MIX IT.

Says Many Persons Here Can Be Made Happy Again By Using This.

There is so much Rheumatism here in our neighborhood now that the following advice by an eminent authority, who writes for readers of a large Eastern daily paper, will be highly appreciated by those who suffer:

Get from any good pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon, three ounces of Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Shake these well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime; also drink plenty of good water.

It is claimed that there are few victims of this dread and torturous disease who will fail to find ready relief in this simple home-made mixture, and in most cases a permanent cure is the result.

This simple recipe is said to strengthen and cleanse the eliminative tissues of the Kidneys so that they can filter and strain from the blood and system the poisons, acids and waste matter, which cause not only Rheumatism, but numerous other diseases. Every man or woman here who feels that their kidneys are not healthy and active, or who suffers from any urinary trouble whatever, should not hesitate to make up this mixture, as it is certain to do much good, and may save you from much misery and suffering after while.

Our home druggists say they will either supply the ingredients or mix the prescription ready to take if our readers ask them.

NOTE the whole Republican ticket at next Tuesday's election. It will never do to give the common enemy any comfort or encouragement on the eve of a Presidential election. Be sure to go to the polls and vote.

THE appeal of Governor Stuart to the Republicans of the state to give John O. Sheatz their united support for State Treasurer should not be permitted to pass unheeded. He said: "It is important that Pennsylvania shall elect its Republican ticket, this fall, because of the effect on next year's contest for the Presidency."

WHY should any Republicans be disloyal at this time? Never in the history of the party was there a brighter outlook for a domination in the Republican party of the best ideas and the best men. Never has there existed a more robust sentiment in favor of honesty and fairness in the conduct of party affairs, or of state or county affairs. Housecleaning has been carried on with marvelous success, and with a growing sentiment of approval.

In this connection (the Democratic campaign scheme to mislead old soldiers against the Republican candidate for State Treasurer) it is interesting to recall that on May 24th last, at a meeting of the Grand Army Association of Philadelphia and vicinity, representing forty-two Posts with a membership exceeding 4,500 old soldiers, sailors and marines, a resolution was adopted without a dissenting vote, thanking the Hon. John O. Sheatz for his earnest zeal in staunchly advocating the enactment of a State pension law, says the Philadelphia Inquirer.

In John O. Sheatz the Republican party has presented a good candidate on his own record. He has acquitted himself honorably in the legislative hall. His conduct as a lawmaker was not more exemplary than his actions as a man. There can be no misgivings if he is elected. The herculean task of purifying its own house not only commands the respect of the state, but commands the respect of the nation. It required the nerve of a party honest at heart to accomplish it. The last card in that reform movement is about to be played in the trial of the alleged grafters who figured in the construction of the State Capitol.

BOWLING NEWS.

Salisbury Defeats Somerset and is In Turn Defeated by Meyersdale.

Last Thursday night the Salisbury Bowling Club met and defeated the Somerset aggregation on the Meyersdale alleys. Salisbury took all three games in the contest, defeating Somerset by a score of 1867 to 1726. This, too, in the face of the fact that the Somersets played the baby act and resorted to unfairness from the very start. Knowing that Salisbury had already been victorious in contests with Berlin and Meyersdale, the Somersets very babylike refused to play Salisbury unless Joe McCulloch, a man not a member of their club, was permitted to roll on their side. After some wrangling, the Salisbury club allowed the baby aggregation from Somerset to have its way, which should not have been done, for it was only an inducement for that gang to resort further to unfair and cowardly tactics. In the last game the Somersets again refused to play unless they were permitted to put two fresh men into the game, which was strictly contrary to bowling game rules, except in cases where players are taken sick or become disabled. Somerset had no disabled men, and none of them were sick; yet they were again permitted to have their way. Unfair as the contest was, the Salisbury bowlers demonstrated their ability to easily down Somerset.

On Tuesday night of this week, Salisbury played a "loaded" Meyersdale club on the Meyersdale alleys, the result being a very unfair and insignificant victory for Meyersdale, which was won by a score of 2026 to 1940, Salisbury losing two out of the three games in the contest.

