THE SUREST ROAD TO WEALTH IS THROUGH LIBERAL ADVERTISING!

COULDN'T AGREE.

Last evening a meeting of the committee of Democrats and Republicans, for the purpose of coming to some amicable arrangement on the re-division of the borough, came to naught, as the HERALD and all reasonable people anticipated. The first snag struck was the First ward. The Republicans were willing to recede from their position and agree that Bowers street should be the boundary line of that ward, instead of the Lehigh Valley railroad, but the Democratic committee, consisting of P. J. Ferguson, Squire Monaghan and M. P. Whittaker, the school teacher at Turkey Run, objected and insisted that White street be the line. Squire Monaghan stated that the object was to have the Democratic First ward divided so that it would form two Democratic wards. The Republicans were willing that such should be the case, but they objected to the Democrats encroaching upon the Second ward and throwing part of it into the First, thus making that ward Democratic and giving the Democrats three wards on that one division.

The members of the Democratic committee have heretofore been given credit for more common sense. It was not expected that they would adopt a plan based on the supposition that the Republicans were fools and were not capable of acting intelligently. As it is the Republicans have shown themselves as intelligent and active, if not more so, than the wisecracks on the other side, and if the latter wish to be fair and square let them act as men and not babies.

The use to which the Democrats put poor Paul Schultz's map of the borough is enough to cause the body to turn in the grave.

The suggestion that the Lehigh Valley railroad be made the boundary line of the First ward is stamped as outrageous by the Democrats, but they are remarkably silent on their attempt to steal a slice from the Republican Second ward.

The new editor of the News has been sharpening up his pencils all this week to tear up the HERALD in its to-morrow's issue. The Lehigh statesman furnishes the sinews of war. It wasn't a very long time ago, when the News had so little love for the gentleman they now wish to battle for. Perhaps a slight insinuation of "the people living in glass houses" might cool the ardor of the writer.

The generosity and courtesy of the Democrats is unequalled. They even offered to change the route of the Lehigh Valley Railroad for the accommodation of the viewers.

The thorn in the Democratic side is the discovery that the Republicans are not compelled to borrow points on the work of dividing a town into wards.

The Democratic platform on a fair and just division of the wards. Agree with us and we are with you.

We Got There.

As an indication of the system of instruction in the public schools of our town it may be stated that all the scholars from our High School passed examination before the state committee on Tuesday and seven scholars of the Bloomsburg State Normal School who were recommended by the faculty of that institution failed to pass.

Obituary.

James Fairley died at eleven o'clock this morning, at the residence of his sister, Mrs. George Gillfillan, on West Lloyd street. The deceased was 32 years of age and his death was caused by inflammatory rheumatism. He was a member of John W. Stokes Lodge, No. 515, I. O. O. F., and Washington Camp, No. 206, P. O. S. of A.

Johns Hopkins Will Lose Todd.

BALTIMORE, June 13.—Dr. Henry A. Todd, associate in the Romance languages at Johns Hopkins University, has accepted a professorship of Romance languages in the Leland Stanford University of California.

Senator Peffer in Carlisle.

CARLISLE, Pa., June 13.—Senator Peffer of Kansas is here on a visit to the home of his childhood. He has not been here before in many years. The Senator is accompanied by his wife and daughter.

Arbogus Acquitted.

READING, Pa., June 13.—John Arbogus, colored, was acquitted of the murder of John Brown, also colored. It was plainly shown during the trial that the killing had been done in self-defense.

Rudyard Kipling Dying.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 13.—It is stated in a letter to a friend at Beaver, Pa., that Rudyard Kipling, the novelist, is dying of consumption.

MIRACLE CURES!

EXCITING SCENES WITNESSED

AT MOUNT TROY TO-DAY.

OVER 3,000 PILGRIMS PRESENT.

They Moved About on Crutches and in Invalid Chairs—People in Rags and in Silk Surround the Church.

By National Press Association.

PITTSBURGH, June 13.—The blind, the lame, the halt and the deaf thronged Mount Troy in greater numbers to-day than yesterday.

