First Appearance of the Cold.

St. Joseph, Mich., Sept., 1901.—Last winter I caught a studden cold which developed into an unpleasant catarrh of the head and throat, depriving me of my appetite and usual good spirits. A friend who had been cured by Peruna advised me to try it and I sent for a bottle at once, and I am glad to say that in three days the phlegm had loosened, and I felt better, my appetite returned and within nine days I was in my usual good health.

Peruna is an old and well tried remedy for colds. No woman should be without it.

Inconspicuous, yet important, is the news item which tells of the plan to operate by electricity the new transcontinental line of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul rallroad for 1,000 miles from the Pacific coast. Waterpower is so plentful in the country through which this new road is being built that locomotives burning coal or oil will not be needed there. The electrification of railway transportation in this country is advancing more rapidly than is generally realized.—Hartford Times.

The Truth About Grape-Nuts Food. It doesn't matter so much what

It doesn't matter so much what you hear about a thing, it's what you know that counts. And correct knowledge is most likely to come from personal experience.

"About a year ago," writes a N. Y. man, "I was bothered by indigestion, especially during the forenoon. I tried several remedies without any permanent improvement.

"My breakfast usually consisted of oatmeal, steak or chops, bread, coffee and some fruit.

and find out if all I had heard of it was true.

"So I began with Grape-Nuts and cream, two soft boiled eggs, toast, a cup of Postum and some fruit. Before the end of the first week I was rid of the acidity of the stomach and felt much relieved.

"By the end of the second week all traces of indigestion had disappeared and I was in first rate health once more. Before beginning this course of diet I never had any appetite for lunch, but now I can enjoy a hearty meal at noon time." "There's a Reason."

How the French Farmer Lives By VANCE THOMPSON.

By VANCE THOMPSON.

The French farmer, Pierre, whom I visited that year, raised 2000 measures of wheat: 100 were laid aside for seed; 150 went for the family flour; the remaining 1750 measures he sold at sixty cents, for $750. His rye, barley and fodder, after deducting seed and supplies for the cattle, brought in $420. He sells every year a pair of oxen—the old ones; last year he got $130. The sale of other stock brought him $210. Another source of income is the poultry yard. But this and the dairy may be set aside as equivalent to the many taxes that weigh upon the peasantfarmer. In round numbers, then. Pierre's income in an average year is $1500. Over against this he places his expenses, thus:

It was quite by accident that he discovered that he had an exceptional gift of memory. He was being trained as an army officer, when an attack of rheumatic fever dispelled his hopes in that direction. At that time he happened to meet the Zancigs in India, who, noticing what a remarkable memory he had for dates, advised him to cultivate it. WEEKLY TRADE SUMMARY

Retail Trade Decrease at Many Points-Iron and Steel Business Quiet.

R. G. Dun & Company's "Weekly Review of Trade" says:
 "Retail trade at many points has decreased with the higher temperature. Contracts for finished steel are restricted to current needs, but a large tonnage is under negotiation. New projects are deferred until after election. Confidence is 'shown by the steadiness of prices and the gradual increase in pig iron production.
 "Evidences-accumulate that stocks of dry goods are low almost beyond precedent, and the urgency for quick shipment tends to generate confidence among buyers. Men's wear for immediate delivery is the best feature of woolens, but scarcely any new lines are fully sold.
 "Better conditions are reported at New England and footwear factories. New business is chiefly for medium priced goods."
 "Bradstreet's" says:
 "Although trade reports are somewhat irregular in character, owing largely to varying weather conditions in different sections of the country and uncertainties caused by impending elections, the general undertone is toward sustained improvement.
 "The heavy marketing of crops has made for an increased railway tonnage and improved collections considerably while exports of wheat are heavy.
 "The iron and steel are quiet, but production is increasing in anticipation of forthcoming good business, and there is more doing in other industrial lines. There is less industrial ideness, and in some instances business is developing for the first quarter of 1909, especially in shoes, lumber and pig iron.
 "The pig iron production for September exceeded that of August by 4.2 per cent, and it was the heaviest total recorded since November last, while it represents an increase of 35 per cent over January, 1908. However, the decrease from September, 1907, reaches 35 per cent.

Transportation Capacity.
The fact has been repeatedly demonstrated in this country, as elsewhere, that increased transportation facilities invariably develop increased tonnage. It is wise economy to keep the capacity of service a little ahead of the demand, rather than to clog business by insufficiency of transportation facilities. — Boston Herald.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable.
