THE SUREST ROAD TO WEALTH IS THROUGH LIBERAL ADVERTISING!

CONVENTION CALL.

To the Republican Electors of Pennsylvania:
After consultation and correspondence with the members of the Republican State Committee, and by their direction, I hereby give notice that the Republicans of Pennsylvania, by their duly chosen representatives, will meet in State Convention at Harrisburg, Wednesday, August 19, 1891, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the offices of State Treasurer and Auditor General, for the nomination of eighteen candidates for Delegates-at-Large to the Constitutional Convention provided for in the Act of Assembly approved June 19, 1891, and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented.

Notice is especially directed to the fact that, in accordance with the provisions of the last mentioned act, each Senatorial district is entitled to a representative of three delegates in said Constitutional Convention, two of whom only can be members of the majority party in said district. The electors of each district are, therefore, requested to make proper nominations for delegates to said convention, the rules governing the nomination of candidates for State Senator to be applicable.

In this connection the Chairman desires to call the attention of Republican voters to the recommendation of the State Convention of 1882, that "they allow the greatest freedom in the general participation in the primaries consistent with the preservation of the party organization."

WM. H. ANDREWS, Chairman.

TRIBUTE TO MCKINLEY.

Ex-Gov. Forsaker, in his speech at the Ohio Republican State Convention, paid the following tribute to the gallant Tariff leader, Hon. William McKinley:

"Not only is the Governorship of one great state of Ohio at stake, but this contest involves more than the Governorship, more than the General Assembly, more than the public institutions. It reaches out into national politics. A United States Senator will depend upon its result, and more important still than all this, it will determine whether this great state of Ohio is to go into the next great national contest of 1892 at the head of the Republican or at the head of the Democratic column. We shall win this fight, but we must not be content with simply winning it. We must win it triumphantly, decisively, overwhelmingly and to that end we must select for our standard bearer that man who, of all others, can most surely command our undivided strength.

"We must have as our leader a fit representative of our views with respect to every living issue, who in his record and his personality is the best type we have of the illustrious achievements and the moral grandeur of Republicanism. He must be more even than that; he must have a sure place in the confidence and in the affections of the Republicans of Ohio. Such a leader we have. It isn't my privilege to point him out. It is no man's privilege to point him out, that has been already done. By common consent all eyes have turned in one direction. One man there is who, measured by the exigencies of this occasion, stands a full head and shoulders above all his comrades, and that man is William McKinley.

"There are many reasons why he should be nominated. In the first place, everybody knows him. He does not need any introduction anywhere. Every Republican in Ohio not only knows him, but what is better, every Republican in Ohio loves him. That is not all. Every Democrat in Ohio knows him, and every Democrat in Ohio fears him. His name is a household word throughout the nation and throughout the whole world, where so ever civilization exists, it has become known. In the first place he is true and tried and is no experiment. He has been a long time in the public service. He began thirty years ago. He started in with Abraham Lincoln. He commenced on the 11th day of June, 1851, when he enlisted as a private in the Twenty-third Ohio Regiment. He began as a private, and by bravery in many bloody battles he came out as a major in his regiment when the last armed rebel had surrendered.

"He has been identified with every great measure of the Republican party in both field and forum. His tariff course has been one of patriotic conviction, and time will justify this conviction.

"No Republican candidate has ever suffered defeat through fault of William McKinley. [This thrust at certain Ohio Republicans who opposed Forsaker and wrought his defeat in the last gubernatorial election was received with the wildest enthusiasm.] There is not one single drop of cut-throat blood in his veins. He is morally incapable of the treachery and cowardice of political assassination. He don't know what a political razor is, and has only a contempt for the sneaking, hypocritical scoundrel who would use one."

A New Business.

P. J. Clary has opened a store in the Ferguson's building, on East Centre street, and is prepared to furnish the local trade with fine leather and shoe findings and all kinds of shoemaker's supplies. His stock is a large one and well equipped to fully supply all demands of the trade. 5-16-91

A MANIAC'S WORK

HE SHOOTS HIS CHILD AND TWO OTHER PEOPLE.

THEIR RECOVERY IS DOUBTFUL.

The Murderer Attempts to Escape, But is Closely Pursued — To Avoid Capture He Puts an End to His Miserable Life.

By National Press Association.

Boston, June 23.—Walter G. Shaw, a shoemaker, living at 31 Home street, Beverly, where his wife keeps a boarding house, has had trouble with her because she had not frowned upon an intimacy between their 14-year-old daughter Sarah Lizzie and one of the boarders.

Shaw finally left the house last week, his wife declaring she had trouble enough with him.