A conservative estimate of the number of Pilgrims present in the hope of securing help for almost every sort of human ill from Father Mollinger places the figure at 3,000. They journey hither from all parts of the country. Hundreds came from New York State, particularly from the neighborhood of Binghamton, Elmira, Rochester and Buffalo. Hundreds came from the vicinity of Nashville. There are many from Connecticut, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

A wild, surging, tottering mob a cry of pain coming from a helpless mortal who could move neither hand nor foot; apparently strong men crushing the weak in their endeavor to reach the side of Father Mollinger, who they expect to cure them—such were the scenes around the Mecca of cripples on Mount Troy to-day—St. Anthony's day.

By 9 o'clock there were fully 8,000 people gathered in the church, in the yard surrounding the building and in the streets. There were people in rags and people in broadcloth and silk. They moved about on crutches and in invalid chairs. Some who had been rendered entirely helpless were carried around in the strong arms of a loving father, brother or cousin.

Cures Claimed.

A reporter spoke to some of the patients who say they have been cured. Among them was Miss Mary Loneragan of Elmira, N. Y. She said she had suffered from asthma 20 years. She visited Father Mollinger and at the end of five days was cured.

Mrs. P. J. Duffy of Olean, N. Y., said she had been completely cured of dropsy, but still has a strange heart trouble.

Mrs. Holzer of Wayland, N. Y., had a 27-year-old son who had been troubled with St. Vitus' dance for 18 years. He was much improved.

Bridget and Nora Reardon, two sisters, from Little Meadow, near Scranton, Pa., were cured of cancer and catarrh on her eye, respectively.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons, of Pittston, Luzerne County, came here with rheumatism that had afflicted her for 10 years. She had to be wheeled in a chair, yet before leaving for home she could walk without difficulty.

THE JOHNSON TRAGEDY.

A Belief that Fletcher Is in the Woods Near Fairhaven.

New BIRMOINGHAM, Mass., June 13.—There are several new developments in the Johnson murder case. At Priest's Cove an oak was found which looks as if it might have belonged to a large boat like the one in which the bloody tragedy occurred.

The theory is that Fletcher, who is missing, may have floated ashore on it. This theory is in a measure verified by the fact that several persons have reported to the police that they have seen a person who answers the description of Fletcher skulking in the woods near Fairhaven. Mrs. Fletcher, however, says she is sure her husband is dead.

Officers of the Yale Football Association.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 13.—The following officers were elected at a meeting of the Yale Football Association last night: President, W. B. Wright, '92; vice-president, Frank Barbour, '92; treasurer, A. Lambert, '93; secretary, J. Roby, '93. The gross receipts for the season were $19,483. A gift of $5,000 was made to the new gymnasium and $4,000 for a new building at the Yale field.

Will Fight the Synod.

PITTSBURGH, June 13.—The east end congregation of the Reformed Presbyterian Church last night decided to secede. The congregation reorganized, re-elected Mr. Milligan pastor at a salary of $1,500 and determined to fight the Synod to retain the thirty thousand dollar church which they now possess. They will probably go into the United Presbyterian Church in a body.

Convicted of a Revolting Crime.

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y., June 13.—The jury in the case of William Phelps, charged with incest, brought in a verdict of guilty. The defendant's counsel moved for a new trial on the ground that the code was violated by Judge Metcalf, in allowing the jury to have possession of some damaging papers. The details of the crime were of the most revolting character.

A Dishonest Treasurer.

GREENFIELD, Mass., June 13.—Mason Moody, who has been treasurer of Franklin County for 15 years, has confessed to having used $15,168 belonging to the county in his private business. His relations and friends have turned over to his bondsmen sufficient property to secure the county against loss.

LAKESIDE.

A Great Week at the Famous Resort.

The Citizens' Band of Tamaqua will have an excursion to Lakeside on Wednesday next. Tamaqua's fair daughters will turn out en masse, which is a guarantee that the crowd will be a large one.

