ONE KIDNEY GONE,

But Cured After Doctors Said There Was No Hope.

Sylvanus O. Verrill, Milford, Me., says: "Five years ago a bad injury paralyzed me and affected my kidneys. My back hurt me terribly, and the urine was badly disordered. Doctors said my right kidney was practically dead. They said I could never walk again."

I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. One box made me stronger and freed from pain. I kept on using them, and in three months was able to get out on crutches, and the kidneys were acting better. I improved rapidly, discarded the crutches and to the wonder of my friends was soon completely cured."

Denmark's Bounty on Rats.

A Paris journal suggests that in order to rid the world of rats the various governments should offer a reward of one penny for each rat killed. Denmark, it appears, has already set the example. There, since a law was passed giving a halfpenny a head for dead rats, the school boys of Copenhagen devote their playtime to hunting rodents. The bodies are taken to the fire brigade station, where the tails are cut off in order that the reward may not be claimed a second time. The bodies are burned the same night in a furnace at the gas works.—New York Tribune.

Origin of Sundae.

The sundae is said to have originated in New Orleans, where a progressive but unlucky soda water dispenser found himself one warm Sunday afternoon entirely out of carbonated water, with no chance to renew his supply. There was a constant demand for his services, and after repeatedly answering the embarrassing question why he was unable to produce the drinks, in desperation he hurriedly mixed ice cream and fruit syrups into a frozen concoction which greatly delighted his customers. During the following weeks days he had so many calls for "that Sunday recipe" that the idea flashed over him that it would be a good thing to put it regularly on his bill of fare. A well-meaning, but uneducated clerk, who prepared the menu, did the trick of transforming "Sunday" into "sundae" and the palate-ickler has remained "sundae" ever since. No affidavit goes with the story, but it is reputed by one of the oldest soda water apparatus salesmen in the business, and it seems reasonable.—What to Eat.

Swiss Have Public Telescope.

The only genuinely public observatory in the world is at Zurich, Switzerland. It is open every evening to the public, and during the last six months was visited by no fewer than 25,000 people. The telescope, which is mounted in an entirely new and ingenious way, is 17 feet 6 inches long and weighs fourteen tons. Its object glass is twelve inches in diameter. Attached to the instrument is a projecting screen upon which objects in the heavens are thrown for the benefit of those wishing to get a peep through the telescope itself.—Popular Mechanics.

Breaks a Cold Promptly.

The following formula is a never failing remedy for colds. One ounce of Compound Syrup of Sarosaparilla, one ounce Toris Compound and one-half pint of good whisky, mix and shake thoroughly each time and use in doses of a tablespoonful every four hours. This if followed up will cure an acute cold in 24 hours. The ingredients can be gotten at any drug store.

UPWARD START

After Changing From Coffee to Postum.

Many a talented person is kept back because of the interference of coffee with the nourishment of the body.

This is especially so with those whose nerves are very sensitive, as is often the case with talented persons. There is a simple, easy way to get rid of coffee evils, and a Tenn. lady's experience along these lines is worth considering. She says:

"Almost from the beginning of the use of coffee it hurt my stomach. By the time I was fifteen I was almost a nervous wreck, nerves all unstrung, no strength to endure the most trivial thing, either work or fun.

"There was scarcely anything I could eat that would agree with me. The little I did eat seemed to give me more trouble than it was worth. I finally quit coffee and drank hot water, but there was so little food I could digest, I was literally starving; was so weak I could not sit up long at a time.

"It was then a friend brought me a hot cup of Postum. I drank part of it and after an hour I felt as though I had had something to eat—felt strengthened. That was about five years ago, and after continuing Postum in place of coffee and gradually getting stronger, to-day I can eat and digest anything I want, walk as much as I want. My nerves are steady.

"I believe the first thing that did me any good and gave me an upward start, was Postum, and I use it altogether now instead of coffee."

