

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help. If you would have strong hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

THE EDITOR'S SONG.

How dear to my heart is the steady subscriber,
Who pays in advance, without skipping a year;
Who lays down his money, and offers it gladly,
And casts 'round the office a halo of cheer.

Who never says, "Stop it, I cannot afford it!"
Or, "Getting more papers each day than I read;"
But always says, "Send it, the whole outfit likes it—"
In fact, we regard it a business need."

How welcome is he when he steps in the sanctum,
How he makes our heart throb, how he makes "our eye" dance!
We outwardly thank him—we inwardly bless him—
The steady subscriber who pays in advance!

The Boy Who Laid the Blame on the Devil.

The son of a Chicago preacher stole $6. The judge seemed inclined to be severe. The boy's father began to plead for him.

"Judge," he said, "he has always been a good boy. I can't understand it. I'm sure he must have been in the hands of the devil."

But the judge didn't think much of the excuse. He may have had in mind "The Original Excuse," when a man of very early history by the name of Adam laid the blame on a woman called Eve, and Eve promptly transferred it to the devil. The story goes on to say that it didn't do Eve any good. Anyway, the Chicago judge refused to stand for it.

"Young man," he said, "don't you get it into your head that the devil was responsible for your conduct. It was your fault, and not his, so don't shift the blame onto the devil. That's all!"

Then he fined the boy $200.

The judge was Judge Landis. He is the same judge who conducted the investigation of Standard Oil, and who handed such embarrassing questions to John D.

Of course, the father's excuse about the devil was "flub-dub," the same as Eve's was. We wouldn't need to be judges to know that. For all we know, there may be a real, sure-enough personal devil, with horns and tail; but he doesn't take any of us by the back of the neck and force us into badness, unless we are willing.

But the boy got away with $6, and the judge find him $200. That is, the fine was more than 30 times as much as the amount involved.

Proportionately, it's a good, big, lusty fine. It's an emphatic sort of a fine, and says to that boy, "You did wrong, and I rather suspect you realize it. Here's a lesson for you. The $6, dishonest dollars, cost you $200. That is poor business, and don't you forget it!"

Standard Oil didn't say anything about the devil. Perhaps he's one of the stockholders. They ignored him, and Judge Landis imposed a fine of over $29,000,000.—Ex.

HAD AN AWFUL TIME.

BET CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY CURED HIM.

It is with pleasure that I give you this unsolicited testimonial. About a year ago when I had a severe case of measles I got caught out in a hard rain and the measles settled in my stomach and bowels. I had an awful time, and had it not been for the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I could not have possibly lived but a few hours longer, but thanks to this remedy I am now strong and well. I have written the above through simple gratitude and I shall always speak in good word for this remedy.—SAM. H. GWIN, Concord, Ga. For sale at Miller's Drug Store. 9-1

The Board of Commissioners for Somerset county in executive session met, all members being present, and in order to protect the public grounds and buildings of Somerset county, unanimously passed and regularly adopted the following resolution:

And be it further: Resolved that the Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings, and the Court House janitor, be authorized and directed, on and after the 19th day of August, A. D. 1907, excepting Wednesday of each week, and such times as the Courts of Somerset county be in session during the evenings, to close the Court House and all the offices therein at the hour of 6 o'clock p. m., provided that on Wednesdays of each week the buildings and offices shall be closed at 10 o'clock p. m.

THE LIMIT OF LIFE.

The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 and 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by E. H. Miller, Druggist. 50c. 9-1

R. A. L. Dick Disbarred.

Judges Boyd and Keedy Friday last filed their opinion in the Dick disbarment case, and ordered the name of Robert A. L. Dick stricken from the roll of attorneys authorized to practice in the Allegany County Circuit Court. The opinion is quite lengthy, and cites several authorities. Three specifications of the charges against Dick were established. The court went pretty fully into the charge that Dick had failed to return to Mrs. Powers $400 due her after the Grand Jury refused to indict her son for perjury, she having given Dick $500 to use in securing a bond for her son, $100 of which was to be his fee in the case.

The court stated that this charge against Dick was fully proven, and "not only sustained by the evidence, but the testimony of Mr. Dick given in open court in attempting to explain it showed him to be an unfit person to practice law."

In closing the court's opinion, Judge Boyd said: "Disagreeable as it is to be called upon to so act in discharge of the duty imposed upon us, we cannot hesitate to pass an order striking the name of the respondent from the roll of attorneys of this court by reason of the acts proven under specifications numbered first, second and third being established, although we do not feel justified in disbarring the respondent under the evidence in support of the fourth, fifth and sixth charges."

THE SOUTHERN RAILROAD'S SURRENDER.

Rejoice and be glad, for the danger is past. Civil war will not ravage the land. Since the Southern railway has yielded, at last, and abandoned its obstinate stand. In old Alabama And elsewhere, which seemed to increase In its venom intense, Meets its finish, and hence Uncle Sam may rest calmly at ease.

In the recent contention the populace saw The first steps towards a terrible fray, For the state was intent on enforcing the law Which the railroad refused to obey. "No rate regulation By state legislation For us," said the railroaders grim. "From the state you're expelled." There was danger in fooling with him.

Now it happened that North Carolina before Had got into a similar fuss, There a federal judge made the governor sore, And embroiled Uncle Sam in the mess. By a sudden decision, He checked all revision Of rates till the state made it plain That laws ripe for a row. Then they squared things somehow, And the railroaders humbled remain.

Seeing this, the old Southern takes a fresh think And concludes that there's danger indeed Of its getting the swift and complete rinky dink. If it doesn't to warning give heed, And when notice is given That soon 'twill be driven From out Alabama, right there, With a tar in its eye It takes back its deed, And cuts rates with idelity rare.

Thus the war cloud is lifted, and henceforth, no doubt, Every railroad will cheerfully make Any change in its rates that lawmakers map out. And the statutes they never will break. And in case 'tis enacted That payment exacted From travelers henceforward must cease, Will the railroads say nay To the order? Not they! They're bound over and must keep the peace.

—ARTHUR G. BERGOYNE, in Pittsburg Gazette Times.
