WANT every chronic rheumatism to throw away all medicines, all incidents, all agonies and pains, and you will have your RHEUMATISM REMEDY. It will give you relief from your friends may say, no matter what your doctor may say, no matter what your friends may say, no matter what your doctor may say, no matter what your friends may say, no matter what your doctor may say...

THE INFALLIBLE MAN.

The man who never makes mistakes is never popular. His cursed infallibility is his friend. To friendship is a bar. It's maddening when things go wrong. To hear him calmly say: "You might have known you'd botch it when you went to work that way."

FINANCE AND TRADE REVIEW

WEEKLY TRADE SUMMARY

Better Showing Made in Several Lines of Iron and Steel Manufacture.

New York—R. G. Dun & Co.'s "Weekly Review of Trade" says: "The stimulating effect of fine spring weather is shown in the reports from nearly all the principal cities. Some progress is making to ward better things in iron and steel, although conditions as a whole remain very unsettled. The continued uncertainty as to prices in some finished lines is the chief drawback, widely circulated reports of further price cutting having a depressing effect. The best feature is in the structural division, the low prices named resulting in a heavy movement, while orders pending aggregate a substantial volume.

"The woolen goods division, the distribution of sample pieces is now completed and clothiers will begin to go on the road next week. Some duplicate trade is already reported in the primary market, an indication that orders have been placed by retail clothiers.

The Eastern boot and shoe market is quiet, wholesalers as a rule limiting the volume of new orders, but trade shows a slight increase over the past six or eight weeks.

"Sole and upper leather continues quiet, although there has been a slight increase in the demand, and tanners are holding prices steady, owing to the high market for hides."

SALMON PUDDING WITH PEAS. Remove the bones and skin from 1 can of salmon; flake the fish, that is, pull it into flakes with a fork, and put into a dish with alternating layers of day-old bread crumbs and a sauce made by placing 2 table-spoonfuls of butter in a saucepan; when it ceases to foam stir in 2 table-spoonfuls of flour, then add 1/2 pint of hot milk, 1-4 teaspoon each of salt and pepper; cook until creamy. Have the fish and last layers of crumbs in the dish. Bake for 20 or 30 minutes in a moderate oven or until the top is puffy and brown. Serve in the baking dish, if it is a pretty one, and spoon buttered hot peas on the plate, or for company run a knife about the edge, slip gently on a hot dish; arrange the buttered and seasoned peas on top and at the base. Pieces of lemon are used as a garnish and then passed with the fish.—Boston Post.

It costs money to live in the capitals of Europe and to live as the representatives of other nations do. The United States, asserts the St. Paul Pioneer Press, does not begrudge what it costs to have its own diplomats housed and to enable them to entertain in a becoming fashion.

Habitual Constipation

May be permanently overcome by proper personal efforts with the assistance of the one truly beneficial laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs & Elixir of Senna, which enables one to form regular habits daily so that assistance to nature may be gradually dispensed with when no longer needed, as the best of remedies, when required, are to assist nature, and not to supplant the natural functions, which must depend ultimately upon proper nourishment, proper efforts, and right living generally. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine, manufactured by THE CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. GOLD BY ALL LEADING DRUGGISTS ONE BOTTLE—REGULAR PRICE 50¢ PER BOTTLE.

New Charity Scheme. The United States Tobacco Journal tells of a curious scheme in use in Germany for raising money for charity. Boxes for cigar and cigar ends have been placed in cafes and public buildings by a charity organization, and enough money is expected from the sale of this class of refuse to feed and clothe 1,728 children during the winter months. What becomes of the stumps is a secret fortunately kept from the smokers.

CHILD ATE CUTICURA.

Spread Whole Box of It on Crackers—Not the Least Injurious Result—Thus Proven Pure and Sweet. A New York friend of Cuticura writes: "My three year old son and heifer, after being out on a trip across the Atlantic, investigated the stateroom and located a box of graham crackers and a box of Cuticura Ointment. When a search was made for the box, it was found empty and the kid admitted that he had eaten the contents of the entire box spread on the crackers. I cured him of a bad cold and I don't know what else." No more conclusive evidence could be offered that every ingredient of Cuticura Ointment is absolutely pure, sweet and harmless. If it may be safely eaten by a young child, none but the most beneficial results can be expected to attend its application to even the tenderest skin or youngest infant. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props. of Cuticura Remedies, Boston, Mass.

In case of accident, cuts, wounds, burns, scalds, sprains, bruises, etc., nothing will so quickly take away all pain and soreness as Hamlin's Wizard Oil.

