

CATARRH

To prove unquestionably, and beyond any doubt that Catarrh of the nose and throat can be cured, I am furnishing patients through druggists, small free Trial Boxes of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. I do this because I am so certain, that Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure will bring actual substantial relief. Nothing certainly, is so convincing as a physical test of any article of real, genuine merit. But that article must possess true merit, else the test will condemn, rather than advance it. Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure is a snow white, healing antiseptic balm, put up in beautiful nickel capped glass jars at 50c. Such soothing agents as Oil Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, etc., are incorporated into a velvety cream like Petroleum, imported by Dr. Shoop from Europe. If Catarrh of the nose and throat has extended to the stomach, then by all means also use internally, Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Stomach distress, a lack of general strength, bloating, belching, burping, bad taste, etc., surely call for Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

ELK LICK PHARMACY.

A PROMPT, EFFECTIVE REMEDY FOR ALL FORMS OF RHEUMATISM
Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Kidney Trouble and Kindred Diseases.

GIVES QUICK RELIEF
Applied externally it affords almost instant relief from pain, while permanent results are being effected by taking it internally, purifying the blood, dissolving the poisonous substance and removing it from the system.

DR. S. D. BLAND
Of Breton, Ga., writes:
"I had been a sufferer for a number of years with Lumbago and Rheumatism in my arms and legs, and tried all the remedies that I could gather from medical works, and also consulted with a number of the best physicians, but got nothing that gave the relief obtained from '5-DROPS'. I shall therefore use it in my practice for rheumatism and kindred diseases."

DR. C. L. GATES
Hancock, Minn., writes:
"A little girl here had such a weak back caused by Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble that she could not stand on her feet. The moment they put her down on the floor she would scream with pain. I treated her with '5-DROPS' and today she runs around as well and happy as can be. I prescribe '5-DROPS' for my patients and use it in my practice."

FREE
If you are suffering with Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Kidney Trouble or any kindred disease, write to us for a trial bottle of '5-DROPS'.

PURELY VEGETABLE
'5-DROPS' is entirely free from opium, cocaine, morphine, alcohol, laudanum, and other similar ingredients.

Only Two Dollars.
Ad exchange says:—
A noted murder trial has just closed which has lasted for weeks. The lawyers have been paid thousands of dollars, the judge has received a large salary, individual witnesses have been paid thousands and thousands of dollars. The entire civilized world has been discussing the points of law and probable outcome, legal lore has been ransacked to the ends of earth for which money was paid out as freely as water. After all of this tremendous outlay of money and combination of brain power, the entire matter was submitted for final decision to twelve men who were paid two dollars per day, a salary not equal to the amount paid to a common, ignorant, vicious unaturalized foreigner, digging in a New York sewer.

If the jury system is a necessity, which we do not admit, can any man reasonably object to their being paid ten to fifteen dollars per day. It is disgraceful to force men to come in and decide great law questions, which cannot be trusted to legally educated judges, and then pay them less than street workers earn.

In the case mentioned one jurymen lost his business because the law swooped down on him and compelled him to work for weeks at two dollars a day, and entirely neglect his own business, and yet we call this a free country. The great eastern state should be compelled to restore to this jurymen the business he lost.

While you are on a jury, deciding great legal questions, you earn a paltry two dollars per day, while an average lawyer who fans the air of the court room with arms and tongue, receives fifty to five hundred dollars per day for his breezy efforts. If the jury system must be perpetuated, let laws be passed paying jurymen a decent amount for their services.

LAME BACK.
This is an ailment for which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has proven especially valuable. In almost every instance it affords prompt and permanent relief. Mr. Luke LaGrange of Orange, Mich., says of it: After using a plaster and other remedies for three weeks for a lame back, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and two applications effected a cure. For sale at E. H. Miller's Drug Store.

Schwab Tells How to Win a Husband.
LEARN.
To Cook a Perfect Meal.
To Sew. To Sweep.
To Wash Dishes.
To Replace Shirt Buttons.
To Make Beds.
To Soothe Man's Troubled Brev.

Don't study Latin, but study cooking.
Don't cry for a career. Men do not love brilliant women.
Don't adopt a business or professional life. Man's love is won by the quiet woman who can cook and darn and sew.
Don't study Greek and Latin, sculpture and music and the higher arts and sciences. A study of domestic science will win a husband when everything else fails.
Don't cultivate aggressive qualities. Gentleness is the most essential of all traits in woman.
Don't despise cooking, sweeping, sewing and the homely accomplishments. They are the proudest any woman can boast.
If you would really impress a man don't talk Ibsen and Maeterlinck or ask him if he prefers Beethoven to Brahms. Tell him instead that you can broil a beefsteak, make prime coffee and darn socks to perfection.