Washington Camp, No. 206, P. O. S. of A., of town, will have an excursion to Lakeside on Thursday. Tickets, including round trip and admission to the Wild West show, are being sold at 70 cents, a price within the reach of all. That the excursion will be well patronized there can be no doubt.

Pawnee Bill's Wild West show arrived at Lakeside at an early hour this morning and the tents and tepees were pitched and arrangements made for the reception of the throngs next week. Pawnee Bill (Major G. W. Lillie), on hand directing the work and he showed himself a model for energy and executive ability.

The trotting park inclosure and grand stand will be completed by this evening. For the completion of the dancing pavilion a few more days work will be required. It is a large structure and when completed will be declared perfection.

The management has purchased a large and magnificent Chickering piano and will make it one of the attractions of the dancing pavilion.

The prospect for large gatherings at Lakeside every day next week are exceedingly bright.

A gentleman of means yesterday wanted to purchase the plot opposite the lakes for building purposes and offered a handsome figure for it, but the offer was refused.

There will be lively times at Lakeside from now on. The picnic season is now in full bloom and dates are being taken rapidly. In many instances there are three applications for one date.

The track will hardly be ready for race before July 4th. There will be no "let up" in the work and when the track is completed it will be a track.

The Wild West exhibitions will be given every afternoon next week, commencing at 4 o'clock. The Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company has announced its rates for tickets including admission to the show, as follows:

Pennsylvania, 85 cents; Tamaqua, 60; Barnesville, 35; Mahanoy City, 50; St. Nicholas, 50; Gilberton, 54; Mahanoy Plains, 65; Wm. Penn, 72; Shenandoah, 75; Girardville, 65; Ashland, 75.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

Interesting Services in the Evangelical Church To-morrow.

To-morrow will be Children's Day in the Evangelical church. The church will be handsomely decorated for the occasion. Services will be held all day and will be in English. The morning services will commence at 10 o'clock, beginning with a missionary address by Mr. C. W. Dangler. Mr. R. Stoeker will treat on "The Duration of the Teacher's Influence" and the pastor's subject will be "Traps."

2,000,000 MORE!

MORE DISCOVERIES IN BARDSEY-LEY'S STEALINGS.

THE SCHOOL FUND WAS TAKEN.

It Was Paid to Him by Pennsylvania's State Treasurer—Testimony Brought Out Against United State Officials.

By National Press Association.

PHILADELPHIA, June 13.—There was some very startling evidence produced before the Bardsey investigating committee during the day, and prominent United States officials' names were brought into the case in a manner entirely unexpected to the majority of the committee.

Assistant Bank Examiner Jones, who is very close to Bank Examiner Drew, and gave the committee information regarding Comptroller of Currency Lacey's knowledge of the affairs of the Keystone National Bank that has hitherto been kept carefully guarded. This was that on the 18th day of last February Comptroller Lacey was in this city and personally visited the Keystone Bank building and was shown the books and given a full insight into its condition as known at that time by Bank Examiner Drew.

Another Sensation.

Another sensation was the statement made by General Louis Wagner, the ex-Director of Public Works. This statement connected the name of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Nettleton with the attempt to make Nelson F. Evans, director of the Spring Garden National Bank, receiver of the broken Keystone Bank.

Assistant Examiner Jones when called to the stand explained at some length, in answer to questions, the methods of examining national banks, and told when and how the Keystone had been examined. The discrepancy in the ledger of the Keystone was first discovered by him on January 9, 1891, but not by any information furnished by Examiner Drew.

Comptroller Lacey Brought In.

After the committee had asked all the questions they wished, Assistant Bank Examiner Jones said: "There is another thing which I wish to state. Upon the 18th day of February Comptroller Lacey was in this city. There was a reception held at the Hotel Lafayette which he attended. After it was over Bank Examiner Drew brought Comptroller Lacey over to the Keystone Bank and I showed him the books and explained to him the condition of affairs as we then knew them to exist. I explained the padding of the New York Banking Exchange accounts, and informed him of the due bills which had been found. The difference found in the ledger and the stock accounts, for which the Lucas estate was held responsible at that time, was explained to him."

