2130 Syracuse "EASY" Washers

were ordered for 30 days' trial by readers of our advertising in one medium only. 112 only were returned from all causes. It must be assumed that the 218 people who kept and paid for the washer did so because it was worth more to them than the money it cost. They all had the privilege of returning the "EASY" at our expense same as you will have if you try one. They kept it because it solved the washing problem for them. You will keep it for the same reason if you try it.
They expressed their satisfaction in the most positive terms. We will show extracts from their letters upon your request. Ask for our free book. It tells you why the "EASY" is a woman's machine. Pages 3-20 tell you how to cut washing expense in half and save your clothes whole, white and sweet, the way you like them. Pages 32-34 tell you how washing and bleaching are done in one operation.

SAVE THIS.
Put it in Some Safe Place, for it May Come in Handy Some Day.

Here is a simple home-made mixture as given by an eminent authority on Kidney diseases, who makes the statement in a New York daily newspaper, that it will relieve almost any case of Kidney trouble if taken before the stage of Bright's disease. He states that such symptoms as lame back, pain in the side, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night; painful and discolored urination, are readily overcome. Here is the recipe; try it: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

A well-known druggist here in town is authority that these ingredients are all harmless and easily mixed at home by shaking well in a bottle. This mixture has a peculiar healing and soothing effect upon the entire Kidney and Urinary structure, and often overcomes the worst forms of Rheumatism in just a little while. This mixture is said to remove all blood disorders and cure the Rheumatism by forcing the Kidneys to filter and strain from the blood and system all uric acid and foul, decomposed waste matter, which cause these afflictions. Try it if you aren't well. Save the prescription.

Hickory Supply Closely Watched.

Automobile and carriage manufacturers, along with the men of the allied vehicle industries, are giving very serious consideration to the question of the future supply of hickory timber. This wood, which is one of the most important of all woods, since no satisfactory substitute for it has been found, plays a more important part among the commercial timbers than many people realize.

For automobile and carriage wheels, where strength, toughness, and resiliency are essential qualities, no other wood has been found in this country that will take the place of hickory. Manufacturers say that no steel or wire spoke has yet been found that will withstand the wear and tear of the hickory spoke, and for this reason the welfare of the vehicle industry seems dependent upon the conservation of the hickory supply.

Three of the largest associations of hickory users in the country, the National Wagon Manufacturers' Association of America, the Carriage Builders' National Association, and the National Hickory Association have completed a series of cooperative tests with the United States Forest Service, and the trade considers the results highly important. The tests covered a close study of the properties of different woods used in vehicles and implements, supplemented by mechanical tests to ascertain the relative strength of different woods and different forms of construction, and to test the accuracy of the present system of grading.

In a report of the tests made by H. B. Holroyd, forest assistant, and H. S. Betts, engineer in timber tests, of the Forest Service, the fact is brought out that there is an error of over 50 per cent. in the grading of vehicle stock, due largely to the prejudice of the manufacturers against the use of red hickory. It is shown that in clear stock, weight for weight, the red hickory is as strong as the white. By bringing this fact to the attention of the manufacturers, it is hoped that much of the hickory which was formerly left as waste in the woods will be utilized by the trade, and thus prolong the rapidly disappearing supply of hickory.

Such practical results as are given in the report, which a letter to the Forest Service at Washington will secure free for any one who wishes it, show conclusively the value of such studies in solving problems connected with the grading of stock, the utilization of new for old woods, and the conserving of our future supply of timber. The supply of good hickory in the United States is known to be very limited. The cut last year for lumber was a little less than 150 million feet, and it is estimated an even greater amount was used for automobile and carriage wheels, axle caps, gears, axles, poles, and neck yokes, and it is figured that at the present rate of cutting the supply will last about 15 years.

Reports are made from time to time of the discovery of suitable substitutes for hickory in foreign countries. The two woods, which come nearest to having the quality of the hickory seem to be one of the eucalyptus and the crowfoot elm, both of Australia. Only time will tell whether these woods will prove satisfactory substitutes. In the meanwhile, American hickory users will be obliged to conserve the present supply and take steps to guarantee a future supply by encouraging private planting of the tree, whose wood is becoming more precious each year.

