THE SUREST ROAD TO WEALTH IS THROUGH LIBERAL ADVERTISING!

THERE will be no change in the new apportionment bills so far as they relate to Schuylkill county. This county will remain a separate congressional district; will continue to be represented by two senators and six representatives, and will also have four judges.

The Harrisburg Telegraph remarks that "in all this discussion of ballot reform let the reader not overlook the fact that the most zealous advocates of reform in Pennsylvania are those who are either silent or have only apologized to offer when the fact is pointed out that fraud, force and murder are the main elements that keep at least seven states of this Union in the Democratic column. They have nothing much to say then. They can be as dumb as oysters when the fact that forty thousand votes elect ten Congressmen in Georgia, while it requires almost that many to elect one Congressman in any Northern state is pointed out to them. They have no condemnation for the Georgia suffrage thief. They rather rejoice in the skill and completeness of his work. What rank and barefaced hypocrisy it is for the defenders of Georgia frauds to pretend that they are anxious about a free ballot and fair count anywhere?"

Rocky Mountain Cure.
The druggists claim that people daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache, discovered by Dr. Lane while in the Rocky Mountains. This said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far West for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells at 50 cents a package and is called Lane's Family Medicine.

A New Business.
F. J. Cleary has opened a store in the Ferguson's building, on East Centre street, and is prepared to furnish the local trade with fine leather and shoe findings and all kinds of shoemaker's supplies. His stock is a large one and well equipped to fully supply all demands of the trade. 5-18-91

DR. DUMOUIN'S LEGACY.
The great Dumoulin, when dying, said: "I leave you two great physicians—simple diet and warm water." Had he lived until now he would have added a third—Dr. Dumoulin's Cure—for it is the only infallible cure for scrofula and specific disease yet discovered. Three hundred years' experience in its use. No failures and no recapses. Sold at Kirtin's Drug Store, Ferguson House Block, Shenandoah.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

GRADUATING EXERCISES IN FERGUSON'S THEATRE.

A BRILLIANT EDUCATIONAL EVENT.

Twenty Graduates Delight Over Fifteen Hundred Relatives and Friends—Striking Proof of Our School Work.

The management of Ferguson's theatre is authority for the statement that fifteen hundred people paid admission fees to witness the graduating exercises of the 18th annual commencement of the Shenandoah High School. Such is the evidence of the great interest taken in the local public school work. The graduates were equal to the occasion and their exercises gave ample return for the attendance.

THE SWEET GIRL GRADUATE.

The theatre was brilliantly illuminated and the stage handsomely decorated. The graduates were in gala day attire and presented a splendid picture when seated upon the stage. What a treat it must have been for their relatives and friends! The enthusiasm was unbounded.

Superintendent L. A. Freeman anticipated it. In fact he feared that at times the enthusiasm might reach a point when it would interfere with the exercise, so he stepped upon the stage after the curtain was raised and impressed upon the minds of the audience, in unmistakable terms, that perfect order would be maintained. The Superintendent had no occasion to call for order again during the evening.

When the curtain arose School Directors Baddell, Muldoon, Conry, Bellis, Gable, Hanna, Owens, Baird, Stein, Bachman, De-sport, Butts and Kaebel, and School Directors-elect Gallagher and Williams, were seated on the left of the stage, just behind the row of seats reserved for the graduates. The box on the right of the stage was occupied by A. P. Blakely and family, of Delano, while school teachers occupied the other.

Rev. John Grubler opened the exercises with prayer. The graduates then marched upon the stage and formed a group in the center representing the figures "91." After maintaining the position for a moment or two, the graduates formed at the footlights and rendered the "March Song" which was heartily applauded. They then took their seats and the regular exercises commenced.

Miss Tassie E. Harsett gave the salutory and an essay.

AFTER THE BATTLE.
The battle is over! What a glorious victory we have won! Yes, we can well rejoice in this our first great undertaking, and how much greater is our cause for rejoicing when we look back on our march and think of all the hardships and trials which we were obliged to undergo that we might be able to reach this point of our journey.