"Comptroller Lacey understood all about the Lucas defalcation, which at that time was understood to be $600,000. Then the assets were considered, and Comptroller Lacey called the Sea Girt and Spring Lake property worth $700,000 instead of $500,000."

This statement of Mr. Jones caused a great sensation, as Comptroller Lacey's visit to the bank had been kept a close secret, and Bank Examiner Drew has never under the severe cross-examination he has been subjected to, allowed himself to give the slightest intimation of it.

Mr. Jones also stated that as an expert he did not believe it was possible to tell by the books of the Keystone Bank how much of the deficit in the Keystone Bank occurred before John C. Lucas' death and how much had occurred since.

SPECULATOR YARD CAUGHT.

He Was Going Under an Assumed Name in Trenton.

TRENTON, N. J., June 13.—H. H. Yard, a speculator, who has been wanted in Philadelphia to explain the relations of City Treasurer Bardsley to the looted Keystone Bank of Philadelphia, was arrested here last night.

He is charged with conspiring to defraud the city of Philadelphia out of $300,000. District Attorney Graham and City Solicitor Warwick came here early to give testimony, but Yard waived a hearing and the bail was fixed at $10,000 pending the arrival of a requisition from the Governor of Pennsylvania. Yard has been released on bail. He formerly resided in this city and has many friends here.

Yard registered at a hotel here under the name of Herbert. This shows that he expected to be arrested and was endeavoring to avoid it.

GOV. PATTISON WINS.

The Supreme Court Decides in Favor of Wright for City Treasurer.

PHILADELPHIA, June 13.—The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has handed down a decision that W. Redwood Wright is the proper appointee to succeed Bardsley as City Treasurer. Richard G. Oellers is ousted from the office.

Oellers was elected by Councils and the County Commissioners, while Wright was Governor Pattison's appointee.

The point of the decision is that the office of Treasurer is held to be a county office and the right of appointment is vested in the Governor.

The justices were divided, four to three.

Bardsley Stole the School Fund.

PHILADELPHIA, June 13.—Another startling discovery of Bardsley's stealings as city treasurer has been made. The auditing committee appointed by the Mayor found that in addition to his mismanagement of over $1,500,000 of the State money he has got away with $445,428 of school-fund paid to him by the State treasurer for the year ending June 30, 1891. This is a loss to the city which, added to the lost money looked up in the two broken banks, will aggregate a total loss to the city of $1,000,000 and to the State of $1,300,000, in all $2,300,000 so far found.

Parkerson Will Be the Orator.
BLOOMINGTON, Ill., June 13.—The orator of the day upon the Fourth of July in this city will be William S. Parkerson, of New Orleans, who was the leader in the lynching of the Italians in New Orleans on March 14.

Fifty Persons Killed.

VIENNA, June 13.—In the Gallician storms 50 persons were killed.

THREATENED EXPLOSION.

A Curious Anonymous Communication Sent to a Citizen.

Mr. Harry Bickelman, of South Jardin street, has received an anonymous communication which he furnishes the HERALD for publication. Mr. Bickelman is anxious to ascertain who the author is, who is apparently ignorant of the fact that he is not the landlord of the house referred to. The following is the letter as closely as it can be followed by a compositor:

"Dear sir in behalf of James Keef children I am sending a warning in time so you can take in hand to help us understand who lives in your house and to protect your property we want a helping hand in going out at last for vengeance for their sake so all property owners on Jordan street, how to take a hand in this or it will be in a bad fix for we will root every house in Shenandoah for him we will tar feather the both of them so he has been told to stay away from this patch but she needs no warning we have sent her letter but she persists in coming but this is the last for when we come we come unawares the first one we meet we strike if we can't get him out we will blow him up this from the order of the old Molly Maguires and the secret order we cry out for vengeance beware of the old time Molly Maguires.
