THE SPREAD OF LOCAL OPTION.

Without doubt the greatest movement for civic righteousness and moral reform inaugurated in recent years is local option. Like a giant ocean wave it is sweeping over the country. Where adopted it has awakened the people to the fact of its wonderful influence for uplifting the brotherhood of man and bettering his condition materially, morally and spiritually. Although a sporting town at the head of the column, the sentiment in Windber is growing like a vine, and it has come to stay. Many of the best citizens of our town are looking forward to the time when such a law will be placed on the statute books of the state. When the citizens of a township, town or county, instead of the state, shall say whether licensed houses shall exist in such towns and districts.—Windber Era.

Handed Him a Proper One. Said the speaker at a lawyer's dinner: "We lawyers couldn't do better than to resolve in the new year to be gentler in our cross-examinations. Rudeness in cross-examinations never pays. This is a truth that I once saw proved in a damage suit. In this suit a cross-examining lawyer shouted at a witness in overalls: 'You, there, in the overalls, how much are you paid for telling untruths?' 'Less than you are,' the witness retorted, 'or you'd be in overalls, too!'"

SUFFERING & DOLLARS SAVED. E. S. Loper, of Marilla, N. Y., says: "I am a carpenter and have had many severe cuts healed by Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It has saved me suffering and dollars. It is by far the best healing salve I have ever found." Heals burns, sores, ulcers, fever sores, eczema and piles. 25c. at E. H. Miller's drug store. 3-1

MIXED OFTEN.

Druggists Hear Much Praise for This Simple Home-Made Mixture. Some remarkable stories are being told about town and among the country people coming in of this simple home-made mixture curing Rheumatism and Kidney trouble. Here is the recipe and directions for taking: Mix by shaking well in a bottle one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon, three ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Take as a dose one teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime.

No change need be made in your usual diet, but drink plenty of good water. This mixture, writes one authority in a leading Philadelphia newspaper, has a peculiar tonic effect upon the kidneys; cleansing the clogged up pores of the eliminative tissues, forcing the kidneys to sift and strain from the blood the uric acid and other poisonous waste matter, overcoming Rheumatism, Bladder and Urinary troubles in a short while.

A New York druggist who has had hundreds of calls for these ingredients since the first announcement in the newspapers last October, stated that the people who once tried it "swear by it," especially those who have Urinary and Kidney trouble and suffer with Rheumatism. The druggists in this neighborhood say they can supply the ingredients, which are easily mixed at home. There is said to be no better blood-cleansing agent or system tonic known, and certainly none more harmless or simple to use.

Local Option in Somerset County.

The Anti-Saloon League has begun active work in this county. A convention will be held in the Assembly room of the court house, in Somerset, on Thursday, Feb. 20, 1908. Two sessions have been arranged, one at 2 p. m. and another at 7:30 p. m. State Superintendent S. E. Nicholson, of Harrisburg, will deliver an address, as well as other noted state workers. It promises to be a great convention. The purpose of this convention is organization and co-operation in securing the nomination of Assemblymen from this county pledged for local option. This movement is rapidly gaining ground, and it is believed many friends of local option will be in attendance at this convention to hear these noted speakers and plan for aggressive work before the primary election.

Prohibition's Growth.

Not since the days of Abolition has any great ethical principle made such a fight for recognition by our political system as Prohibition has within the last few years. Like the Abolition movement, the struggle for Prohibition had an insignificant local beginning, and was, at first, a vital principle only to women's societies and unimportant men, who were led by a single individual of extraordinary power. But after Garrison came Wendell Phillips, Lucy Larcom, Harriet Beecher Stowe and others, whose eloquence made new converts to their cause every day, and in due time set the whole country afire with it. Likewise, Prohibition took the mantle of Neal Dow and cast it over the shoulders of John B. Gough, and after him came a score of others, with the late Francis Murphy among them. Abolition lived half a century, then reached its zenith and expired amid the blood and smoke of a great war which it had stirred up. But that war was its creation and its servant, doing its work, and died only because its work was done. Prohibition has existed half a century now, and perhaps has not arrived at its zenith, but it has reached a tremendous height and is spreading all over the country in leaps and bounds greater than those of Abolition, except in its later days. Its issue will not be left to the sword, as was that of its greater forerunner, but it will put its trust in the ballot and in the war of ballots and there will surely come a Gettysburg.—Washington Post.

Horrible Accident to Levi Cochran.

The people of Salisbury and vicinity were greatly grieved, Tuesday evening, to learn of a most distressing accident that befell Levi Cochran, Tuesday afternoon, the particulars of which are about as follows:

Some mining cars were being run down the tramway that leads from the Sechler opening to the tippie at Meachants mine No. 2, and Levi was one of the cars. The descent being quite rapid, the cars usually run at a high speed over part of the tramway, and Levi became alarmed and thought the man in charge of the trip had lost control of the cars. He therefore jumped off, thinking thereby to avoid death or serious injury. But just as he jumped, the cars entered a very narrow cut, and he was caught between the cars and a bank of earth. He was rolled and dragged for a considerable distance, which resulted in dislocating one of his hips, and also breaking the bone near the hip joint.

His injuries are of such a serious nature that he had to be sent to Pittsburgh, where the most skillful of hospital and surgical treatment is to be had.

The unfortunate young man is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Cochran, who seem to be having more with their share of misfortune with their sons. Charles, the eldest of their boys, lost a leg some time ago as the result of a mine accident, and Levi, who is about 20 years of age, will be fortunate indeed if he escapes death or being a cripple for life as a result of Tuesday's accident.

Ministerial Association Meeting.

At the monthly meeting of the Somerset County Lutheran Ministerial Association, held at Rockwood, last Monday, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

1st. That the Secretary be instructed to write the Hon. A. F. Cooper, member of Congress from this district, petitioning him to give his support to the Littlefield bill to prohibit the shipment of intoxicating liquors into territory under prohibitory laws.

2nd. That this association endorse the work of the Anti-Saloon League in its efforts to secure the enactment of a local option law.

3rd. That we pledge our support to the Anti-Saloon movement for a county convention of the friends of Local Option, to be held in the Assembly room of the Court House, at Somerset, Thursday afternoon and evening, Feb. 20, 1908, for the purpose of organization and co-operation in securing the nomination and election of Assemblymen from this county pledged for local option, and call upon the pastors and members of all churches to be present and take part in the meeting.

How the Lawyer Cleared his Client.

A lawyer was defending a man accused of house-breaking, and said to the court:

"Your Honor, I submit that my client did not break into the house at all. He found the parlor window open and merely inserted his right arm and removed a few trifling articles. Now, my client's arm is not himself, and I fail to see how you can punish the whole individual for an offense committed by only one of his limbs."

"That argument," said the judge, "is very well put. Following it logically, I sentence the defendant's arm to one year's imprisonment. He can accompany it or not, as he chooses."

The defendant smiled, and with his lawyer's assistance unscrewed his coat arm, and, leaving it in the dock, walked out.

CHILD'S LIFE SAVED BY CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

Mrs. John Englehardt, of Gera, Mich., tells of the anxious moments spent over her little two-year-old daughter who had taken a hard cold resulting in croup. She says: "I am satisfied that if it had not been for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy she would have choked to death. I gave this medicine every ten minutes, and she soon began to throw up the phlegm. I can recommend it in the highest terms, as I have another child that was cured in the same way." Sold at Miller's Drug Store. 3-1
