Doctors Declare Dust Disseminates Disease.

Dust on store shelves and stock indicates disease.

It indicates a sluggish condition of the business blood.

Dust accumulates where trade decays.

Dusting the shelves with a duster is like taking drugs—a dose now and then relieves, but it doesn't cure.

Build up the blood of your business and make the microbes migrate.

WAS MIXED OFTEN.

Druggists Hear Much Praise for Simple Home-Made Mixture.

Some remarkable stories are being told about town and among the country people coming in of this simple home-made mixture curing Rheumatism and Kidney trouble. Here is the recipe and directions for taking: Mix by shaking well in a bottle one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon, three ounces Compound Syrup Sarasparilla. Take as a dose one teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime.

No change need be made in your usual diet, but drink plenty of good water.

This mixture has a peculiar tonic effect upon the kidneys; cleansing the clogged-up pores of the eliminative tissues, forcing the kidneys to sift and strain from the blood the uric acid and other poisonous waste matter, overcoming Rheumatism, Bladder and Urinary troubles in a short while.

A druggist here who has had hundreds of calls for these ingredients since the first announcement in the newspapers last October, stated that the people who once try it "swear by it," especially those who have Urinary and Kidney trouble and suffer with Rheumatism.

All the druggists in this neighborhood say they can supply the ingredients, which are easily mixed at home. There is said to be no better blood-cleansing agent or system tonic known, and certainly none more harmless or simple to use.

MARKED FOR DEATH.

This medicine holds the world's healing record for coughs and colds and lung and throat diseases. It prevents pneumonia. Sold under guarantee at E. H. Miller's drug store. 50c. and $1.00. ### THE FARMER'S WIFE.

Two opposing views of the status of a farmer's wife come out of the middle west. A vague statement in some "woman's column" by a sentimental writer "that it is a fond dream of mine to become a farmer's wife and meander down life's pathway," drew this comment from a country editor. "Oh, yes, that is a nice thing, but when your husband meanders off and leaves you without wood, and you have to meander up and down the lane pulling splinters off the fence to cook the dinner; and you meander around in the wet clover in search of the cows, until your shoes are the color of the setting sun, and each stocking absorbs a pint of water, and when you meander out across twenty acres of plowed ground to drive the cows out of the buck-wheat, and tear your dress on a wire fence, and when you meander back to the house and find that the goat has butted your child until it resembles a pumpkin, and find the old hen and sixteen chickens in the parlor, the cat in the cupboard and the dog in the milk, you will realize, dear girl, that this meander business is not what it is cracked up to be." The other view—the optimistic one—can be set forth as follows: A cheering person can picture farm life so idyllic—that the farmer, on rising in the morning, does not disturb his wife, but says good morning into the boudoir phonograph. He may add a hint as to what he would like to have for breakfast when he returns from his automobile ride about the farm. At eight o'clock the maid calls the farmer's wife, and by half past nine she has a telephone call from her husband, over on the northwest quarter, saying that he will join her in five minutes. At breakfast the morning papers are read, having come by rural delivery a few minutes before, and the wife announces the program for the day. It may be French, music, physical culture or clubs. A package of the latest novels, a ride across the country on a blooded mare, skating in winter, golf in summer, a lecture on art in the village hall—all these things are set forth as possibilities for the plutocratic farmer's wife in this state. And in the evening the pianola puts Beethoven or Handel at the lady's finger tips. The children are put to bed, the governess dismissed, and a telephone conference with the neighbors over the day's gossip is begun. The farmer reads his favorite poet, and the night glides on.
