WORST FORMS.

Tells How To Prepare a Simple Mixture To Overcome Dread Disease.

To relieve the worst forms of Rheumatism, take a teaspoonful of the following mixture after each meal and at bedtime:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

These harmless ingredients can be obtained from our home druggists, and are easily mixed by shaking them well in a bottle. Relief is generally felt from the first few doses.

This prescription, states a well-known authority in a Cleveland morning paper, forces the clogged-up, inactive kidneys to filter and strain from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid, which causes Rheumatism.

As Rheumatism is not only the most painful and torturous disease, but dangerous to life, this simple recipe will no doubt be greatly valued by many sufferers here at home, who should at once prepare the mixture to get this relief.

It is said that a person who would take this prescription regularly, a dose or two daily, or even a few times a week, would never have serious Kidney or Urinary disorders or Rheumatism.

Cut this out and preserve it. Good Rheumatism prescriptions which really relieve are scarce, indeed, and when you need it, you want it badly. Our druggists here say they will either supply these ingredients or make the mixture ready to take, if any of our readers so prefer.

EX-JUDGE WM. J. BAER DEAD.

Hon. W. J. Baer, who served the Somerset-Bedford district as president-judge of the courts from 1881 till 1881, died at his home in Somerset, Tuesday morning, aged 82 years.

Ex-Judge Baer was for many years one of the leading lawyers of Western Pennsylvania. He was also very active in his time in the development of Somerset's mineral resources, being, in fact, one of the pioneers in the development of the coal industries of Somerset county. He was a brother of Geo. F. Baer, president of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company. He is survived by his wife and four daughters.

Should Establish its Time Schedule.

There is considerable complaint from our subscribers from the country over the fact that the P. & M. Street Railway Company does not publish its time schedule in the local papers. The people in town can readily ascertain the schedule time of the cars, in case they forget it, but not so with the country people. However, most people in the country take the home papers, and it is a great convenience when they can find the time of trains, trolley cars, etc. printed there in. The B. & O. Railroad publishes its time card in this paper, and the P. & M. should at least be as accommodating to its patrons as the B. & O.

Newspaper Men for Public Office.

We are always glad to see a newspaper man enter the field for any honorable office, and believe that they are capable of rendering more efficient service than the average layman, because of their wide experience in matters general, says the Rockwood Leader.

The Leader speaks the truth, and THE STAR wants you to keep it in mind that its editor is a candidate for the Legislative nomination. Your vote and your influence are respectfully solicited.

Rockwood Editor a Good Samaritan.

Knowing the editor of THE STAR to be very ill and confined to his bed, Editor E. E. Bach, of the Rockwood Leader, has proven himself a good Samaritan by kindly sending not only his sympathy and best wishes, but also some news matter for this week's issue of THE STAR. We warmly thank the good brother, for he has shown that his heart is in the right place, and as we are very short of help since the editor is sick, the kindness of Editor Bach is doubly appreciated.

A Salty Comment Upon Labor Inconsistency.

FROSTBURG, Md., Jan. 22, 1908. To the Mining Journal.

A few words for the men who labor for the other fellow who doesn't have to labor.

The Hon. Billie Ford, the lone, lorn Democrat elected to the House of Delegates from this county, last November, presumably because he was a great friend of the laboring man.

How did the Hon. Mr. Ford fulfill expectations when the time came for him to select a man to fill the position of folder in the House—a job that pays $5 a day?

Did the immortal Billie pry open his alabaster boxes of love to call forth his mighty intellectual sympathy with the down-trodden workmen to find one among the 426 idle miners of Georges Creek with enough intelligence to fill the office of folder?

O, no, this immaculate friend of labor, who, during the campaign, had thrown so many bouquets, at his fellow-laboringmen, at this moment forgot everyone of them and, instead, selected a retired capitalist whose monthly income from rents amounts to five hundred dollars, and who, during his whole life, never dug a pound of coal or did a day's labor—except behind a bar!

If Billy had any alabaster boxes of love for his fellow-laboringmen laid away full of the fragrant perfumes of sympathy and affection, this was his opportunity to get them out and gladden at least one poor fellow's heart with a position that would put himself and family above want—for awhile at least.

All his rant and hot air about helping our fellow-laboringmen on Georges Creek, in view of this selection, is simply rot, rot, rot—like Warner, War-john and the rest.

Post-mortem kindness does not cheer the departed spirit; flowers on the coffin cast no fragrance backward upon the weary way, though this appointment may help them that, having much, are entitled to what remains.

A MUCH-DISGUSTED LABORING MAN.

A Very Nice Letter from a Good Friend Who Still Remembers Old Salisbury.

STOKESVILLE, Va., Jan. 22, 1908. Mr. P. L. Livengood, Elk Lick, Pa. My Dear Mr. Livengood:—I herewith enclose my check for $1.25 for one year's subscription to THE STAR. We look forward to its arrival every week with great pleasure, as it keeps us in touch with the place in which we spent many happy days.

We often think of and talk about Salisbury. My family join me in best wishes for your prosperity, and we hope that you may be successful in your campaign for a seat in the legislative halls of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Buchanan will be remembered as the genial and popular superintendent of the late American Aniline and Extract Works, which flourished here for a number of years. He is now the general manager of the Imperial Extract Company, a much larger concern, located at Stokesville, Va.

That it was beneficial and quick in relieving me, there is no doubt, and it is my intention to obtain another bottle." For sale at Miller's Drug Store. 2-1

Proposed Maryland Legislation that Looks Good to Us.

"A bill entitled an Act to impose a tax of six mills a net ton on all coal mined in Alleghany and Garrett counties upon all corporations engaged in coal mining in said counties, and a tax of forty cents a month upon corporations engaged in clay mining for each person employed therein, etc., to be distributed for relief of dependents upon workmen killed in the line of such employment, was introduced by Senator Shannon, Tuesday.

The bill has been carefully drawn by Hon. David J. Lewis, an ex-State Senator, and based upon the predicate—"Let the Industry Bear the Burden of the Lives it Takes," seems to be the most orderly plan for relief emergencies yet devised. Crystallized into law, it will afford much satisfaction to underground workmen who go to their employment every morning impressed with the deadly risk they incur for themselves and the dependent welfare of their families.

Providing for a relief fund in a way so systematic and considerate, the friends of the bill confidently believe that employers will allege no objection to its enactment into law. Indeed, they feel that it so far appeals to humane magnanimity that employing interests will rather ask for than oppose its adoption.—Frostburg Journal.

A HIGHER HEALTH LEVEL.
