rascal or a dishonest character. He may be just as honest as yourself, and he may have better information upon the subject than yourself. At least, it is a pretty safe, fair position for you to give the other man the right you claim for yourself—that of holding your own opinion upon all propositions that may be submitted to your judgment.

OKLAHOMA will come into the Union with the most drastic prohibition law ever embodied in a constitution for the government of men. It prohibits not only the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, but does not allow them to be brought into the state.

Oklahoma's interests are almost entirely agricultural, its citizens are mostly farmers, and it is greatly to their credit that they have decided to begin their career under an organic law that refuses to recognize the "divine right" of the hitherto potential despot known as King Alcohol, says the American Farmer.

THE Democrats are charging President Roosevelt with the trouble between North Carolina and the Federal courts that have recently enjoined that state from enforcing a rate law of two and one-fourth cents per mile. This accusation is all nonsense, and the President is not trying to overthrow the sovereignty of any state, and while the Federal Government has recently exercised larger powers than at any time since the Civil war, it has only exercised powers that were dormant (no new departures), and they were exercised only where they were required for the good of the states, and where the states were unable to accomplish the good sought. It can be stated on the best authority, that Mr. Roosevelt is as firm a believer in the rights of the individual states as any American living, and he regrets as much as any one to see a conflict between State and National authority.

WM. D. HAYWOOD, the Secretary-Treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, who had been accused of and tried for complicity in the murder of Frank Steunenberg, a former Governor of Idaho, was acquitted by the jury, last Sunday morning. The commonwealth had a strong chain of evidence against him, but lacked the necessary proof for a verdict of guilty. However, there was enough evidence brought out to show that Harry Orchard, who made a confession implicating himself and the head officers of the Western Federation of Miners—Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone—in the assassination of Steunenberg, were on very intimate terms. That Orchard was a hired tool in the hands of Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone, there was enough evidence, but just what the said officers had Orchard hired for, was not positively proven. People have formed their own opinions, however, and it is a safe assertion to say that there is more suspicion against Haywood now than there was before his trial. The prosecution evidently does not believe Haywood to be innocent, as the intention has been announced to subject his alleged fellow conspirators to a prompt and most thorough trial. Since his acquittal, Haywood will likely stand higher in the Western Federation of Miners than he ever did before, and many of the members of that crime-stained organization will honor him more for believing that he is guilty of the crime he was tried for, than they would if they thought he was actually innocent. And in just such cases is where labor unions always make their mistake. They too often seem to want criminals for officers, and just so their crimes cannot be positively proven, is all they seem to want. Instead of relegating men to the rear in labor's ranks, when they are suspected of high crime, the rank and file usually select them for their head officers, thus losing the confidence, sympathy and good will of the general public for their organizations, and in due time the organizations break down under the weight of their own rottenness and corruption. By certain fool labor unions, Haywood will be idolized. By the general public he will be forever stigmatized, and whether he was implicated in the assassination of Steunenberg or not, enough was proven during his trial to show that he was on intimate terms with Harry Orchard and other desperate criminals, and birds of a feather flock together. President Roosevelt was emphatically right when he classed Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone as undesirable citizens. The country would be well rid of them.

OUR LOBSTER POLICE.

Last Saturday night a little rumpus took place in the private alley at Hay's hotel, in which Charles R. Snyder, of Coal Run, had a hand. We don't know who was to blame in the matter, as each participant has his own story, and the writer did not see the start of it. However, we saw the after concert, when Snyder read Policeman Walker's pedigree to him and defied Walker and his assistant, Charles S. Beal, extra policeman, to even attempt to arrest him. He called Walker some very hard names, and in very vigorous language, but he didn't call him a name that did not fit him.

We do not pretend to say that Snyder did not violate the law, but we do not blame him for refusing to be arrested by a lobster like Walker, and bidding defiance to him. There are lots of fellows who would rather die fighting than to walk to the coop with a skunk of Walker's stripe, and we do not blame them.

If Snyder has to pay a fine, as he doubtless ought to do, the borough ought to refund it to him and give him a nice present besides, for showing up Walker's cowardice the way he did last Saturday night, and telling him just what he amounts to.

It's a great pity the members of the Town Council were not present to see the folly they indulged in when they hired a big monkey to play police, and dressed him up in a suit of blue instead of a suit of green, which would be more appropriate. Walker, however, is not without his redeeming qualities. He is a good cow policeman. The cows take him for a big calf, and they follow him as readily as they would a load of grass of the same quality of green.

COST OF PAUPERISM AND CRIME.

"This country spends $6,000,000,000, annually on the criminal, pauper and vicious classes, and the annual increase of wealth is only $5,000,000,000. Does not that look as if the public were bankrupt?" This statement was made in a lecture by Dr. Charles J. Bushnell, who is conducting a model public playground at Washington, D. C. He is a graduate of Heidelberg University and an authority on civic matters.

Continuing he said: "Why, the $6,000,000,000 that this nation spends every year on its criminal cases equals the amount spent on all churches, public libraries, the Young Men's Christian Association, the Salvation Army, public hospitals, asylums for the insane and all benevolent institutions. The average factory hand earns $440 a year, while it is estimated that the average criminal costs the public at least $1,200 a year.

"Disease as a result of vicious habits is on the increase; suicides are increasing six times as fast as the population, and murders three times as fast; insanity is almost increasing faster than the population. We are maiming and killing in accidents resulting from our industrial enterprises as many persons as were killed in an average year of the civil war, the Philippine war and the Japanese-Russian war combined. In other words, we are practically carrying on these three wars all the time. And these deaths by accidents, due to our fast commercial spirit, are from two to nine times as numerous as similar deaths in Europe, where experts have shown that three-quarters of such accidents are preventable. We are living entirely too fast.

We have 4,000,000 paupers in this country and 10,000,000 persons on the ragged edge of pauperism."
