Kodol Dyspepsia Cure
Digests what you eat.

Indigestion Causes Catarrh of the Stomach.

For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes catarrh. Repeated attacks of indigestion inflame the mucous membranes lining the stomach and expose the nerves of the stomach, thus causing the glands to secrete mucus instead of the juices of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

relieves all inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the stomach, protects the nerves, and cures bad breath, sour risings, a sense of fullness after eating, indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

Kodol Digests What You Eat

Make the Stomach Sweet.

Bottles only. Regular size, $1.00, holding 3 1/2 times the trial size, which sells for 50 cents.

AN ORDINANCE.

Be it ordained and enacted by the Burgess and Town Council of the Borough of Salisbury, Pennsylvania, and it is hereby ordered by the authority of the same, that an ordinance "Relating to the registration of dogs in said Borough" be amended to read as follows:

SECTION I.—That it shall be unlawful for the owner or owners of any dog or bitch to allow the same to run at large within the limits of said Borough, unless such dog or bitch has a Borough tab attached to its collar and be registered with the Borough Treasurer, annually, on or before the first day of September, and shall pay a fee to said Treasurer for the use of the Borough, one dollar for each dog and two dollars for each bitch owned by him or her.

Upon the receipt of the registration fee, the Treasurer shall deliver the proper tab to be attached to the collar of each and every registered dog or bitch, also a certificate of registration describing the dog or bitch.

Persons coming into the Borough after the first day of September in each year, or who may purchase or bring within the Borough limits and dog or bitch may register the same by applying to the Burgess for a permit and paying the Treasurer the proper fee.

SECTION II.—No shall any dog or bitch known to be cross or of vicious habits, nor any dog or bitch showing signs of rabies, nor any dog or bitch belonging to or harbored by any person in whose house any contagious disease exists, nor any bitch while in heat, be suffered to run at large, whether registered or not.

SECTION III.—Any dog or bitch found running at large contrary to the provisions of this ordinance is hereby declared a public nuisance. It shall be the duty of the police and such other person as the Burgess, with the consent of the Town Council, may appoint for the purpose to kill and remove the same.

SECTION IV.—The Burgess shall in each year provide the proper tabs to carry out the provisions of this ordinance, which tabs he shall, from time to time, as required by the Treasurer, turn over to and charge the Treasurer with the value of the same.

SECTION V.—That any ordinance or part of ordinance conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance, be, and the same is hereby repealed so far as the same affects this ordinance.

Four From the Somerset standard.

Hiram Barron, a well-known Middle-creek township farmer, brought several apples to Somerset last week as specimens of a variety grown on his farm last year. They were of the "Green Ben Davis" variety, and were as well preserved as one would expect to find an apple in the middle of winter.

Harvey Hay, of Braddock, has moved with his family to Somerset, where Mr. Hay is bartender at the Hotel Belmont. Mr. Hay was formerly a Somerset boy, he having been employed as a compositor on the Somerset Democrat a number of years ago. Printers at times get before the bar, but not often behind it; yet it is said that Mr. Hay is an expert in his line.

Mrs. Augustine, wife of Robert Augustine, a county commissioner, is confined to her home at Somersfield by a severe attack of typhoid fever. Mrs. Augustine accompanied her husband to Somerset last week for a few days' rest, and she became ill shortly after her return home. Mr. Augustine did not attend the weekly meeting of the County Commissioners this week.

Capt. W. M. Schrock, of Somerset borough, came across an old militia roll the other day which contained the roster and ages of the members of a military company maintained in Somerset county in 1833. His father, A. Schrock, was captain of the company, which was known as the Ninth Company. There were seventy-six men enrolled, and their ages ranged from nineteen years to forty-four years. No member of the company is living. The officers of the organization were, Captain, A. Schrock; Lieutenants, John S. Griffith and Peter Wetzel; Sergeants, Jost Schrock, Jacob D. Miller, Peter Braucher, and Joseph Schrock; Corporals, David Tressler, Adam Ringer, and Jacob Ringer. At the time the above organization was in existence, Captain Schrock lived at Summit Mills, and it is probable that the members of his organization were all from the southern part of the county.

HAD AN AWFUL TIME.

BET CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY CURED HIM.

It is with pleasure that I give you this unsolicited testimonial. About a year ago, when I had a severe case of measles I got caught out in a hard rain and the measles settled in my stomach and bowels. I had an awful time, and had it not been for the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I could not have possibly lived but a few hours longer, but thanks to this remedy I am now strong and well. I have written the above through simple gratitude and I shall always speak a good word for this remedy.—SAM. H. GWIN, Concord, Ga. For sale at Miller's Drug Store. 9-1

Beating Two-cent Fare Law.