A Clever Pastor.
A congregation in Connecticut had lost their pastor. Their last minister had been self taught, and the deacons stipulated that the new minister should have a classical education.

They agreed to let applicants preach a sermon on trial. A Welshman asked for a trial, and on the appointed day the candidate mounted into the pulpit. He got well on in his sermon, when he suddenly recollected that he was expected to show his learning.

"My friends," he said, "I will now quote you a passage in Greek."

With a solemn look he repeated a verse in his native tongue. Approving nods and smiles were exchanged among the deacons. Thus encouraged, he followed up his advantage by saying, "Perhaps you would like to hear it in Latin."

He then repeated another passage in Welsh. This was even more successful than before.

Unfortunately there was also a Welshman in the congregation. He sat at the back and almost choked in his efforts to stifle his laughter. The minister's eye fell on him, and he took in the situation at a glance. "I will also repeat it in Hebrew."

He then sang out in his broadest Welsh, "My dear fellow, stop laughing or they will find it out."

The other understood, stifled his laughter and afterward dined with his successful countryman.

The Locomotive Engineer.
Probably most persons who have traveled at night by rail have had their thoughts turned to him who, standing with hand upon the throttle-lever of the engine, watches between them and death. Often, when the night has been black and boisterous with angry storms, or cold and desolate in mid-winter, we have lain down in our snug berth listening to the clatter of the swiftly-moving train with a sense of security, because we knew there was one standing in the cab watching with vigilant eye against danger. There he is, gazing out along the track, conscious that hundreds of lives are entrusted to his care; that these hundreds of sleeping passengers are resting calmly in the conviction that he will not fail in duty.

They are all strangers to him. At the stations while the train waits for passengers to take their meals, none of them think it worth their while to speak to him. They are going—some where. They are—who knows even their names? The conductor, the brakemen, and the porters are brought more or less in contact with them, and they learn something of each other; there is a little mutual fellowship, at least. But the engine-driver stands apart. His face is begrimed with soot, his clothes soiled with grease, and his hands hard and unseemly. On the road, after a long night of travel, he is not an object of prepossessing appearance. And yet this man, through all that night, has had the guardianship of hundreds of lives and faithfully performed his work. Sober, cool, and vigilant, he has brought his charge to the end of the journey in safety. The travelers scatter to their homes or pass on to other scenes, praising the railroad company for the admirable system of their road and the comfortable accommodations afforded, while perhaps none give a thought to the engineer, whose faithfulness guarded them from accident and death.

There are obligations between man and man which cannot be compensated by dollars and cents. Let the pay be just and liberal; but let there be likewise a remembrance that he has risked his life for us, and a prayer for the benediction of God upon him.

Duties of Officers and Officials.
Many officials who are elected to office to enforce the laws, shirk their duty. They think they have no business to enforce the laws unless the public furnish the evidence. They consider themselves mere machines, not active agents of the law. If a law is broken it is all right so long as no citizen comes forward and gives the officer the evidence of the violation. This is the attitude often taken by officers of the commonwealth and by the officials of less power in our municipalities. There is no reason why it is necessary or should be necessary for the organization of Sunday observance leagues or of any agency for the suppression of vice. The officers of the law who are elected to enforce the law should do their duty. The people elect them for that purpose. They take the oath of office, promising to carry out the duties of their office. Whenever an officer of the law, knowing of violations of the law, refuses to do his duty, he is no longer fit for the place. His declaration that private citizens should furnish the evidence and bring the information is no excuse for his neglecting his duty. He is the sworn officer of the law, the one whom the people expect to look after their interests, to protect their lives and property and to uphold every law which is on the statute books. We have too many officials who either have not the moral backbone to enforce the laws or willfully enter to the lawless element—Washington Observer.

The Home Doctor.
Half a teaspoonful of salt dissolved in a half glassful of cold water will give instant relief in case of heartburn.

Many cases of indigestion, headache, neuralgia, cold hands and feet, can be quickly cured by drinking slowly one or two pints of water so hot that it almost burns the throat.

To inhale steam from a bowl of boiling water is very good for a sore throat. The sufferer should lean over the steam, drawing it in both throat and nostrils.

