Soda Water Girls

generally have good complexions.

Summertime is a time when liquid nourishment is best, and while soda water is primarily merely a pleasant beverage, it is a mild tonic for the stomach, and with fruit syrups and ice cream, really contains a good deal of nourishment, and is much better than too much solid food in the torrid time.

We pride ourselves on our absolutely pure soda water.

Dr. Enfield's letter in this issue of THE STAR is all wool and a yard wide, to use a common slang expression. It should be read by every man and woman in Salisbury, and, furthermore, it should be acted upon. Salisbury cannot afford to take a back seat for other towns in the matter of getting up something that will draw people our way. The average snide picnic is nothing to crave for, but a rattling good Old-Home Week celebration is something that would bring much pleasure to our people here at home and to the many sons and daughters of old Salisbury and Elk Lick who have located elsewhere, but would return to help us celebrate.

Hundreds of people who suffer from backache, rheumatism, lame back, lumbago and similar ailments are not aware that these are merely symptoms of kidney trouble. Pineules for the Kidneys, act directly on the kidneys, bringing quick relief to backache and other symptoms of kidney and bladder derangements. 30 day's trial $1.00 and guaranteed, or money back. Sold by Elk Lick Pharmacy. 8-1

The repeal of the tax on denatured alcohol opens up wonderful possibilities in the way of its profitable employment in the industries. The experience of European countries, where spirits are cheap in price and used extensively in the arts and in manufacturing, affords some hint of what is in prospect. Germany alone requires over seventy million gallons yearly in its industries, while France makes over 100 million gallons, not only from potatoes, beets and grain, but even from sawdust. A French savant has been successfully extracting 500 pounds of sugar, and reducing it to 25 gallons of pure alcohol, from a ton of ordinary sawdust. Consequently the supply is practically unlimited, as we can draw power not only from the plants of the field, but from the trees of the forest.

Stomach troubles are very common in the summer time and you should not only be very careful about what you eat just now, but more than this, you should be careful not to allow your stomach to become disordered, and when the stomach goes wrong take Kodol. This is the best known preparation that is offered to the people today for dyspepsia or indigestion or any stomach trouble. Kodol digests all foods. It is pleasant to take. It is sold here by E. H. Miller. 7-1

If there be one better way than another to ruin a town, it is for those who live in it to go about apologizing for its existence. There are some who are always ready to say, by their actions at least, that this place don't amount to much. They will tell you that the town is dead; that no one would think of stopping here; that some town adjacent is more respectable, more enterprising, has better people, better enjoyments, is ahead of us in everything. This is all wrong. Even if it be true, no one should ever admit it, when it comes to making a comparison. Every good citizen of this town, should take a special local pride in it. The town that says "we can" will always succeed. The town that says, "oh, I don't know, I don't think it will amount to much," is never of much force. If you have no local pride, borrow some.

If one feels dull and spiritless, in the spring or early summer, they call it "Spring Fever." But there is no fever—usually. It is the after effects of our winter habits. The nerves are mostly at fault. Tired, worn-out nerves leave us languid, lifeless, and without spirit or ambition. A few doses of Dr. Shoop's Restorative will absolutely and quickly change all of these depressing symptoms. The Restorative of course won't bring you back to full health in a day or two, but it will do enough in 48 hours to satisfy you that the remedy is reaching that "tired spot." Druggists everywhere are advising its use as a splendid and prompt general tonic. It gives more vim and more spirit to the spoonful than any other known nerve or constitutional tonic. It sharpens a failing appetite, aids digestion, frees sluggish livers and kidneys, and brings new life, strength and ambition. Test it a few days and be convinced. Sold by all dealers. 7-1

Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar Cures all Coughs, and expels Colds from the system by gently moving the bowels.

A plan for drawing trade to a town that has been successfully worked at several points might be adopted to advantage in this city. The plan is as follows: An agreement was reached between all the merchants whereby they offered special sales on certain days, each merchant selecting some special line of goods upon which he made a lower price than usual. Thus one dry goods house would sell gloves at a special price, while another would offer bargains in dress goods. One hardware merchant would reduce the price on skates. Every line of business was represented, and care was taken that no conflicts occurred. Prizes were then offered to the farmer bringing in the best load of grain or the handsomest baby, and the bargain day was extensively advertised in the surrounding country, the names of the merchants and their special sales being in all cases stated. The farmers responded in a most gratifying manner, and the merchants were well pleased with the plan.

Mr and Mrs. W. R. Gunter, of Frostburg, who own and operate the Gladstone Hotel in that town, were Salisbury visitors, last week. They are good hotel people and conduct a splendid house. We will give them this bit of free advertising, even though Mr. Gunter canceled his subscription to THE STAR, some time ago, for the reason that the paper has come out strong against the liquor business. We have a friendly feeling for Mr. Gunter, just the same, as in times past he spoke more than one good word for THE STAR, and we are not slow to forget favors. Besides, it's the truth that Mr. and Mrs. Gunter conduct a very good hotel, and THE STAR is noted for telling the truth, whether it is pleasant or unpleasant. In coming out against the liquor traffic, we only obeyed the dictates of conscience, and we have no apology to offer for our course to any man. Whenever we can't hold a man's patronage and at the same time obey the pleadings of our own conscience, then we do not want his patronage, be it much or little. THE STAR is no champagne-skinned nature fakir, or all things to all men, and we refuse to strangle conscience under any and all circumstances. Furthermore, we shall continue to speak our sentiments, fearlessly and forcibly, and hew to the line, no matter who gets hit in the "mug" by the chips. We're built that way, and we're glad of it.

The Ladies' World for July, which has just come, contains a very interesting collection of general reading matter, in addition to the seasonable information on a large variety of subjects given in its departments. The present method of celebrating our great national holiday is negatively condemned by showing us how much more sensibly it is observed in some of the New England towns, where the parents plan to give the children a good time without fear of bodily mutilation. A novel Fourth of July Entertainment is also in the number. There is a good assortment of exceedingly readable stories, all well illustrated, among them being a little sketch, evidently true to life, which tells why the long expected biography of John C. Calhoun never appeared. The pages of housekeeping look very appetizing and very practical, as the dishes are simply made. An illustrated paper on Beginning the Caning Season will appeal to provident housewives who, in the time of plenty, look forward to the lean months of the winter. The summer fashions are very pretty, and should tempt those who yet have things to make for themselves or their children, while the article on Dressmaking is of decided assistance to all needle-workers. There are also illustrations of Summer Dress accessories—the dainty articles of the toilet—which are very attractive. The puzzle pictures are fascinating, and the children have a treat in the Adventures of Elsie and the Arkansas Bear. Altogether it is remarkable for the price.—New York; Fifty Cents a Year.