Poor Lo, the Indian. The bureau of Indian affairs is endeavoring to save the Indian. The menace which it is fighting is tuberculosis. Unless this is successfully fought, the race will follow the buffalo into extinction. While the Indian roamed free in his hunting grounds, living in the open air, and taking the storms as they came, he was safe from the white plague, but when he was subjected to the pains and penalties of civilization, he began to suffer and to decrease. The bureau contemplates a scheme of education, in the way of sanitation, personal cleanliness, and preventive measures, and by this way it is hoped to cut down the frightful death toll that has been increasing year by year. It is said the Indians are dying off at the rate of a thousand a year, and this number is increasing, so that in a few years Poor Lo will be no more. The bureau takes its stand on the humanity side of the proposition, but still, there is something romantic in the idea of letting the Indian live on.

"MEMOIRS OF DAN RICE," THE CLOWN OF OUR DADDIES.

At Last, There is on Sale a Book Brimful of American Humor.

Any bookseller will tell you that the constant quest of his customers is for a "book which will make me laugh." The bookman is compelled to reply that the race of American humorists has run out and comic literature is scarcer than funny plays. A wide sale is therefore predicted for the "Memoirs of Dan Rice," the Clown of Our Daddies, written by Maria Ward Brown, a book guaranteed to make you roar with laughter. The author presents to the public a volume of the great Jester's most pungent jokes, comic harangues, caustic hits upon men and manners, lectures, anecdotes, sketches of adventure, original songs and poetical effusions; wise and witty, serious, satirical, and sentimental sayings of the sawdust arena of other days. These "Memoirs" also contain a series of adventures and incidents alternating from grave to gay; descriptive scenes and thrilling events; the record of half a century of a remarkable life, in the course of which the subject was brought into contact with most of the national celebrities of the day. The book abounds in anecdotes, humorous and otherwise; and it affords a clearer view of the inside mysteries of show life than any account heretofore published. Old Dan Rice, as the proprietor of the famous "One Horse Show," was more of a national character than Artemus Ward, and this volume contains the humor which made the nation laugh even while the great Civil War raged. This fascinating book of 500 pages, beautifully illustrated, will be sent postpaid to you for $1.50. Address Book Publishing House, 134 Leonard street, New York City.

Historical Footnote. Socrates had just swallowed the hemlock. "There's no benzoate of soda in it, anyhow," he said, "and I'd rather take my dose all at once and have it over than to linger along for years as a member of a poison squad." But Plato, who was paid by the line, worked up this simple incident into a story of several thousand words.—Chicago Tribune.

Discontent of a Sailor's Wife. Noah was plainly downcast. "I brought along plenty of clothes for my wife, but she says they look as if they came out of the ark!" he cried. Herewith he saw that the salvage of baggage was a mistake.—New York Sun.

Earth in a Quiver. Prof. G. H. Darwin, son of the great Darwin, in a recent lecture in London confirmed the discovery of the German astronomer, Hecker, that there are tides in the earth's crust itself, similar to those of the ocean, but very much less, of course. In other words, the earth's crust moves up and down one-third as much as if it was liquid throughout. In the latitude of London, the speaker said, the vertical rise and fall was from 4 to 5 inches daily. For six years, Prof. Hecker worked, day and night, inside of a chamber, cut inside of a well 80 feet deep, and discovered this regular undulation of the earth's crust, and at the same time he learned that the earth itself was about as stiff as steel throughout. It does not seem that the patient professor has evolved any theory from this interesting fact, or to illustrate with it any phase of the cosmical evolution. That will probably come after. It is quite sufficient to know now that the earth is a steel bubble, that is constantly in a quiver.

A Composite Product. Mrs. Boggs—Mr. Meekman is a splendid example of what a man ought to be.

Mr. Boggs—Not on your life. He's a splendid example of what a wife, two sisters, a grown-up daughter and a mother-in-law think a man ought to be.—Puck.

Didn't Act Like It. Son—Pa, when you licked me this morning, did it hurt you, too? Father—Well—er, yes. Son—It didn't bother you a bit when you sat down after!

WORTH MOUNTAINS OF GOLD

During Change of Life, says Mrs. Chas. Barclay

Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth the mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter."—MRS. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D. (Graniteville, Vt.) No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures of female ills as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For more than 30 years it has been curing female complaints such as inflammation, ulceration, local weaknesses, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life. It costs but little to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and, as Mrs. Barclay says, it is "worth mountains of gold" to suffering women.

Too Risky. "Do you approve of the plan of teaching pupils to box?" "Not unconditionally," replied the country pedagogue, remembering his husky 19-year-olds. "Might be all right, though, if you'd authorize the teachers to carry guns."—Philadelphia Ledger.
