HAD FOUR HUSBANDS

The Coroner's Jury Believe the Last One Was Poisoned.

THE WIDOW PLACED IN JAIL.

All the Circumstances Point Suspiciously to Foul Play.

The Accused Woman Tells Conflicting Stories—She Said Her Husband Threatened to Kill Her—Traces of Paris Green Found in His Food—Two Other Husbands Died in the Same Way.

ROME, N. Y., June 8.—The inquest touching the death of John Sorganferie, who was found dead in bed at his residence on Laura street, Utica, resulted in the coroner's jury finding that Sorganferie came to his death from Paris green, and that from the conflicting testimony of those nearest connected with the deceased, they believe that the poison was administered to him by his wife Carolina.

It was first thought that Sorganferie had committed suicide, as he was found in his bed with a dipper on the floor containing traces of Paris green. From the strange actions of Mrs. Sorganferie the coroner suspected something more than suicide.

By investigating the case he found that not only were the circumstances of Sorganferie's death peculiar, but that the woman had had four husbands, two of them dying by poison. Sorganferie had eaten a hearty supper the night before, and his wife testified that he did not eat anything. Traces of Paris green were found in the food he had eaten. It was found he had a quarrel with his wife the night before. She testified that he threatened to kill her, and that she would not sleep with him, though she knew nothing of his death, only that she found him dead in the morning.

The coroner found that a week or two before his death his wife found him with a notorious woman by the name of Mary Fox, who threatened to keep Sorganferie with her. This woman swore to this at the inquest.

Mrs. Sorganferie was very jealous over this woman. Sorganferie had property worth about $2,000. She married him with the intention of getting this property. These circumstances, combined with the fact that two other husbands of the woman died in the same house by the same means, point suspiciously to foul play. Mrs. Sorganferie is confined in the Utica jail.

THE BACCARAT CASE.

Sir Charles Russell Resumes His Argument This Morning.

LONDON, June 8.—The Baccarat trial continues to excite the greatest interest, and it is said that even yesterday the Chief Justice received several applications for seats in the court room to-day. The applicants included, it is stated, an official of the admiralty who had a narrow escape recently from himself becoming the hero of a court sensation.

The report that the Prince of Wales is in debt to Arthur Wilson is denied on semi-official authority, and a Sunday newspaper which had given out an intention of publishing something about the matter received a plain intimation that proceedings would follow.

Sir Charles Russell resumed his address to the jury this morning, and, judging from the scope of his remarks, it is probable that he will take up a considerable portion of the sitting of the Court to-day. Sir Edward Clarke is to follow with the closing speech for the prosecution, and is not likely to fall behind Sir Charles in the length of his speech; as the evidence being rather largely on his forensic powers to restore the case of his client. If he gets a chance to open after the recess he will be fortunate, and will no doubt take up a large part of to-morrow. Then comes the summing up by the Lord Chief Justice, to which all look with the greatest interest, especially that part which is to treat of the Prince of Wales.

The case cannot be given to the jury before to-morrow evening. How long it will take for the jury to come to a decision it is impossible to tell. While it is a remarkably sympathetic body, and has followed the case with closest attention, it has shown no inclination of inclining to either side. Much will depend on Lord Coleridge's charge, which cannot fail to have great influence with the jury. Should he be able to clear up in advance their doubts, differences and hesitations, an early verdict is to be expected.

John Burns Arrested.

LONDON, June 8.—The London omnibus strike was attended by some excitement. Burns, the Socialist, occupied a bus driven by a novice without a badge, as is required by law. Two constables removed Burns from the bus and took him to Bow street, while the crowd cheered him. Upon being released he hastened to address a meeting at Westminster. Piratical bus drivers collected a sixpence for any distance and the underground railways carried enormous numbers of people. Public sympathy is with the strikers on the question of hours.

Attached by a Drunken Mob.

COLUMBIA, Ind., June 8.—The north-bound train on the Pennsylvania line was attacked by a drunken mob just after it pulled out of Seymour at 9 o'clock last night. Knives were drawn and used freely. Charles Outalinger was badly used up, as were also two strangers. The train was in charge of Larry Smith, conductor, who placed four men under arrest here and lodged them in jail.

No More Negro Waiters.

ROCKFORD, Ill., June 8.—A revolution has been inaugurated in the matter of dining room waiters at the various mountain resorts of Virginia and West Virginia. The proprietors have determined to substitute white girls for negro waiters. This has already been accomplished at Ravine Springs, at the Hotel Intersect at Covington and at the Hotel Elkton at Elkton. The proprietor of the last named hotel brought on from New York an expert white girl waiter, who drilled the new girls in their duties.

Strikes in a Shipyard.

ELIZABETH, N. J., June 8.—The bolters, riveters and walkers, 21 in number, employed on the government practice cruiser now building at the shipyard of Samuel Moore & Sons, here, are on strike for an advance of wages. The men work on piece work, and the firm says they could not average more than 33. They tried to get the other workmen to stop work, and the firm telephoned to police headquarters and policemen were sent to prevent disturbance. Work on the cruiser has been suspended.

Three Prominent Citizens Arrested.

WALDO, Ark., June 8.—Three of the most prominent citizens in town, ex-Mayor J. R. Johnson, J. T. Faulkner and Ed. Waller have been arrested by U. S. Mail Inspector McJure, charged with robbing the mails at McJure on March 16. The three are also suspected of being connected with the recent safe robbery. They will be taken to Texarkana for examination.