Livengood Makes no Such Contention.

The Somerset Herald, in its issue of this week, makes a very erroneous assertion, as follows:

"L. C. Lambert and P. L. Livengood, both of whom are likely to remain in the field to the end, contend that when they replied to the questions submitted by the League, it was under the impression that all of the candidates for Assembly would abide by the committee's decision."

The Herald is wrong, for P. L. Livengood made no such assertion, and it is not likely that Mr. Lambert did. We knew very well that at least two, and possibly three of the candidates for Assembly would have nothing to do with the Anti-Saloon League committee, and as to the other five, all of whom pledged themselves to Local Option, early in the game, we were not certain. Of the five candidates who recognized the aforesaid committee, one of them refused to withdraw from the race under any consideration, and some of the others agreed to a withdrawal proposition, but only on condition that all candidates pledged to Local Option would agree to the same proposition, that is, for those to withdraw who failed to get the committee's endorsement, no matter who they might be. Inasmuch as M. D. Leel, one of the Local Option candidates, would not agree to the withdrawal proposition, all the others are released from their conditional agreement, which was made null and void by Mr. Reel's refusal to withdraw from the race under any circumstances.

The Herald is hereby requested to correct the erroneous statement it made, if it wants to be just and fair to all candidates in this campaign.

GIVEN UP TO DIE.

B. Spiegel, 1204 N. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "For five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run down, and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians, who did me no good and I was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended, and the first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured." Why not let me help you? Sold by all druggists. 4-1

Candidate Livengood's Platform.

From the Berlin Record.
Since Editor P. L. Livengood, of THE SOMERSET COUNTY STAR, entered the field for Legislative honors and announced that he would later make known the platform upon which he would make his canvass for nomination, many of the citizens of the county were anxious to know where "Pete" stood on the several issues that have entered into the campaign. Last week he took up four columns of his paper defining his position on some of the questions, and promises more in the future. He does not "bear around the bush," but comes out so plain that all can understand. On the Local Option question he declares openly in its favor as a stepping-stone to the ultimate prohibition of the liquor traffic, and gives his reasons for the stand he has taken. He states that whether he receives the nomination or not, he has signed his last license petition and published his last booze advertisement. His declarations on these points are clear and strong enough to satisfy the most ardent advocates of the local option movement. He also opposes trusts and monopolies of all kinds. On the U. S. Senatorship question, he says "that he is neither a champion nor a traducer of Senator Penrose, and will not pledge himself to support him for re-election, neither will he pledge himself not to support him, but reserves the right to vote for such a candidate for U. S. Senator as he shall honestly consider the fittest man offering for the place." Candidate Livengood takes no middle ground, and everybody can clearly understand where he stands on the issues entering into the Legislative campaign. He is for local option and against trusts and monopolies, and does not tie himself up on the U. S. Senatorship question. He has declared himself, and it is for the voters to say whether they share his views or not.

GOOD FOR EVERYBODY.

Mr. Norman R. Coulter, a prominent architect, in the Delbert Building, San Francisco, says: "I fully endorse all that has been said of Electric Bitters as a tonic medicine. It is good for everybody. It corrects stomach, liver and kidney disorders in a prompt and efficient manner and builds up the system." Electric Bitters is the best spring medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter; as a blood purifier it is unequalled. 50c. at E. H. Miller's drug store. 4-1

NO USE TO DIE.

"I have found out that there is no use to die of lung trouble as long as you can get Dr. King's New Discovery," says Mrs. J. P. White, of Rushboro, Pa. "I would not be alive to-day, only for that wonderful medicine. It loosens up a cough quicker than anything else, and cures lung disease even after the case is pronounced hopeless." This most reliable remedy for coughs and colds, la grippe, asthma, bronchitis and hoarseness, is sold under guarantee at E. H. Miller's drug store. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free. 4-1