Last night, having filled up with liquor, he returned. Finding his wife and daughter in the sitting room with some of the boarders, he whipped out a .38-calibre revolver and began to fire.

Henry L. Roberts, one of the boarders, fell from his chair with a bullet in his back, and V. E. Morgan, another boarder, was hit by three bullets, one in the breast and one in the back, and a third grazed his skull. The daughter was shockingly wounded. Three bullets ploughed across her scalp, and another, entering her body just above the right hip, passed downward and emerged at the knee, being found in the stocking. The surgeon afterward removed it.

The maniac, for such he was by this time, leaped upon the prostrate body of his daughter and was beating her face with the clubbed pistol, when the crowd that had been attracted by the shooting broke into the house and dragged him off. The girl's recovery, like that of Morgan and Roberts, is doubtful.

Shaw attempted to escape, running from the house and leaping into the deep railroad cut near by. His pursuers were close upon him, and in order to escape them, he placed the pistol behind his right ear and put an end to his miserable life, dying just as the pursuing party came up. Mrs. Shaw ran from the room when the shooting began and thus escaped his wrath. The daughter is popular with schoolmates in the community.

BLOODHOUNDS FOR MARSH.

Great Efforts Being Made to Capture the Fugitive Bank President.

SPRING LAKE, N. J., June 23.—Several detectives arrived here last night with bloodhounds, which are to be used in the capture of the fugitive bank president, Gideon W. Marsh.

Marshal Leeds, District-Attorney Graham and the detectives had a consultation as to the best means to pursue to capture Marsh.

The hounds will be let loose if it is possible to track the fugitive in that way.

Prof. Garside as a Detective.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—The identity of the injured detective, "Max Freeman," has been disclosed. He is one of the brightest and ablest of Philadelphia newspaper men. His right name is Thomas Garside, and previous to his coming to this city and entering upon newspaper work he was known as Prof. Garside, and had a reputation extending over two continents as a labor agitator.

The Alleged Smuggler Held.

BOSTON, June 23.—U. S. Commissioner Hall heard the case of Conductor Brown, of Malden, Mass., charged with smuggling goods into the United States from Canada. Several witnesses were examined, who testified to receiving goods from Brown, which had been brought over the border, addressed to parties in the States. Among them was a package addressed to "C. H. Herbert, Lynn, Mass." On this testimony the Commissioner decided to hold Brown in the sum of $5,000 for trial on June 25.

Denial from Gov. Hill.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 23.—The statement which has been recently going the rounds of the press to the effect that Gov. Hill is interested in a projected railroad in Ohio with Eastern capitalists and Postmaster-General Wanamaker is untrue. Gov. Hill says he has not now and never had a dollar's interest in any railroad, nor is he connected with one in any capacity whatever.

Second Suit Against the Government.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—The trial of Meyer & Dickinson's second suit against the government for the recovery of duties on articles used as hat trimmings has been resumed in the United States Circuit Court. John M. Dickinson, of the complainant firm, was the principal witness during the day.

Treasury Statement.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The financial statement prepared in the office of the Secretary of the Treasury shows a net surplus of $4,569,879. The United States Treasurer's statement shows a net deficit of $568,164. The cash balance by the Treasurer's books is $42,952,617.

Nominated Judge Livingston.

LANCASTER, Pa., June 23.—The Livingston members of the Board of Return Judges of the Republican primary election met during the morning and declared Judge Livingston the nominee of the party for judge. They also issued an address to the party.

When one has the wool pulled over his eyes he naturally looks sheepish.

THEY MAY LYNCH HIM.

A Poss of Hingham Citizens in Pursuit of a Young Heave.

RINGHAMTON, N. Y., June 23.—As two girls named Lathrop, aged respectively 9 and 14, were returning from school at noon, they were assaulted by a boy and the younger one was terribly maltreated. A posse quickly started in pursuit. The fellow has been traced to a patch of woods, and if captured will very probably be lynched.

Suits for False Imprisonment.

ROSDOUT, N. Y., June 23.—Lincoln B. Haskins, principal of the South Rosdout public school, who was arrested last Tuesday and taken to Cortland to answer to hasty proceedings brought by the superintendent of the poor of that county, has just instituted three actions for false imprisonment against Chief of Police Hood and Jailer Smith of this city, and Deputy Sheriff Miller of Cortland, who made the arrest, claiming $3,000 damages.

For the Chronic Insane.

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 23.—Gov. Pattison has approved the bill appropriating $300,000 for the purchase of a site and the erection of a State asylum for the chronic insane, and appointed Wharton Barker, Philadelphia; John B. Storm, Monroe; Dr. John Curwen, Warren; John M. Reynolds, Bedford; and Henry M. Dechert, Philadelphia, to select a site and construct the asylum.