The present method of selling railroad tickets to points in West Virginia is not at all satisfactory to the public. Tickets to points in West Virginia will be sold purchasers at local stations, but the straight three cents per mile charge will be made, unless the purchaser makes a stand for the two-cent rate now in force in West Virginia. Then there is more trouble for the purchaser. He will get a ticket to the nearest Pennsylvania station, at the regular rate, and if he wants to go further into the state of West Virginia, he can pay cash fare at the rate of two cents a mile the balance of the way. It is impossible to have baggage checked through to West Virginia points and expect to get advantage of the two-cent rate prevailing there.

In order to get the thing in shape to keep from being annoyed with having baggage delayed, it is necessary to purchase a ticket all the way through to destination and pay the regular Pennsylvania rate of three cents a mile. Purchasers of tickets are not told anything about a two-cent rate being applicable in West Virginia, and if they expect to get it they must tell the ticket seller that they are abreast of the times and read the papers, so they are fully and freely aware of what is happening in the inner circles of the great railway corporations. It is a remarkable fact that many ticket sellers throughout the state, although not receiving salaries as great a Congressmen and United States Senators, appear to feel as though they are giving something away when they sell tickets at the rate of two cents per mile.—Connellsville Courier.

Likes a Paper that Hews to the Line.

Our friend E. C. Shumaker, of Meyersdale, proprietor of the well known Shumaker family medicines, in a letter to THE STAR, says:

"I consider THE STAR a good paper—a paper that is not afraid to hew up to the line when it knows it is right."

Right you are, Edward. THE STAR is just like your popular medicines—goes right to the spot and does the required good.

ELECTRIC BITTERS
THE BEST FOR BILIOUSNESS AND KIDNEYS.

The Cossacks; What They Are For.

For some time after the establishment of the State Constables, the Democratic organs of Pennsylvania inquired persistently and sarcastically what they were for, anyhow; and many of the organs denounced them in unmeasured terms as being foes to labor, instruments of oppression, Cossacks of Czar Pennypacker.

All this was cheap political palaver. It went on until the Constabulary had perfected an organization and opportunities were presented to try its abilities and usefulness. The trials were decisive and gratifying to every man who loves his country, respects its institutions, upholds law and order and desires protection in his person and property from the lawless and vicious elements of society.

The Cossacks have been with us, and during their stay they have won the respect and approval of all classes of our people, including the locked-out mill men whose law-abiding conduct they were sent here to verify and preserve.

They are running down and bringing to punishment the secret and deadly Black Hand society which has for some months past terrorized sections of Lawrence county.

There is work for them in the Lower Connellsville coke region, where peace and order have not always prevailed, especially over Sunday, where murder has run riot and where a nest of counterfeiters has just been unearthed.

The Democratic organs are so well answered that we hear no more about the Cossacks, but even from Democratic sources comes warm commendation of their conduct and hearty approval of their work.—Connellsville Courier.

THE LIMIT OF LIFE.

The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 and 80; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by E. H. Miller, Druggist. 50c. 9-1

Does Not Want to Miss a Single Copy of The Star.

Prof. E. J. Egan, of Union Bridge, Md., writes as follows:

DEAR SIR:—I failed to get my copy of THE STAR for August 5th. I do not like to miss a single copy; neither do I wish to impose on good nature; but if you have an extra copy of said date, and can send it to me without inconvenience to yourself, I shall not only read it with unusual delight, but with a deep sense of gratitude to you as well.

I regret to hear that you are involved in a case of litigation, but rejoice in the fact that a good man can not be kept down.

Trusting that the effulgence of the "Twinkler" may not be eclipsed for a moment, I am very sincerely,

E. J. EGAN.

WHAT A NEW JERSEY EDITOR SAYS.

Won't Stay Elected.

The school directors of Somerset and Fayette counties are passing through an experience that is very awkward, and anything but pleasant. Their trouble is that when they elect teachers for the schools, some of these teachers do not stay hired. This class of pedagogues use their election to an assured position as an anchor to leeward, and feel safe in casting about to try and find more remunerative positions. If they succeed in getting elected as a teacher in some other town at a higher salary, they coolly and calmly decline the board that first elected them, and go on their way feeling that they have shown great business sagacity.

Instances are numerous in Somerset and Fayette counties of cases like this. It is entirely wrong, and like all wrongs, must be righted. These bountiful jumpers must be brought up short, and shown that contracts made in good faith on the part of school directors are binding also on the applying teacher. If when hiring teachers, the directors would require each applicant for a school to provide with their application and certificate a bond for $500 as a guarantee that if elected to a position as teacher in the school, they would live up to their agreement or forfeit the bond, it would serve to hold this class of teachers in line. It might seem to be unjust to require this bond from all applicants for schools, but as things are now, the directors have no means of knowing where or when the lightning is going to strike.—Turkey foot News.