After a war of nine years we have reached the goal of our journey, and we can well rejoice in this our first great undertaking, and how much greater is our cause for rejoicing when we look back on our march and think of all the hardships and trials which we were obliged to undergo that we might be able to reach this point of our journey.

In the world's great field of battle, Be no like dumb-drove cattle, Be a hero in the strife.

It through this battle we deserve to stand but do not let the Divine wisdom deceive, for us, it is time which taken at the foot of the ladder, in unmistakable terms, that perfect order would be maintained.

Miss Katie L. Cunningham was warmly applauded for her essay on "Home."

A chorus "Tribute to Whittier" was rendered by the class.

An oration on "Relation of Public Schools to Government," by William B. Brown, was strikingly appropriate. The maintaining of public schools, he said, means the securing of property and peace for the country. They teach the objects and principles of a Republican form of government and the pupils are taught what to do for their country.

Miss Nellie V. Reilly's piano solo, Thalberg's "Home, Sweet Home," was well executed.

"Women as Workers" was Miss Emma E. Eisenhower's subject for an essay. "The life of every true woman, whether public or private, adds to the growth and prosperity of the country."

Miss Katie A. Whalen's essay on "Early Impressions" was quite interesting. "Parents and teachers should be careful and give no bad examples and should be careful in the language they use. Moral training should receive particular attention."

The quartette "Fortune Telling," was an amusing feature. It was rendered by Misses Morgan and Tweedle, and Messrs. Reber and Hooks.

Miss Annie L. Shesby's essay on "Railroads" was listened to with interest; and Miss Nellie V. Reilly's essay "The Past Year" was equally interesting.

"Education in our Republic" was an oration by Mr. G. A. Howell. His treatment of the theme showed considerable research in American history.

THE GRADUATING CLASS.
Miss Katie F. Becker's essay on "Louise Alcott" was a clever piece of work.

Miss Edith M. Morgan won an encore to the vocal solo "What is Love?"

Mr. W. Frank Reber's oration on "Use and Abuse of Newspapers" demonstrated that there is a warm place under the left hand side of his vest for the newspaper.

Mr. Bert C. Hooks gave an essay on "Politics—Corrupt and Inocuous," which met with the approval of all except a few Democrats in the back part of the theatre.

Miss Edith M. Morgan's essay on "Early Associations" was an intelligent piece of work and Miss Mary A. Lynch's essay on "Fashion" showed considerable knowledge of the customs of olden times. Miss Nellie J. Griffiths solo "Love's Old Song" was well received.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Post and Camp Honor to Deceased Soldiers.

The number of people who visited town on Saturday to witness the Memorial Day exercises ran up into the thousands. From early morn till long after dark the streets swarmed with people and the railroads did a large business.

The parade was a large and striking one, and but two of the organizations on the programme failed to turn in line—the Phoenix Hose Company and St. Patrick's society. But as the employees of the P. & R. colliers in this district were paid in the morning, it would not have been surprising if there were more absentees.

The attendance at the cemeteries were very large and the graves were profusely decorated with lovely flowers. A few of the graves after the ceremonies evidenced great interest in the memories of departed friends and loved ones.

The ceremonies in the G. A. R. plot of the Odd Fellows' cemetery were particularly impressive. After the firing of the customary salute over the graves of the departed heroes, S. G. M. Holloper, Esq. was introduced as the orator of the day.

His address was one of the best ever made on like occasions in the cemetery and the speaker was warmly congratulated.

G. A. R. VETS IN PARADE.

After paying a tribute of respect to the memory of the deceased heroes and exhorting the living to deeds of noble, God-like action, Mr. Holloper enlarged upon the following propositions: That we are living in extraordinary times. That these years of peaceful prosperity, in which we are rapidly developing a great and powerful continent, are the pivot on which is turning the nation's future.

That the destinies of mankind, for centuries to come, will be seriously affected and determined by the men of this generation in the United States.

Cornet Geary's Bones Found.