To Build Hotels in the Adirondacks.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 23.—The Lake Placid Hotel Company, with a capital of $50,000, has been incorporated for the express purpose of building hotels in Essex and Franklin counties in the Adirondacks. The stockholders are Gardner S. Blodgett and George Holden of Burlington, Vt.; Charles Martin of Plattsburg, Appolas Smith and Phelps Smith of Brighton, N. Y.

Decided to Suspend Payment.

BOSTON, June 23.—A circular dated Wheeling, W. Va., has been issued by the National Redemption Bond Association, chartered under the laws of New Hampshire, to the effect that, owing to the small number of bonds which it will be possible to mature the company has decided to suspend payment until July and, if possible, to effect a settlement with the bondholders.

Rev. J. Wesley Hill Indicted.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—Rev. J. Wesley Hill, of Ogden, Utah, has been indicted by the Grand Jury in this city for criminal libel. The offense charged is writing and publishing defamatory letters charging criminal conduct upon Rev. Sam Small in connection with the funds of Utah University.

Graduating Exercises at Yale.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 23.—The graduating exercises of the scientific departments of Yale University were held in Sheffield last night, when the prize awards were made. The class day exercises of the seniors of the Yale academic department closed with a brilliant promenade in Alumni Hall.

Professor Mowbray Dead.

NORTH ADAMS, Mass., June 23.—Prof. George M. Mowbray, widely known as the inventor of nitro-glycerine, died here after a protracted illness, aged 66 years. He was an able chemist and was for several years employed in that capacity at the dynamite works here.

Gen. Schofield and Bride in 'Frisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—Maj.-Gen. and Mrs. John M. Schofield arrived in this city at noon. They will make a short stay here before proceeding to Monterey, Cal., where they will make a more extended stay.

Nine Years for Using His Pistol.

NEW YORK, June 23.—William Manser, who was tried and convicted of assaulting the Rev. Clark Wright with a pistol on June 6, was sentenced to nine years imprisonment.

Count Levenhaupt's Body Disinterred.

WILMINGTON, Del., June 23.—The body of Count Reinhold Abraham Levenhaupt, son-in-law of ex-Secretary Bayard, was disinterred and sent to New York to-day, whence it will be shipped to Stockholm.

The Dory Races Return.

BOSTON, June 23.—Lawler and Andrews, who started Sunday six dory races across the ocean, have returned to Crescent Beach on account of the heavy weather.

Senator Cullom for the Presidency.

CHICAGO, June 23.—Senator Cullom of Illinois says he is a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination in 1892. He says the tariff will be the predominant issue.

Drowned in the Connecticut River.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., June 23.—J. H. Morry of Ogdensburg, N. Y., aged 23, a clerk in Lamb & Co.'s dry goods store here, was drowned in the Connecticut River by the upsetting of his canoe.

GENERAL NEWS!

NEWS OF THE TOWN AND VICINITY.

JOHN JUDGE IS JUGGED AGAIN.

He is Beaten in a Fight and then Goes to Jail—The Stone Crusher Arrives—Personal Notes and Other Items.

John Judge, the Lost Creek tough who was shot on West Coal street, in this town, several months ago, and who was confined in the Minors' Hospital at Fountain Springs for many weeks in consequence of the wounds, was to-day taken to jail by Joseph Peter, the constable of West Mahanoy township.

Judge is a powerfully built, over-bearing young fellow and, like the western desperado, "would sooner fight than eat." Last night he got drunk and tried to pick a quarrel with a neighbor named Philip Dane, a small man who would be no match for him.

Peter Larkin, a brother of Joseph Larkin, who shot Judge on West Coal street, interloped and gave expression to the opinion that it would not be right for Judge to beat a man so much smaller than himself as Dane was.

Judge then offered to whip Larkin and started to do so, but he miscalculated his man and was soon on the ground with a three-inch scalp cut, inflicted by a porter bottle in Larkin's hands, a black eye and a gashed hand.

At a hearing before a Squire Larkin set up a claim of self-defense and was discharged, while Judge was sent to jail.

PERSONAL.

Harry Bishop returned home from Seattle on Saturday.

Henry Weikel, of Shamokin, spent last evening in town, the guest of friends.

The relatives of Miss Jeanette Bevan in town yesterday received information of her arrival in Wales.

Col. J. K. F. Schellfy and wife and John A. Reilly and wife went to Atlantic City this morning to spend the week.

Miss Ida M. Bell, of Waynesborough, Franklin county, is the guest of Mrs. and the Misses Shaffer, of North Main street.

Prof. Zeitz, the leader of the Grant Cornet Band, who is "music from head to foot," has a viola that was made in 1677.

