J. T. Smearman is the only man in town who has put up any ice, this winter, and in other towns throughout this state there has been practically no ice cut from the streams, owing to the mildness of the winter. It is almost a certainty that no ice thick enough to cut and pack will be frozen on the streams and ponds during the remainder of the winter, and people who use ice will have to depend on the manufactured article. The chances are that they will have to pay famine prices for it, too.

This is the most dangerous time of the year to catch cold, and it is the hardest time to cure it. If you should take a cold, a few doses of Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup will act very promptly. Its laxative principle cures the cold by driving it from the system by a gentle but natural action of the bowels. Children especially like Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup, as it tastes so good, nearly like maple sugar. It is sold by E. H. Miller. 4-1

Norman Miller, a well-known young farmer and greenhouse gardener, of Elk Lick township, sent his wife to a Baltimore hospital, last Saturday afternoon, to undergo a surgical operation. The lady was believed to be suffering from appendicitis and gall stones, and when she left here it was believed that a double operation might be necessary. We have heard nothing concerning her condition since she was taken away, but her many friends all hope she will soon be able to return home thoroughly cured of her ailments.

Elk Lick Pharmacy, E. H. Miller, Prop. 4-1

Edward Reitz has purchased a cider manufacturing plant at New Enterprise, Bedford county, Pa., and expects to move there some time next month. It is his intention to enlarge the plant and also manufacture apple butter, as well as embark in the feed business. His prospective location is in a wealthy farming community, and his prospects for a successful business are very bright. Edward is one of Salisbury's best and most popular citizens, and we regret exceedingly that he has decided to leave here. However, we wish him the greatest possible success in his new location.

Ruth Folk, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Folk, of Elk Lick township, had a narrow escape from being badly burned, one day last week, while at her father's sugar-camp. Some of the hot ashes raked from the furnace came in contact with the young lady's clothing, in some way, setting fire to them. Fortunately Miss Ruth had presence of mind enough to throw herself upon the ground and smother out the fire by rolling from side to side. Her clothing was badly burned, but that was the extent of the damage, we are glad to note. The young lady was alone at the camp when the accident occurred.

How can any person risk taking some unknown cough remedy when Foley's Honey and Tar costs them no more? It is a safe remedy, contains no harmful drugs, and cures the most obstinate coughs and colds. Why experiment with your health? Insist upon having the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar. Elk Lick Pharmacy, E. H. Miller, Proprietor. 4-1

A belated traveler, who was compelled to stay all night in a Southern backwoods cabin, says that soon after the frugal meal, a tall, gaunt youth of about 18, and an equally scrawny and gaunt girl of 17, both barefooted, took their hats from wooden pegs in the wall and prepared to go out, whereupon the mother, taking her pipe from between her yellow teeth, said, reprovingly: "Go long an' wash your feet, Levi, you and Looly both! Hain't you 'shamed without washin' your feet?" They obeyed, but as Levi took the washpan from a bench by the door, he said, with a grumble: "I'd 'bout as soon stay home from a party as to have to fix up for it!"

Our genial friend Kearney Simpkins, who is an inveterate smoker of tobacco, as well as an entertaining talker, recently made a mathematical calculation to ascertain about what the tobacco habit has cost him since he first began to use the weed. He informed the editor that if the money he spent for the weed had been placed on interest as he spent it, and the interest compounded to date of his computation, it would foot up to at least $7,000. Like all honest men, Mr. Simpkins does not uphold a bad habit because he indiscreetly formed it in his younger days and elung to it. His advice to all young men is to let tobacco strictly alone. A $7,000 bad habit is too expensive for any man, he admits.

Good Farm Help Searce.

The farmers are complaining of the scarcity of good help for the coming season. They claim wages are quite high, this year, some paying $38.00 per month for nine months' work, with house, chickens, eggs, etc., together with a horse and buggy when needed, and an occasional half holiday. Even at this, they say it is hard to get help.—Morrison (Ill.) Sentinel.

Officers of P. & M. Trolley Company Meet.

On Tuesday the officers and chief stockholders of the P. & M. Street Railway Company met at the First National Bank of Salisbury for the transaction of special business. In addition to the local officers and stockholders, the following named stockholders from Jennington, W. Va., Towanda, Pa., and Jennings, Md., were present: President C. H. Jennings, E. T. Kizer, R. J. Gaskin, Geo. R. Hill and Herman Behr. The next link of the P. & M. trolley system to be built is the link between Somerset and Boswell, the construction of which will be in operation at an early date. The company has placed an order with our local engine works for a small engine to be built as soon as possible, so that it can be used to transport rails and ties during the Somerset and Boswell extension.

RHEUMATISM RECIPE.

Directions To Prepare Simple, Yet Remarkable Home Mixture.

A well-known authority on Rheumatism gives the following valuable, though simple and harmless prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost, and being of vegetable extraction, are harmless to take.

This pleasant mixture, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of Rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminishes with each dose, until permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach. While there are many so-called Rheumatism remedies, patent medicines, etc., some of which do give relief, few really give permanent results, and the above will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.

Inquiry at the drug stores of this neighborhood elicits the information that these drugs are harmless and can be bought separately, or the druggists here will mix the prescription for our readers if asked to.

Wills Probated.

The following wills have been probated in the office of Register Bert F. Landis:

Catherine Ann DeHaven, late of Salisbury, bequeathed all her property to her daughter, Marie McGarey, and appointed her executrix. The will is dated September 3rd, 1908.

Sarah Speicher, widow of Tobias Speicher, late of Stonycreek township, bequeathed one-half of all her property to Jacob F. and Alvin R. Knepper and directed that the remainder of her estate be divided in equal shares among all her nephews and nieces, share and share alike. She appointed as executors Jacob W. and Alvin R. Knepper. The will bears the date January 23, 1908.

Alex. Miller, late of Lincoln township, bequeathed his farm in that township, containing 80 acres, and also his personal property to his son John B. Miller, whom he directs to pay to Elmira Ash, wife of David Ash, the sum of $700, and to Margaret, wife of Philson Berkey, the sum of $300. The testator appoints his son John H. Miller, executor. The will is dated January 31, 1898.

Caused Terrible Explosion by Putting Kerosene Into Furnace.

Miss Grace Wright, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Wright, well-known residents of Elk Lick township, recently had some experience she will not soon forget. The fire in the furnace which heats the Wright residence being quite low, Miss Grace thought she could assist it by placing in the furnace a quantity of kerosene. After shutting the furnace door and stepping aside, a terrific explosion took place, setting fire to the girl's clothing and shattering some of the glass out of the windows. The young lady was painfully burned on one of her arms, but succeeded in extinguishing the fire about her clothing before being burned seriously. Had she been standing in front of the furnace door when the force of the explosion blew it open, she likely would have been killed or seriously injured. They who feed a fire by using kerosene, are apt to soar higher than they have ever been.
