Policeman Cantures Fighting Assassin Who, In Guarded Cell, Boasts of Crime.

Denver, Col.—Father Leo Heinricks has shot and killed Sunday by Giurappe Guarnaceto, an avowed an-archist and priest hater, while the priest was administering the sacrament at early mass in St. Elizabeth's ment at early mass in St. Elizabeth's Roman Catholic church, Eleventh and Curtis streets.

Kneeling at the altar rail between two women Giuseppe pressed the muzzle of a revolver against the body of the priest, after receiving from him the consecrated wafer, and shot the priest through the heart.

Exclaiming "My God! My God!" Father Leo fell prone in front of the altar and died.

With an inarticulate scream the assassin sprang into the ailar and waving the smoking pistol about his head, dashed to the church door. For a moment the hundred or more persons in the church were dazed. Then a woman shrieked and the congregation became panic stricken. Several women fairted and many others became hysterical.

Several men, including Patrolman Daniel Cronin, started in pursuit of the murderer. Policeman Cronin over-took the fleeing Italian on the church steps. Guarnaceto attempted to shoot the policeman, but was folled and overpowered after a desperate strug-gle, in which several men assisted the

EX-GOVERNOR A WITNESS

Many Matters Brought to Light of Which He Was Ignorant.

DISAPPOINTMENT TO DEFENSE

Ex-Governor Confessed That He Did Not Know Many Things That Took Place.

Harrisburg, Pa.—Called as a witness for the defense, to protect the men under indictment for conspiring to cheat and defraud the state. Samuel W. Pennypacker, former governor of Pennsylvania, was forced by the state's attorneys to admit that he was entirely ignorant of the important transactions carried on by the contractor and his associate state officials on the board of grounds and buildings in "trimming" the new capitol.

Pennypacker confessed that he did not know that almost $2.000,000 had been paid to Contractor John H. Sanderson before the bills had been approved by the board of which he was president; he confessed that he did not know that two months after the contract had been awarded Sanderson, the state had advanced the contractor $125,000, and that four months afterward an additional $106,500 had been advanced, none of which had been authorized by the board of grounds and buildings.

thortzed by the board of grounds and buildings.

He confessed he did not anticipate that the "trimmings" of the capitol would cost over $800,000; he confessed the "special" schedule had been prepared by Superintendent James M. Shumaker, that the "quantities" book had been prepared by Auditor General Snyder and he knew nothing of its real purpose; he confessed that the board did not depend "entirely" upon the architect's certification but be lieved that Superintendent Shumaker was checking up the "trimmings."

He also confessed that he was not aware that the contract for metallic furniture for the new capitol had been awarded to the Pennsylvania Construction Company eight months before ground was broken for the capitol.

Despite these "confessions" Pennypacker insisted that the board of grounds and buildings had "taken every precaution" to protect the interests of the state; that he believed that it had accomplished its work and that the capitol, "trimmings" and all,
was a great achievement.

An important witness was James H
Stevenson, bookkeeper for Sanderson.
It was shown by Sanderson's testmony that bills for house and senate furniture amouting to over six hundred and fifty thousand dollars were made out as so many feet in bulk and paid in the course of Sanderson's business with the state and that "months" afterward Stevenson, when ordered to make out detailed bills, simply took the lump sum of feet and
"apportioned" it among the articles.
He had some "feet" left over, and he added that to the rostrums in the senate and house caucus rooms.

St. Petersburg.—Lieutenant General Stoessel was condemned to death by a military court, for the surrender of Port Arthur to the Japanese.

General Fock, who commanded the Fourth East Siberian division of Port Arthur, was ordered reprimanded for a disciplinary offense, which was not connected with the surrender, and General Smirnoff, acting commandant of the fortress, and Major General Reiss, chief of staff to General Stoessel, were acquitted of the charges against them, for lack of proof.

The court recommended that the death sentence upon Stoessel be commuted to 10 years' imprisonment in a fortress and that he be excluded from the service.

The sentence of death was pronoun-

FOR POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS

Proposes to Carry Out the Postmaster General's Plans.

DEPOSITS WILL DRAW INTEREST

Money Received to Be Deposited With National Banks in the Same Vicinity.

Washington.—Senator Knox introduced a bill to establish a system of postal savings banks. The bill embodies the plan outlined by Postmaster General Meyer in his annual report and which he has advocated in public addresses as being calculated to encourage economy and thrift and to afford a place to deposit free from any possibility of doubt or suspicion for vast sums of money which might be otherwise hoarded and kept out of circulation through ignorance or lack of confidence.

The bill authorizes the postmaster general to establish a system of postal savings banks comprised of such money order offices as he may designate for that purpose.

Open to Persons Ten Years Old.
Accounts may be opened and deposits made in any postal savings bank established under this act by any person of the age of ten years or over in his own name, by a married woman in her own name and free from any control or interference by her husband, by a trustee as such on behalf of another person, by a parent, guardian or other person for the benefit of a child under ten years of age, or by the charitable or benevolent society or association.

Provided, that no person or organ-

Provided, that no person or organization shall have more than one postal savings account, except that a trustee, parent, guardian, or other person, may have an individual account and an account in his representative capacity for each person or child for whom he may be entitled to open an account.

Deposits to Be in Even Dollars.
The bill further provides that suppostal banks shall receive deposits money in even dollars, with one dolla minimum, and postmasters are as a minimum, and postmasters are required to make daily reports to the postmaster general, who will forward to the depositor a written acknowledgement of its receipt.

Depositors are not liable to seizure or detention under legal processes against the depositor, and such funds are exempt from taxation. Interest at the rate of two percent per annum is allowed depositors, and the postmaster general is authorized to place the money deposited in postal sayings banks in National banks at a rate of interest satisfactory to the secretary of the treasury.

Money Kept in Circulation.
These National depositories are to be in the immediate vicinity of postal banks from which the money is drawn, as a safeguard against centralization of currency and as a means of facilitating the return of money to the channels of trade.

National banks are prohibited from receiving any compensation for cashing or collecting any checks or any other service in connection with postal banks. Withdrawals of depositsmay be made at any time subject to certain regulations.

The bill carries an appropriation of $100,000 to give it effect.
