Counterfeit gold dollars are in circulation in many of the cities. They are well made, but greatly deficient in weight.

It is said that cattle and horses are dying by hundreds on the American Bottom and in that region in Illinois—supposed to result either from the effects of some poisonous herb growing there, or some virulent disease, which has become epidemic among them.

There is found growing wild in that most wonderful of all lands, California, a kind of mustard that is said to be superior to any other variety. One man has cultivated a field of forty acres, and last year he ground up a thousand bushels for market.

Emigrants from the east, and from other countries are wending their way to the west in search of new homes where they can have elbow room. The South is sending her poor devils to Kansas.

Riot in Cincinnati. CINCINNATI, May 13.—The German Turners of this city, while celebrating their anniversary at Covington yesterday, were annoyed by some boys who handled them roughly.

The excitement became intense. A large crowd collected and some demanded U. S. troops from the Newport garrison, which was refused. Stones were freely used and some weapons were discharged, but no one except the officers were much hurt.

Death of a Member of Congress. St. LOUIS, May 16.—Hon. John G. Miller, member of Congress from the Fifth District of Missouri, died at his residence on Sunday last.

A rumor prevails at Washington that there will be holding at the Cincinnati Convention, if the south should succeed in their purpose of establishing a National platform and that the seceders will nominate J. C. FRENCH as the representative of the SILAS WRIGHT, VAN BUREN, BENTON Democracy, who would be supported by the Soft Shells and Black Republicans conjointly.

Judge Smyser, of the Montgomery and Bucks District in granting licenses under the new law, propounds the question: "Does the applicant keep good liquor?" This is hardly fair, as it excludes many from obtaining a license, who would be otherwise entitled, for it is an established fact, "that good liquor in a poor man's house" is a rarity.

A BLOODY YEAR.—There were seventy-three battles fought during the year 1855, with an average loss of a thousand men in each: more than 300,000 soldiers are estimated to have perished by disease and battles; the battles average more than one a week. It is one of the bloodiest years in modern history.

Phoebe Myers, a colored woman, convicted in the court of Queen Anne's county, Md. of enticing seven slaves of R. B. A BUCHANAN "BOLT."—The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Courier and Inquirer writes:

"The strife between Mr. Buchanan and the Nebraska candidate is increasing in bitterness. Mr. B. and his friends are determined that he shall be President; and as he is now sixty-six, he and they resist all postponement of his claims. To be gin the story at the end, the Buchanan men are rapidly making up their minds to bolt the Cincinnati nomination if given to any competitor.

The slavery extension party is, however, satisfied of its ability to elect a President without any aid and its first care will be to erect a platform on which no Northern man but the most abject and servile can stand. This is openly proclaimed as a part of the policy by which moderate men on the slavery issue are to be driven into the ranks of the "Abolitionists," as the repudiators denominate Republicans and Americans."

The American State Convention met in Harrisburg on the 13th inst. Resolutions approving of the nomination of FILLMORE and DOUGLASS, denouncing the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, disapproving of the policy of the National Administration, and declaring in favor of open State Conventions, were reported. Ex-Gov. JOHNSTON offered a substitute approving of the action of those delegates who seceded from the late Philadelphia National Convention, and looking to the recognition of the New York American National Convention to be held in June, was laid on the table by a vote of 38 to 15. Eighteen members then withdrew from the Council and the original resolutions were passed.
