PITTSBURG, June 12 .- The truly remark able cures of all allments that flesh is heir to, effected by the Rev. Father Mollinger, at the shrine of St. Anthony, on Troy Hill, Allogheny, is attracting attention throughout the country. Over 1,000 invalids from various parts of the country have arrived in this city since Mon-day, and they are coming in on every train. Several of the number, whose all-ments were apparently beyond all human power to relieve have already been re-sorted to health or greatly relieved.

To-day Father Mollinger was obliged to move from the sacristy of the little church to a more commodious school building adjoining. At one time over 2,000 patients were awaiting their turn to receive the venerable Father's blessings and whatever remedies be should Tomorrow is St. Anthony's Day, and preparations are in progress for the acmodation of the thousands who will be present on the day in which the priest's power to heat is said to be extraordinarily great, because Anthony is the Saint from whom he derives that power. Yesterday two blind boys, born blind, aged it and 10 years, led by their mother and sister, sons of Mr. Culbertson, a wealthy farmer near Halifax, N. S., arrived from the Norton Blind Asylum at Halifax. A large number of individuals, residents of Nashville, Tenn., accompanied by friends, have arrived and hastened to Troy Hill.

VOTED A NUISANCE.

A Board of Health in Trouble With Clerks

WILMINGTON, Del., June 12.—The Board of Health baving trouble with its deposed clerk, William H. Lee, voted him a nuisance at it meeting Tuesday night. Lee has held the office ten days since he was formally deposed. He locked up all the papers and books of the board, pocketed the keys and changed the combination

Chief of Police Swiggest, at the instance of the board, gave the obstinate ex-clerk to understand yesterday morning that further interference would not be tolerated, and Lee got out.

ated, and Lee got out.

He refused to give up the keys or combination and a mechanic came and drilled open the safe, while a locksmith opened the desks and substituted new locks. It was necessary to practically destroy the safe to get it open.

An examination disclosed the fact that Lee had extracted the most important books, and these cannot be found. Without them there will be a big break in the records of the office. It is probable that these will be sought after through legal process.

A MILLION TONS OF SNOW.

About two thousand feet from the Denver & Rio Grande depot there is a mass of snow in one lump which contains about one million tons of water. The mass represents a snowshile which came from the summit of Kendall mountain the night of Pebruary 23. The point where the snow broke from the pex of the mountain is probably two and a half miles from the raffrond track, and the slide made the run-according to witnesses who heard the crash at the start and the crunch when it stopped in less than two minutes.

Monday night was a terror. The servory had shrunk away down in the bulb, and everyone expected to see the climax of the storm. About 8 o'clock great banks of snow begun to securinlate and rile up in fantastic shapes on the mountain tops. Then came pulls of wind as strong as a gule, and ministure whirtwinds sourced here and there all over the park, toying with the loose boards and sending up columns of sport-ive snowdakes, says the Silverton (Col.)

Higher and thicker and darker the sloud buttlements piled over the Animas canyon, while those up the Animas, like eastles of light riding on billows of resplendent sliver, loomed in magnificent grandeur. Over and among those aerial mountains the moon peeped through fitfully and east in a flood of dazzling light.

By 9 c'clock the sterm was at its height. The wind toro through the folloge on the hillsides, and, battering at the buildings, horist detunce at mun-leind. Serpentine lines of glittering the gluomed from between the rents in the clouds, and loud detonations from the battlements on high proclaimed the march of the storm.

It was about midnight when, above the roar of the elements for above the clouds upon old Kondail, the lond "erac-k-k" was heard. Then a "crooch, crooch, cranch!" and then the whole mountainside seemed to be coming with a fearful and indescribable over Thousands of tons of snow were shot out of that wide space above timber line and piled into Idaho gulch, and brushing down everything before it.

