ENGLISH WOMAN THREATENS PREMIER

London Suffragettes Break Win-fore the House of Parliament made by the suffragettes had a startling sequel next day when one woman, Mary Loigh, arrested for breaking windows in the house of Premier Asquith, declared in the police court: "The next time we come out you can expect hombs." Her companion in this exploit was Miss Edith New.

The two women who broke windows in the house of the Premier were sentenced to two months at hard labor without the option of paying a fine. Compared to previous punishments meted out to suffragettes these sentences are particularly severe.

Twenty-seven out of the 29 suffragettes arrested were charged in police court with obstructing the police. Those against whom previous convictions had been entered were fined and ordered to give security for their good behavior for one year or to spend three months in prison. First offenders were required to give security not to repeat the offense, in default of which they were sentenced to one month's imprisonment. Most of the women elected to go to serve creased Business.

Chicago.—Among the largest corporations to make July first a "re-employment day" is the Illinois Central Railroad. After an idleness of eight months 5,500 men will be put back to work in the Illinois Central shops.

The heavy demand from manufacturers for steel has resulted in increasing the pay rolls of all the big steel companies in the country. For weeks the Illinois Steel Company, with its enormous plant at South Chicago, has gradually increased its working force until normal conditions have been resumed. Additional help also will be employed soon.

The International Harvester Company has re-employed all of its help, and many of the departments are working night and day shifts.