"There's a Reason." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

HOW WHALES ARE KILLED

The feature attracting the casual observer is the vessel's harpoon gun, situated forward of everything, from which the formidable harpoon is fired into the whale. The gun looks like a small cannon, and about a pound of powder is used to discharge the harpoon, which is rammed home in the same manner as a shot would be, and tied from the outside end with a small cord, this breaking, of course, when the gun is fired. The harpoon is a very heavy missile, weighing several hundred pounds, which necessitates its being fired only at pretty close range; the lance head pierces the whale and soon afterwards explodes a bomb contained in it, while still farther back on the shaft are bars, which expand on entering the whale, making it next to impossible for the harpoon to be drawn out again. Each harpoon, after being fired, has to be straightened by a blacksmith in order to again fit the gun-barrel. A stout hemp rope, four inches in circumference, is attached to the harpoon about eighteen inches from the point; this line is of great flexibility and strength, and is manufactured solely for whaling in Norway. A few fathoms of this line are coiled on a plate directly under the gun, the remainder being below decks clear to run. There are two of these lines each 1800 feet in length, and sometimes they are none too long for the purpose.—From "There She Blows," by C. R. Patterson, in the Metropolitan Magazine.

ONE-SIDED VIEW.

"A member of the Georgia Legislature," he remarked, "has introduced a bill which provides that any man who is lured into marrying a woman who has by artificial means enhanced her beauty may, if he wishes, have the marriage declared null and void. That is to say, if the bridegroom discovers that the bride is compelled when she goes to bed to hang any of her supposed charms upon a chair he may consider himself free to wed again."

"And what about it," asked the lady, "if a bride discovers after the ceremony that the groom wears a wig or dyes his mustache?"

"Any woman who is foolish enough not to know a wig or a dyed mustache when she sees one ought never to make any complaint about it."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Insulted.

The big stray dog loomed up from behind an ash barrel.

"Look here," he growled savagely, "I have a bone to pick with you."

The multi-millionaire's bull looked up with wounded dignity.

"What!" he responded, in the dog language, "pick a bone? Why, I never ate anything but boneless chicken and ham in my life. On your way, you tramp!"

And leaping into his master's $20,000 automobile he was whisked off to the park.—Chicago News.

FINANCE AND TRADE REVIEW

BETTER DEMAND FOR GOODS

Pig Iron Prices Higher.—Business Failures Show Increase, Over Corresponding Weeks.

New York.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: "Expectations are being fully realized in the increased demand for manufactured products that each day reduces the percentage of idle machinery and the number of unemployed. The depleted condition of stocks in disclosed as business expands and throughout all industrial channels there is a sudden pressure to meet requirements that assures activity for some time at least.

"Higher prices for pig iron followed the increase in demand, consumers providing for requirements well into the future, including material for finished steel to be delivered in the spring. Furnaces have added still further to the active capacity and some have contracted for much of their output up to July 1. The better feeling is also reflected in the ore market.

"Bradstreet" says: "Expansion continues in trade and industrial lines, shipments over the railways are increasing, idleness is being diminished, prices in numerous lines are higher, collections are better, and sentiment is brighter than it has been for two months past. In many sections retailers' stocks are badly broken, owing to conservative purchases heretofore made, and as a result requests for immediate shipments are quite the rule. On this account and because of more seasonable weather, sorting up orders in wholesale and jobbing lines are of larger volume. Spring business is also developing quite freely, although widespread improvement in this direction is not looked for until after the turn of the new year.

"Business failures in the United States for the week ending November 12, number 267, against 205 last week, 128 in the like week of 1907, 222 in 1906; 198 in 1905, and 190 in 1904.

EMPEROR WILLIAM'S APPELITE.

The Emperor was a fine-looking man, notwithstanding his age, and he had that Old World manner which is as attractive as it is rare. He was full of gayety and chaffed some of the young people present. It was a mystery to me how he survived what he ate and drank, although he was doing a cure. He began with poached eggs and went on to poted meats and various strange German dishes, added many cups of strong tea and ended with strawberries, ices and sweet, tepid champagne. He talked banalities; it was not very exciting. —From Lady Randolph Churchill's Reminiscences.