FLEMINGTON, N. J., June 1.—The Hunterdon County Historical Society is in high feather. Its members have found the grave and exhumed the bones of Cornet Geary, an officer in the British army, who was shot and killed and buried here in 1778. He was shot while making a raid on an American house with a detachment of English soldiers. It was maintained that his body had been taken to England, but the historical society has proved this an error. With the bones found were several British army uniform buttons with the initials "Q. L. D. 16" on them, signifying "Queen's Light Dragoons, Sixteenth regiment," the command to which Geary belonged.

AGAINST THE FAIR

CHICAGO WORKMEN BEGIN AN ATTACK.

THEY WILL FOMENT STRIKES.

Trying to induce the City Council to Hold Back the $5,000,000 Voted—The Unions Meet and Adopt a Programme.

By National Press Association.
CHICAGO, June 1.—Organized labor, failing to obtain any satisfaction from the World's Fair question regarding the minimum wage question, has begun an attack upon the enterprise and will endeavor to induce the city council to hold back the $5,000,000 recently voted by the city for exposition purposes.

A meeting was held yesterday by representatives of the Central Labor unions and a fighting programme laid out. These unions propose to do everything in their power to hurt the fair unless they get some sort of satisfaction, and the probabilities seem to be that a series of strikes will result as soon as work is begun upon the fair buildings, which will be in a few weeks.

The war will be bitterly waged, and strikes will not only be fomented among the men employed in the work of construction upon the grounds, but those who work in the mills and foundries that are to furnish materials for the buildings.

TO LEAVE THE CABINET.

A Rumor that Secretary Noble Will Go to St. Petersburg or London.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—It is generally believed in official circles that while Secretary Noble is not going to leave the public service they would not be surprised if in a very short time he would retire from the Interior Department to accept a prominent place in the Diplomatic Service.

One story is to the effect that he will take Minister Smith's place at St. Petersburg. Another and more probable story is that if Secretary Noble should be selected to succeed Senator Edmunds, which now seems certain, Minister Lincoln will be made Secretary of War and Secretary Noble will be sent to the Court of St. James.

Secretary Noble is still absent, but there are those in his department who believe that he will not much longer occupy his present position.

Mrs. Harrison's Plans.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Mrs. Harrison has been giving much of her time lately to settling upon the plans of the redecoration and various other changes which will be made in the White House during the summer. The decoration of the vestibule and corridor, the great parlor and state dining room are what the public will see the most of, but the necessary changes and repairs in the plumbing and other work of that character is giving her as much concern. If the weather is favorable for the change, she now expects to go to Cape May Point about June 15 and spend the entire summer there. The White House will scarcely be habitable after July 1.

Died While Undergoing an Operation.

New York, June 1.—Willis P. Canada, aged 13, residing in Brooklyn, died at his home last evening while under the influence of chloroform during the performance of an operation. His upper lip had grown to abnormal size through his habit of continually sucking it. An operation was decided upon by physicians to remove some of the excess growth. Chloroform was administered, and while in an unconscious state the boy showed signs of heart failure. The doctors made every effort to save his life, but he gradually grew weaker and in an hour's time was dead.

CLASS ORATOR.

Mr. A. A. Reed, Jr., made an oration on "Law and Order" very effectively and won an encore. He took the late mob act in New Orleans for his theme and handled it well. He attributed part of the trouble to a selection of ignorant men for jury work and declared that it is one of the nastiest things to convict a negro of a crime in cities like New Orleans, while it is almost impossible to convict a white man.

He thought affairs like those in New Orleans could be righted by the people ceasing to play with justice. The newspapers should teach the people that mob law is a disgrace to a civilized community and Congress should pass more restrictive anti-congress laws.

The chorus "The Mower's Song" was rendered by the class, after which Miss Katie F. Brogan read an interesting essay on "Lost Opportunities," in which she cited Napoleon's defeat at Waterloo by failure to grasp the opportunity.

Miss Nellie A. Kern's oration on "Progress of Man" won him honor. "There seems to be a divine standard towards which an is steadily drifting. Man is approaching nearer and nearer to that ideal which God created him."

The "Solley Quartette" by members of the class won an encore.