THE MISSING MONEY.

Philadelphia Detectives Think They Have a Clue to Bardeley's Transactions.

PHILADELPHIA, June 8.—The detectives in the employ of the city have at last secured what they think will prove a clue to the mystery surrounding the transactions between Bardeley and the Keystone Bank. After two weeks of diligent search they have secured a large number of checks from Mr. Magill, Bardeley's assignee. These checks were drawn against the five banks in which the city's money was deposited, and the authorities think that by carefully going over these checks they can tell where the missing million has gone.

Bardeley's business plans were very peculiar. His custom was to place the city's cash in the five banks designated by ordinance, and then gradually draw it out and make the checks payable to the Keystone Bank. Through the whole of his term Bardeley's transactions always seemed to be mixed up with the rotten institution. The point of the whole thing now hinges on these checks, and if they bear the name of any private person trouble may be expected. It is said that if any of the checks were issued or drawn by any other person than those connected with the banks, arrests will immediately follow. Bardeley had gathered all of these checks and secreted them in his private office.

Postmaster-General Wanamaker refused to say whether he is to appear before the Council's investigating committee and help to clear up the Keystone-Bardeley mystery. Bardeley and President Kennedy spent the day quietly in prison. Bardeley is improving rapidly in health, and will have a second hearing next Friday.

THE SECOND DELUGE.

Schweinfarth Threatens to Turn the Water Upon Kansas City.

ROCKFORD, Ill., June 8.—George Jacob Schweinfarth has returned to Rockford from Kansas City. He confessed to a feeling of relief at reaching Rockford, but insisted that he had no fear of the Missouri mob doing him bodily harm.

"Kansas City, he said, 'can ill afford to incur my anger. Located high upon the bluffs, it behoves the city authorities to greet strangers courteously. It is for what they hope to do that I will send the floods from Heaven to harass and overwhelm them. There shall be weeping and wailing in Kansas City because of the insults offered the perfect man.'"

MR. BLAINE IMPROVING.

The Investigating Air of Bar Harbor Produces Its Usual Effect.

BAR HARBOR, Me., June 8.—Since Mr. Blaine arrived here the weather has been very cool, the skies have been clear and the Secretary has driven out each day. He has already improved as far as appearances indicate, and it is believed the air of Bar Harbor will have its usual invigorating effect upon him.

Of course it is very quiet here early in the season, and that is one reason for his coming at this time. Bar Harbor air has done much for him in the past, and he believes it will help him this time.

Coke Workers to Be Reorganized.

PITTSBURGH, June 8.—Efforts will be made at once for the complete reorganization of the miners in the coke region by the United Mine Workers of America. Vice-President Evans of that organization said: "Our fight against the coke operators must be maintained as long as we cannot get our rights. The fight cannot be evaded. I believe it will not be long before there will be another strike in the regions. The settlement at present is one purely through force. The men have no obligations, moral or legal, to remain at work for three years. A settlement like the present one will never remain in force."

Bitten by a Pet Dog.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., June 8.—Miss Jennie Schroeder of Guildin street, a school teacher, while facing her shoe during the morning was seized at the wrist by a pet dog, which clung tenaciously. The young woman could not shake off the brute, and, finally, dragging the animal to the door, pressed her body against it and the door frame, causing the dog to let go his hold. The animal was killed at once and the lacerated flesh of Miss Schroeder's arm was cauterized.

Unconscious from Inhaling Gas.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Three women employed in the kitchen of the Manhattan Club were taken to Bellevue Hospital in a serious condition, they having been found in their rooms unconscious from the effects of inhaling illuminating gas. The gas was probably turned on by accident. Their names are Kate Fleming, aged 22; Ann Tracy, aged 20, and Annie Cassidy, aged 20.

Medical Experts Interested.

ASHURY PARK, N. J., June 8.—An autopsy on the remains of Lawyer Hartine, who died from what is supposed to have been typhoid fever caused by a cat's bite, will be held this afternoon. Medical experts from New York will have charge of the autopsy in the interest of science.

American Hams Confiscated.

ASTORIA, June 8.—Five hundred boxes of American hams have been confiscated in obedience to the new law which prohibits the importation of fresh meat, and the hams in question were considered by the authorities to come into that category.

Violent Rain and Wind Storm.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 8.—A violent rain and wind storm passed over this city last evening, doing considerable damage. Rufus Turner, a teamster, was killed by lightning, as were also dozens of cattle. It was the first rain for three months.

Rev. Philip Bernstein Dead.

HUFFALO, N. Y., June 8.—The Rev. Philip Bernstein died last evening of heart disease, aged 55 years. He has ministered to the congregations Bethel at San Francisco, Montreal and Winchester, Mass.

We are a patient people—the ox is nowhere in comparison. We buy lamp-chimneys by the dozen; they go on snapping and popping and flying in pieces; and we go on buying the very same chimneys year after year. Our dealer is willing to sell us a chimney a week for every lamp we burn—a hundred or more a year—and we plow for him, pay him for goading us. Macbeth's "pearl top" and "pearl glass" do not break from heat; they are made of tough glass. As likely as not our dealer would rather his chimneys would break; "it's good for the business," says he. He buys the brittlest ones he can get. "What are you going to do about it?"