The Meyersdale club played the baby act and refused to roll until they were permitted to "load up" with two good bowlers who are not members of their club. They should not have been permitted to resort to anything so unfair and unmanly, but that is Meyersdale's style, every time, when it comes to any kind of a gaming contest. But even as it was, their victory was very small and insignificant when compared to the big victory the Salisbury club won over them, a couple of weeks ago, when they played on the Salisbury alleys.

We are proud to say that our home club has thus far played a square game, having at no time "loaded up" with outside players, as all the other clubs in the league have done. If another series of prize contests is arranged for, each club should be required to publish the names of its members, and then be prohibited from "loading up" with outsiders. If the league games are not played according to the rules governing the same, then they become a mere farce and a piece of rascality, utterly unworthy of notice by the public press and the public in general.

WHEN A MAN TELLS YOU it does not pay to advertise, he is simply admitting that he is conducting a business that is not worth advertising, a business conducted by a man unfit to do business, and a business which should be advertised for sale.

STREET CARS AT LAST.

The P. & M. Street Railway Company Runs First Car Last Monday—Regular Traffic Over the Road About to be Established.

The Railroad Crossings Put in Last Night in Spite of B. & O. Opposition, Many People Participating in the Fun.

Just as we are about to go to press we pause long enough to write a short sketch of the interesting things, which happened in trolley circles during the past few days, and especially last night, when the railroad crossings were put in and the first car run to Meyersdale.

The first car was run over the road last Monday afternoon, when three or four trips were made from Boynton to Salisbury. Thus did the good people of Salisbury and Boynton have the satisfaction of having the trolley car before Meyersdale could boast of it. But Meyersdale has been behind Salisbury in more modern things than one. Salisbury even had a newspaper before Meyersdale could boast of one, and in numerous other respects Salisbury has set the pace for the once proud metropolis which even in size has to knuckle under to Windber.

And we also point with pride to the fact that Salisbury and Elk Lick capital and brains figure in the construction and operation of the Pennsylvania & Maryland Street Railway, while Meyersdale furnished only wind. However, we are nevertheless happy to know that both towns now have the trolley, and we believe that it will greatly benefit both places.

Furthermore, we predict that within five years people will be able to step aboard trolley cars at Cumberland, Md., and ride to Salisbury, Meyersdale, Garrett, Berlin, Somerset and other places, possibly even to Pittsburg.

There was considerable fun, last night, when the P. & M. company put in its crossings in three places on the Salisbury branch of the B. & O. railroad. When the good work was nearly completed, Mr. Foley, the Division Road Master of the B. & O., appeared on the scene with the gravel train and some colored employes, and they attempted to pull the crossings out. But the attempt availed them nothing, for they could not cope with the large crowd of people who had assembled to assist the trolley people with all the force at their command, if necessary.

The Salisbury and Elk Lick constables and many deputies were also there, and Mr. Foley was soon arrested and hustled off to Salisbury to give bond for his appearance at court. His African assistants tamely submitted to all that the trolley crowd required of them, but if they had been as stubborn and determined as Mr. Foley was, the whole B. & O. crowd would have been soundly pommelled and thrown into the river to cool off. About 200 determined men were present to assist the trolley people, and what they would have done to the B. & O. hirelings if a battle had resulted, would have filled a bloody page of Somerset county history.

About four o'clock this morning the first car rolled into Meyersdale, and the sleepy citizens were roused from their slumbers and joyfully poked their heads out of windows and cheered lustily. They were taken by complete surprise, and one man in his eagerness to get his window blind up quickly, tore the blind down and exposed himself and his wife without their full share of clothes.

The road will be in regular operation soon, and ballasting and all other unfinished details will be pushed to completion with all possible speed.

Free Advertising.

"Turn the wrapper the other side out," said a lady to a dry goods store clerk, the other day, as he was putting up her purchase in a printed wrapping paper. "I don't want to be a walking advertisement for your store. I read the newspapers as all intelligent people do, and I think that is the way to advertise your business. Instead of asking your customers to carry your sign around with every purchase of goods, go and tell the people through the papers what you have to sell, and how you sell it."