George Bill, of Delano, the genial traveling train dispatcher of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, was a visitor to town last evening.

John Grant and Benjamin Severn were among those initiated into the mysteries of Lodge No. 207, Protective Order of Elks, at Pottsville last night.

Mrs. Jacob Kester, of North West street, left town this morning for Spring Brook, Lackawanna county, to spend a few weeks visiting her parents.

W. A. Kesgey, the West Coal street photographer, yesterday photographed the beautiful Children's Day decorations in the Methodist Episcopal church.

H. C. Boyer, editor of the HERALD, his wife and daughter, Mame, and Misses Mame Wasley and Hannah Reese left this morning to join the editorial excursion which leaves Philadelphia for Atlantic City at noon to-day.

THE NEW YORK LIFE.

Its Stand on the Charges and Criticism.

The New York Life Insurance Company has issued the following preamble and resolutions, adopted by its Board of Trustees on June 19th:

WHEREAS, In view thereof the Finance Committee, with the concurrence and approval of the officers of the company, has advised the superintendent of insurance to make a thorough examination of this company; now, it is hereby

Resolved, That the action of the Finance Committee in requesting the insurance department to make an examination of this company is approved and ratified.

Resolved Further, That this board has unflinchingly confidence in the officers of this company and believes that the charges made against the management of the affairs of this company are wholly unjustified.

Resolved Further, That this board believes that an examination into the affairs of this company will only serve to place it on a firmer basis in the respect and confidence of the community, and we therefore welcome the fullest and most searching investigation by the proper authorities.

Resolved Further, That the officers of this company be authorized and requested to furnish copies of the above preamble and resolutions to the public press.

Koch Sues the "Chronicle."

District Attorney Koch yesterday entered suit for libel against the Standard Publishing Company and George F. Helms, its editor. The suit is based upon an editorial published in the Chronicle on June 24th, 1890. Mr. Koch says the editorial was intended to mean that he manufactured cases to be brought before the criminal courts of the county and thereby defrauded the county and other persons.

THREE BOYS DROWNED.

They Were Thrown Into the Water While Playing on a Raft.

WASHINGTON, Pa., June 23.—John McKeown, aged 10; Harry Shoullis, aged 10, and Walter Jones, aged 14, were drowned in the Doaks Park pond here last evening.

Harry and John Shoullis and John McKeown were playing on a raft in the pond when the rope which held the raft to the shore broke. Walter Jones, who was bathing near-by, attempted to get the raft back to shore. The raft overturned and the four boys were thrown into the water.

Jones swam ashore with the younger Shoullis and returned for the other boys. He was swimming to shore with one of them, when the other dragged him under the water and all three were drowned.

John McKeown was a son of the late millionaire oil king McKeown and the Shoullis boys were his grandsons. Jones was a son of Presiding Elder Jones of the M. E. Church. The bodies were recovered.

DENONCED MASONRY.

A Row Over the Subject at a Meeting of Boston Baptist Ministers.

BOSTON, June 23.—At the weekly meeting of the Baptist ministers held in Chapel Hall, during the morning, Rev. J. Stoddard addressed the conference upon the influence of secret societies upon the Church. In the course of his remarks he strongly denounced Masonry and declared that when a man swears allegiance he swears allegiance to a cold antagonist to God.

Rev. Mr. Cleveland of Melrose arose to a point of order at the conclusion of the address, and, saying he was a Mason, declared that he could not listen to the uncalculated abuse.

The chairman put the question to the meeting on sustaining the point of order and it was defeated, 50 to 7. Mr. Cleveland then arose, and requesting that his name be dropped from the roll of membership, left the hall.

The Editors' Outing.

This morning the Schuylkill county editors and their wives and representatives left to take part in the outing of the State Editorial Association at Atlantic City, which begins to-day and will continue until next Saturday. The editors will be received by the Atlantic City Journalists' Club, in conjunction with the citizens of the place. Major Hoffman will extend them a welcome to the city at the hotel at which they will stop. On Wednesday they will be taken to the delightful resting place where plenty of fishing and still water boating can be had, at the southern extremity of Absecon Beach. After they have heard Col. A. K. McClure in the afternoon there will be for the evening a symposium at the rooms of the Journalists' Club, with instrumental, vocal and other entertaining talent from Philadelphia, and the following morning there will be an excursion by steamer along the coast in full view of the front of the city.

The Bakery a Success.

Harry Preston, who some weeks ago leased the plant of the Shenandoah Bakery Company, has been successful in holding on to all the old business and gaining a large number of new customers. In the wholesale bakery business Harry stands second to none, inside or outside the establishment, and the success with which he is meeting it but a just reward for his merit, ability and enterprise.