Trees, rocks, banks of frozen earthall shared in a common tiste, and to see that monator coming, as it seemed, from the clouds, would have been a grand sight. There was no stop to the olossal mass when it struck the flat-Making its own road as it coursed its race, filling in all declivities, it continued on its mad race until it reached the river.

Instead of stopping there, it smeared a bridge for itself and continued over the railwoad track, carrying with it two telegraph poles, the Y and spread itself finally over the town site, within two hundred yards from the main street of Silverton.

Such a slide has never before been seen here, and to those who have never seen one and are skeptical of its tremendous energy, we invite their attention to this one before going elsewhere. Once before in the history of this town has the Idaho gulah slide come down, and that was in 1870, when it barely reached the river. The snow now !

one hundred and thirty feet deep. It is full of timber—trees from six inches to two feet in diameter broken into splinters, rocks weighing tons are scattered through it, while the entire body is as solid as ice itself. People go every day to view this giant of the mountains, and it will continue to be a source of interest until it melts beneath the rays of our July sun. Desperate Struggle to Save a Boy.

BIMINGHAM, CORD., June 11.—A boat in which were Captain Updike and a boy named Carter upset in the river here at noon. Updike seized Carter as he was going down for the last time, and as he did so Carter clutched the captain's ears and nearly pulled them off. Carter did not release his grasp until Updike succeeded in getting him ashore. Up-dike's ears were terribly lacerated.

The American Protestant Association. Burrato, N. Y., June 11.—The 41st annual session of the American Protestant Association is being held here. The association has a membership of about 100,-000, of which about 55,000 are in the State of Pennsylvania alone. About 125 delegates from lodges in 16 States are at the convention. The sessions of the convention are secret.

Fearful Reah of un Avalanche > #1 Its Causes and the Extent to Which It Mountain Feah to Guich.

Out of the thirty-two millions of subjects over whom her majesty now reigns as queen of Great Britain, taken in round numbers, about thirty-two thousand are said to be blind. This estimate, however, says the Edinburgh Review, must be understood to include a considerable number of those partial-ly deprived of sight, as, during the last forty years, the ratio of blind persons in every million has slowly but steadily fallen from ten hundred and twenty to eight hundred and nineteen, a decroase of one-fifth of one per cent. The smallness of this decrease, when so much has been done in other directions to lessen the rarages of disease, arises from two facts—dirst, that in a considerable number of cases blindness is the result of some untoward secident— stone-throwing, a splinter of broken glass, a sudden blow or fall, and sec-ondly, and in a still larger number of cases, is the result of neglect, lil-treatment or exposure to cold when the vic-tim was but a few days or weeks old. So large a percentage of blindress, in-deed, is due to this cause that the royal commissioners, while noting it, suggreat a special remedy, viz., the em-ployment of trained midwives among the poor, and the careful use of perchloride of mercury for washing the

The number of children actually blind from birth is comparatively small, but that of those who afterward become blind from accident or disease goes on tocreasing; and it is on these two latter points, therefore that legislation is demanded and can do good. In such trades as are found to be directly injurious to the sight, as iron ship building, granite work, grinding of cutlery, etc., where a chance spark or splinter is too often fatal, the use of some special covering for the use of some special covering for the eve might be made compulsory, while in the case of infantile disease prevent-ative measures are still more casily within reach.

Wire Finer Than Bull.

We are at work just now on some pretty small wire. It is 1-500th of an inch in diameter-finer than the hair on your head, a great deal, said a manafacturer to a Globe-Democrat reporter Ordinary fine wire is drawn through this work, because if the hole work away ever so little it would make the larger, and that would spoil the Instead, it is drawn through what is practically a hole in a diamond, to which of course there is no wear. These diamond pintes are made by a woman in New York, who has a monopoly of the art in this country. The wire is then run through machinery, which winds it spirally with a layer of silk thread that is .0015 of an inch in thickness-even finer than the wire, you see. This wire is used in making the receiving instruments of ocean cables, the and measuring insulation of covered wires.
