orado is a land of sharp contrant, of ant lights, of intense shadeway a land to heights and depths make obvious the mosel is nature. The high, white minarces of the mountains, from whose slander pinnacles float the wind-blown banners or the says, ap-peal with slant eloquence to the lotty sapira-tons or the soul; the souther classma cieft by Titan forces through granite-hearred tills within whose depths dark shadows throug-and swirling torrents dashspeak to the heart, a language that turlle, inspires and awe. It does not follow that these glories of white-peaks and those glooms of dark canons pre-cisies the pleasant intervals, the same meadows or the secluded nooks wherein the tired mind or wearied body may find peace-ful rest and refuge from turnool and toll. To one making a journey in Colorado, New Marce or Urah, or taxing a transcontinuita-tion from East to West, or effect error, the Den-ver and Bio Grande Railroad ofters secon-modulous equal in eligance, convenience and ver and Bio Grande Railroad offers secon-modations equal in elegance.conven once and luxury to those of any other line with the ad-ded attractions of the unravailed scenery along its line, abounding in a magnificent opilence of white peaks and dark canons. The month of November, 1890, witnessed one of the most important improvements in rail-road neglities that has yet been made in Col-orado and the West. The completion of the standard gauge of the Denver and RioGrande Railroad from Denver, Colorado, over the mountains to Ogden. Utah, which five years crade and the West. The completion of the standard gauge of the Denver and RioGrande Rairoud from Denver, Colerade, over the mountains to Ogden. Utah, which five years ago was deemed an impossibility, it certainly a triumph of daring and engineering skill. The new line is by the way of Leadville, tunneling Tennessee Pass, Breading the canons of the Eagle and Grand Bivers, giving a view of the Mount of the Holy Cross, enroute, taking its trains through Giettwood Springs and down the Grand River to Grand Junction, thence to Sait Lake City, Ogden and San Prancisco. By this route one is given an opportunity to behold the magnificence of Eagle River Canon and the marvelous beauty and grandeur of the Canop of the Grand. CACTUS BLOOD

Don't forget that this is the only purely veg-table and effective blood purifier known. Used for 300 years in Brazil, and two years tested in this country. It is solutely neutra-izes and removes all impurities of the blood, whether of seronious or specific origin, in-herited or acquired, and is the only reliable remedy. Centains no mineral, and has no failures and no relapses.
