THE VERMIN IN THE DARK.

In storied Venice, down whose rippling streets The stars go hurrying, and the white moon beats. Stood the great Bell Tower, fronting seas and skies— Fronting the ages, drawing all men's eyes: Rooted like Teneriffe, aloft and proud, Taunting the lightning, tearing the flying cloud. It marked the hours for Venice; all men said Time cannot reach to blow that lofty head; Time that shall touch all else with ruin, must Forbear to make this shaft confess its dust. Yet all the while, in secret, without sound, The fat worms gnawed the timbers underground. The twisting worm, whose epoch is an hour, Caverned its way into the mighty tower; And suddenly it shook, it swayed, it broke, And fell in darkening thunder at one stroke. The strong shaft, with an angel on the crown, Fell ruining; a thousand years went down! And so I fear, my country, not the hand That shall hurl night and whirlwind on the land; I fear not Titan Traitors, who shall rise To stride like Broken shadows on our skies; These we can face in open fight, with-stand With reddening rampart and the sworded hand. I fear the vermin that shall undermine senate and citadel and school and shrine— The Worm of Greed, the fatted Worm of Ease, And all the crawling progeny of these— The vermin that shall honeycomb the towers And walls of state, in unsuspecting hours. —Edwin Markham.