A Cure for Hog Cholera.

Hog Cholera or Swine Plague as it is sometimes called is a highly contagious disorder.

When a hog shows any symptoms of this disease, he should be isolated at once and the pen fumigated in order to save the other hogs if possible.

Mix one part Sloan's Liniment with two parts milk in a bottle and give every sick hog a tablespoonful of this mixture night and morning for three days. Sloan's Liniment is a powerful antiseptic, kills the disease germs, soothes all inflammation and acts as a tonic to the animal.

A. J. McCarthy of Idaville, Ind., says: "My hogs had hog cholera three days before we got Sloan's Liniment, which was recommended to me by a neighbor who was using it with success. I have used it now for three days and my hogs are almost well. One hog died before I got the Liniment, but I have not lost any since."

Mr. G. W. Balsbaugh of Peru, Ind., writes: "I had four pigs that were coughing and were not doing well. I gave them some of Sloan's Liniment and they got better at once."

Sloan's book on Horses, Cattle, Hogs and Poultry sent free. Address Dr. Earl S. Sloan, Boston, Mass.

SEVERE BLEEDING HEMORRHOIDS,

Sores, and Itching Eczema—Doctor Thought an Operation Necessary—Cuticura's Efficacy Proven.

"I am now eighty years old, and three years ago I was taken with an attack of piles (hemorrhoids), bleeding and protruding. The doctor said the only help for me was to go to a hospital and be operated on. I tried several remedies for months but did not get much help. During this time sores appeared which changed to a terrible itching eczema. Then I began to use Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, injecting a quantity of Cuticura Ointment with a Cuticura Suppository Syringe. It took a month of this treatment to get me in a fairly healthy state and then I treated myself once a day for three months and, after that, once or twice a week. The treatments I tried took a lot of money, and it is fortunate that I used Cuticura. J. H. Henderson, Hopkinton, N. Y., Apr. 26, '07."

MULE FINDS GOLD MINE

Fly Bites His Flank, Idaho Donkey Responds and Kicks Into Rich Ledge.

The famous Coeur d'Alene mining district of northern Idaho has proved to be a pretty successful factory for the production of millionaires. Rich men are in the making there.

The records of this millionaire's factory are crammed full of picturesque, even romantic pages. What is stranger than fiction throughout the entire story. The largest single producer shows a net profit for the year of $2,264,213.

And for all this vast treasure, says the Technical World, the millionaire owners have a donkey to thank. It was a piebald burro, Bill by name, who, in kicking at a tormenting fly, uncovered the ledge of rich ore a couple of decades ago which has been developed into the great mines of today. The donkey deserves the credit, for the courts of Idaho decided in his favor; the records still show it.

Shameful Wood Cutting.

The cuttings in Uncle Sam's wood lot during 1907 were the most severe on record. They were 7 per cent more than the cut reported in 1906, and amounted to considerably over 40,000,000,000 of board feet. Texas, possibly because of this year's more accurate reports, rose from eighth to third place among lumber-producing States. The supply in the north is giving out; in the south the forests are being ruthlessly destroyed. Prices for lumber have climbed for half a century, while the average consumption per capita has risen from 250 feet in 1850 to 460 in 1900 and 486 feet in 1907. It has been a stupid waste of sylvan capital, without thought of interest.—New York Times.

Electro-Plating on Wood.

The prime requisite in producing an electrolytic coating on wood, paper, cloth or other nonmetallic material, is that the latter shall first be made capable of receiving such a coating. One of the best receiving processes for making the surface of the article an electric conductor consists in giving it an impalpable coating of metallic silver, says the Optician. This can be done by first immersing it in a 10 per cent alcoholic solution of silver nitrate, and letting this dry on; then dipping it in a 10 per cent solution of yellow phosphorus in carbon bisulphide.