People with poor digestion should drink no water with meals, but take a glassful half an hour before and drink plentifully an hour or so after each meal.

Warts may be entirely removed by washing the hands two or three times a day with the water in which potatoes have been boiled, or by potting the wart several times with potato water.

The growth of girls is greatest in their fifteenth year, of boys in their seventeenth.

Before applying a mustard plaster, lightly grease the skin; this will prevent a blister.

Cocoon oil brushed over the eyebrows will promote their growth and give them a glossy appearance.

To relieve the pain of a badly pinched or bruised finger, plunge it immediately into very hot water.

Bilious headache has been known to yield to a cup of hot water to which has been added a generous pinch of cayenne pepper and a nip of soda as big as a pea.

THE FISH THAT GET AWAY.
I've fished in the old Ohio.
When a freckled, barefoot boy,
Pulled "cats" from the hole
With a hickory pole
And carried them home with joy;
But among the cats, both large and small,
That I hooked in my oy-gone day,
The cat that I wanted most of all
Was the one that got away.

I've tossed the lively shiner,
-With rod of supple stell,
Where lie the bass
By the floating grass,
And brought them in with the reel;
But of all the bass I ever caught,
None was so large and fine,
None sent the blood through my veins
so hot.
As the bass that broke my line.

I've waded the clear, cold Northern streams
And cast for the speckled trout;
Have found the fly
That took their eye.
And lured the beauties out;
But of all the trout that ever rise
From many a teeming brook,
None loom so large in memory's eyes
As the ones that slip the hook.

So runs the world; our wisest words
Are the words we fail to speak;
The sweetest kiss
Is the one we miss;
The sweetest grapes we seek Hang just too high; and we long and look,
And sigh as we sadly say—
The best of the fish come to our hook
Are the fish that get away.
—W. H. Johnson, in the Century.

Geography to Date.
Colombia is ten times as large as New York state; as long from north to south as from St. Paul to New Orleans. Its coast-line is equal in distance from New York to Chicago. It has produced over $600,000,000 worth of gold.

Ecuador is larger than Texas. Its capital, Quito, is 1,000 feet higher than Mt. St. Bernard, and has 50,000 population.

Chili is the narrowest (in proportion to its length) country in the world. It has a coast-line that would reach from New York to Salt Lake. Its width is about from New York to Philadelphia. A railroad crosses the Andes at 12,340 feet and cuts down the time between Santiago and Buenos Ayres 16 days.

Streetcar fares are one cent in Chili. American plows, threshers and reapers cover the fields of Argentine.

The Chilean coal mines are under the Pacific Ocean.

Argentine Republic is larger than United States east of the Mississippi; 12 times larger than England. Every third man there is a foreigner. Pullman cars cross it in 24 hours.

Buenos Ayres is said to increase in population 100,000 a year. Its present population is upwards of two millions. It is the largest Spanish-speaking city in the world, and half again as large as Madrid.

Uruguay, the smallest of South American republics, is as large as Missouri.

Rio de Janeiro has the finest harbor in the world. It is one of the oldest cities of our hemisphere. It is the largest Portuguese-speaking city in the world. There are more people in Rio de Janeiro than in all Portugal.

The Valley of the Amazon is as wide as from New York to Ogden, Utah. The fall of the river in 2,000 miles is not over 200 feet—Lycumite.

THE TOUCH THAT HEALS
Is the touch of Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's the happiest combination of Arnica flowers and healing balsams ever compounded. No matter how old the sore or ulcer is, this Salve will cure it. For burns, scalds, cuts, wounds or piles, it has no equal. Guaranteed by E. H. Miller, druggist. 25c. 10-1

Hot Drinks for Thirst.
It is a mistake to suppose that cold drinks are necessary to relieve thirst. Very cold drinks, as a rule, increase the feverish condition of the mouth and stomach, and so create thirst. Experience shows it to be a fact that hot drinks relieve the thirst and "cool off" the body when it is in an abnormally heated condition better than ice-cold drinks. It is far better and safer to avoid the use of drinks below sixty degrees. In fact, a higher temperature is to be preferred; and those who are much troubled with thirst will do well to try the advantages to be derived from hot drinks, instead of cold fluids to which they have been accustomed. Hot drinks also have the advantage of aiding digestion, instead of causing debility of the stomach and bowels.

The long-continued use of alkalis has a tendency to destroy the blood and irritate the kidneys.
