Sentimental Request of Brooklyn Man Complied With by Thieves. Wedding Rings Left.

New York.—With the piercing ray of a burglar's dark lantern shining in their eyes and two revolvers held by masked men covering them, the five members of the family of Charles E. Tayntor, a wealthy granite dealer, lay in bed in the Tayntor home at Borough Park, Brooklyn, for more than an hour while a third masked burglar packed up $10,000 worth of jewelry and silverware. Then the burglars bound Mr. Tayntor hand and foot and escaped with their booty.

The three men went immediately to a bedroom on the second floor occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Tayntor. One of the burglars struck Mr. Tayntor a crushing blow on the head with a blackjack as he lay asleep. Mr. and Mrs. Tayntor were made to sit up in bed and two of the burglars held them covered while a third began a search of the room.

As the leader ransheked bureau drawers, leaving his two companions to cover Mr. and Mrs. Tayntor in the bed, the daughter, Alice, 15 years old, ran into the room in her night gown. She gasped as she saw what it was that had awakened her. "Don't shoot father," she pleaded. "Please don't shoot papa or mamma."

"You get in bed there," commanded one of the men. A minute later Mr. Tayntor's two sons, Charles, 8 years old, and Harold 12, ran in to see what was up. They were covered, too, and ordered to sit on the bed. Leaves Wedding Rings.

The burglar who was ransaeking the room found a jewel case with two wedding rings in it on a bureau and was about to take them when Mr. Tayntor asked him not to. The burglar replied that he would take everything of value that he could find. Then one of the burglars standing guard over the family spoke up. "Den't take those wedding rings! Money Obtained in This Way Used to Finance Ice Pool and Steamship Schemes.

Naw York.—Charles W. Morse, until a year ago a dominant figure in the world of finance, and Alfred H. Curtis, former president of the National Bank of North America, were found guilty in the criminal branch of the United States circuit court on charges of misappropriation of funds and falsifying the books of the bank. There was also the additional charge of conspiracy against the prisoners, but the jury acquitted the men on this count. New York .- Charles W. Morse, unof conspiracy against the prisoners, but the jury acquitted the men on this count.

Within five minutes of the time the jury had rendered its verdict Judge Hough had refused to entertain a motion for bail and had committed the two bankers to the Tombs prison.

Charles W. Morse was sentenced to serve 15 years in prison. Alfred H. Curtis was granted the clemency recommended by the jury. In his case sentence was suspended, Judge Hough declaring him to have been under the influence of Morse, a master, stronger mind, and that his efforts at reform had been blocked by the bank's supine board of directors.

There has been wide interest in the joint trials of Charles W. Morse and Alfred H. Curtis, on charges growing out of the failure of the National Bank of North America. It was brought out in the testimony that Morse had made large loans from the bank through so-called "dummies," and that President Curtis had enabled him to do so. The money thus obtained was used to finance the Morse ice pools and steamship operation.

CURES BONE CONSUMPTION

Chicago Physician by Accident Discovers Simple Remedy.

Chicago.—Remarkable results in curing tuberculosis of the bones, demonstrated in a five weeks' trial at the House for Destitute Crippled Children, has turned attention to a treatment discovered by Dr. Emil Beek of this city. The treatment is simplicity itself and consists for the most part in filling the cavity caused by the disease with a metallic salt, bismuth subnitrate, combined with a basis of vaseline.

The discovery was incidental to an X-ray photograph of a little invalid. The solution was applied to fix the outline of a tubercular abscess, and being left in the cavity proved a healing agent. In a five weeks' trial 20 of 40 crippled children were cured by the treatment. Medical men estimate that fully 50 per cent of all the crippled children are suffering from tubercular disorders.

NEW FRANCO-GERMAN ROW

Two Powers Now Quarreling Over Deserters from Foreign Legion.

Paris.—The generally good impression upon financial sentiment in this city produced by the election of William H. Taft has been more than offset, at least temporarily, by a recrudescence of anxienty over the attitude adopted by Germany on the Casablanca incident. This is the case of the desertion of several Germans who had enlisted in the foreign legion of the French army. Germany asked arbitration for the question of international law involved in the right of Germany to protect her subjects who had enlisted in the foreign legion and who subsequently deserted. France accepted this proposal provided the arbitration should cover the question of fact, whether or not Germany refused this counter offer, and France has declined to modify her attitude.

An official statement says France intends to insist firmly upon arbitration, both in the matter of the law and the facts in the Casablanca incident. She will make no apology for the actions of the French officers at Casablanca unless the arbitrators decide an apology is due.
