Philadelphia, Oct. 29. Predictions of a sweeping victory for the Republican party in Pennsylvania at next Tuesday's election are all based upon reports from the various counties that the rank and file of the organization is going to get out a large percentage of the Republican vote. Much will depend, hewever, upon the getter. While he has none of the gifts of the trained orator with which to electrify an audience, he possesses to a remarkable degree an ability to activity of the party vigilantes, and warning messages are being sent out from Philadelphia headquarters to impress everyone who hears him with his absolute sincerity of purpose and leave nothing undone to get Republicans to the polls. While former independents are procourage to carry out every pledge

With all the charges indulged in during the previous campaign regarding favoritism shown finan-eial institutions that have gone upon the bond of the state treasurer, in the form of heavy densities of test claiming their loyalty to the Republican nominee, the party leaders appre-ciate the danger that lurks in the feeling of security that exists among Republican committeemen. They realize that the Democrats are looking forward confidently to next year's nafunds and security against unexpected withdrawals of such moneys, the voters of Pennsylvania must receive with gratification a declaration from Mr. Sheats upon this subject. A Popular Fledge. Said Mr. Sheatz: "As a piece of information to the people of Pennsylvania, I wish to say that if I am elected treas-urer of this great state when the tional election and are going to poll a big vote to encourage the members of their party to line up for the coming presidential contest. No State "Issues" This Year.

There have been absolutely no state "issues" developed by the present cam-paign in Pennsylvania.

Governor Stuart's administration, following the action of the Republican majority in the legislature, brought about indictments in the state capitol cases and removed that issue from the political canvass, and the record of John O. Sheatz in public and private life prevented criticism of the Republi-can candidate from the outset of the campaign.

Upon every hand, however, the political contest in this state has been regarded as the skirmish of next year's presidential battle, and Republicans familiar with the situation are concerned regarding the result of the bal-

They must go to the polls and register their continued adherence to the principles and policies of the party, and by so doing emphasize the sentiment of their great emphasize the sentimest of the grave of the state in favor of the party of progress and prosperity. The Democrats are going to put their best efforts into the work of getting their men out to vote, and in order that they may record one of their old-time ringing majorities, the Republicans must be wideawake and active from the hour of the opening of the polls until the last ballot shall be deposited. They must take nothing for granted, but act upon the principle that a battle is never won until it is over and the enemy is capdustrial state in the Union, and Democratic triumph, which a reduced Republican majority would mean, would be disastrous to wage earners and capitalists alike.

HOW TO CURE A OOLD.

The question of how to cure a cold without unnecessary loss of time is one in which we are all more or less interested, for the quicker a cold is gotter rid of the less the danger of pneumonis and other serious diseases. Mr. B. W L. Hall, of Waverly, Va., has used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for years and says: "I firmly believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be absolutely the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recommendd it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale at Miller's Drug Store.

EDISON'S LATEST IDEA.

To Build a Three-Story Fire Proof House in Twelve Hours.

If Thomas A. Edison's latest concep tion is realized, the problem of housing the people will soon be solved. What is more, not a foot of lumber will be required. To prove his claim, a model of a three-story building to be constructed according to the inventor's plans was recently shown to members of the American Electro-Chemical society.

According to Mr. Edison, the houses in the future will be cast from iron moulds in one solid piece, including stairs and bathtub. It will be fireproof and indestructable, and from one set o moulds an indefinite number of exactly identical houses can be made. And for tion he intends to restrict the use of bility, who will agree to follow the

when the amount was $10,000,000. When the legislature met this year Mr. Sheatz was among the potential factors in a movement to provide even more liberally for the schools and with the hearty co-operation of the influen-tial leaders of the Republican party this agitation was a fruitful one. The sum of $4,000,000 was added to the state school fund, raising the grand total to the unprecedented appropriation of $15,000,000 for the next two years.

88 was $2,000,000; for 1889-90 it was $4,000,000, and for each two years from

The money included in the state appropriation to the schools is allotted to the different counties in proportion to the number of children of school age, each county receiving its pro rata share. In nearly all of the counties the amount received from the state has proved amply sufficient to meet all of the requirements of the public schools, so that in such cases it is not necessary to apply any of the money received from local taxation. "I want to see the day," said Mr.

"I want to see the day," said ant. Sheatz a few nights ago, "when the state will provide every penny of the money needed for educational pur-poses. The aim of the Republican party has been in that direction, and I know that the continued success of Republicanism in Pennsylvania means the accomplishment of that end.
