FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE

Makes Kidneys and Bladder Right. Baltimore Drinks Up Its Entire Real Estate Value Every 19 Years. William H. Anderson, anti-saloon propagandist, said in Baltimore last Monday:

Basing estimates on 313 days as an average, the cost of maintaining a licensed saloon is $20 or $30 a day and upward. At $30 a day, or $9,000 a year, the 1,880 licensed places in Baltimore have to receive $17,520,000 a year. The total real estate assessment of Baltimore is $325,000,000 and the personal property $298,000,000; so that Baltimore drinks up its entire real estate value every 19 years and its entire personal property value every 17 years, and the city now drinks up the interest on all real estate at 4 per cent. every 12 months.

The Journal doesn't know anything of the accuracy of Mr. Anderson's figures, but if they are half correct they furnish some reason for the Baltimore Sun's protest against sending $28,000,000 of State money, most of which it claims is paid by the city, to Allegheny county for school purposes.—Frostburg Mining Journal.

TAKE CARE OF THE BOYS.

Mothers Are Often Indifferent Concerning Evening Recreations of Their Sons.

Are you sure you know where your boys are evenings—positively know, or just that they are 'in the neighborhood somewhere'?

Every boy is a live wire that, unless properly insulated, will do mischief to himself and others. Even then the wires get crossed, and there are all sorts of complications.

Of course your girls are safely indoors under the parental eyes, or properly chaperoned elsewhere; you would not dream of allowing them out after night had fallen; but "the boys" can take care of themselves," you say.

That is one of the greatest mistakes parents make. Your boys are as tender plants as your girls.

The old idea that a daughter is more of a responsibility than a son is a mistake. If anything, the boys are more of a charge, for a girl is put on the defensive from the time she is born; she is made aware of the raging lion on every street-corner seeking to devour her; but the boy, in many cases, is totally unarmed with advice of the right nature and is sent out to do battle with the monster whose habitat is the corner and the loafing place in city, town and country. Boys are not so quick to recognize wickedness as their sisters, and it soaks into them thoroughly and surely, and sometimes a whole lifetime is insufficient to eradicate the harmful impressions received in childhood. Therefore, the mother's duty is as absolute to her son as to her daughter, and does not end in simply providing him with food and an education, and in sending him to Sunday school.—The March New Idea Woman's Magazine.

A Wall From The Emporia Gazette. "The mud is deep and the mud is gray, and I have mud that I'd give away; the mud is splashed on my ears and nose; there's mud all over my Sunday clothes, alas, and alackaday! The rooster stands on the dipping barn, but he cannot crow with a tinker's darn; the rain falls down, for it can't fall up, and gloom and sorrow have filled my cup, alas, and alackaday! The old roof leaks as it leaked before, and the tomat yowls at the kitchen door; the wind wails by like a soul in pain, and who isn't tired of the reign of rain, alas, and alackaday!"

WHAT IS EFFECT OF EXCESSIVE DEFORESTATION?

Startling Facts Little Dreamed of by Most People—Timber Famine Rapidly Approaching.

"What has been the effect of the tremendous consumption of timber upon our forests?" This question is often asked by people in various sections of the country, and often the information of the average man on the subject is not definite enough to enable him to make a clear and satisfactory answer.

R. S. Kellogg, assistant forester, engaged upon statistics in the United States Forest Service, in giving a concise answer to the important question, says:

"Now our annual requirements exceed forty billion feet of timber, one hundred million cross-ties, four million cords of pulp wood, besides great quantities of other forms of forest products, such as firewood, posts, poles, mine timbers, etc. The per capita consumption of lumber in the United States was 215 board feet in 1850; now it is 470 board feet.

"One forest region after another has been attacked. With the exception of Maine, the New England states are cutting mostly second or third growth timber. The box factories there take white pine saplings down to six inches in diameter. The so-called 'exhaustible' white pine forests of Michigan are gone, and millions of acres of cut-over and burned-over land have gone upon the delinquent tax list. Michigan supplied 23 per cent. of the lumber production of the United States in 1880, and less than 5 per cent. of it in 1907.

"The value of the lumber production in Michigan since 1849 has been 50 per cent. greater than the output of gold in California, and it has all taken place without a thought for the future. The cream of our hardwoods is gone, and it is becoming more and more difficult to get in sufficient quantity the high grades of oak, yellow poplar, ash, and hickory that our great manufacturing industries require. The South's once great supply of yellow pine is rapidly giving way before axe and saw, fire and tornado. Half a generation more will, in most places, see little but remnants left of the Southern forests, and in that time the Pacific coast supplies will be heavily drawn upon.

"Ours is primarily a wood-using civilization. Despite the introduction of substitutes for wood in the form of stone, cement, concrete, and steel, our consumption of timber has constantly increased from the earliest days up to the present time. The prices of forest products have risen more rapidly than those of other commodities. According to the reports of the Bureau of Labor, the quoted prices of the leading kinds of lumber on the New York market have risen twice as much in the last ten years as the average increase in all commodities. This indicates that the supply of timber is not keeping pace with the demand."

SAID TO BE PINE. This Simple Home-Made Treatment Will Overcome Rheumatism. Few people here know that you can cure that dread American disease, Rheumatism, with just common, everyday drugs found in any drug store. The prescription is so simple that any one can prepare it at home at small cost. It is made up as follows: Get from any good prescription pharmacy Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime. These are all simple ingredients, making an absolutely harmless home remedy at little cost.

Rheumatism, as every one knows, is a symptom of deranged kidneys. It is a condition produced by the failure of the kidneys to properly filter or strain from the blood the uric acid and other matter, which, if not eradicated, either in the urine or through the skin pores, remains in the blood, decomposes and forms about the joints and muscles, causing the untold suffering and deformity of rheumatism.

This prescription is said to be a splendid healing, cleansing and invigorating tonic to the kidneys, and gives almost immediate relief in all forms of bladder and urinary troubles and backache.

Better Not Get Dyspepsia

If you can help it, Kodol prevents Dyspepsia, by effectually helping Nature to Relieve Indigestion. But don't trifle with Indigestion.

A great many people who have trifled with indigestion, have been sorry for it—when nervous or chronic dyspepsia resulted, and they have not been able to cure it. Use Kodol and prevent having Dyspepsia. Everyone is subject to indigestion. Stomach derangement follows stomach abuse, just as naturally and just as surely as a sound and healthy stomach results upon the taking of Kodol. When you experience sourness of stomach, belching of gas and nauseating fluid, bloated sensation, gnawing pain in the pit of the stomach, heart burn (so-called), diarrhoea, headaches, dullness or chronic tired feeling—you need Kodol. And then the quicker you take Kodol—the better. Eat what you want, let Kodol digest it. Ordinary pepsin "dyspepsia tablets," physics, etc., are not likely to be of much benefit to you, in digestive ailments. Pepsin is only a partial digester—and physics are not digesters at all. Kodol is a perfect digester. If you could see Kodol digesting every particle of food, of all kinds, in the glass test-tubes in our laboratories, you would know this just as well as we do. Nature and Kodol will always cure a sick stomach—but in order to be cured, the stomach must rest. That is what Kodol does—rests the stomach, while the stomach gets well. Just as simple as A, B, C.
